Aldermen Vote Lower Water Rates --- Defeat Plea for Small Users

Alderman Temperley Argues New Rate Should Be Applied To All—Director Ellis Called to Give Information

A special meeting of the Board of Aldermen last Friday night produced a lengthy discussion on the matter of lowering water rates in Newton. At the first meeting in December it was intended to pass an order giving a 10% reduction in rates to the majority of users. But, because of the probability that such action might be construed as a political measure, it was deferred, and came up at the meeting on Monday night. The reduction as proposed by Director of Public Works Ellis and recommended by the Claims & Rules and Finance Committee was from 20c per hundred cubic feet to all users of less than 1000 cubic feet per day to 18c. The cost of water to property owners using over 1000 cubic feet per day remains at 12c per 100 cubic feet.

When the matter came up on Monday night Alderman Temperley stated that the reduction should be horizontal so that persons using less than the minimum amount of water will also benefit. He asked why this matter had not come before the Public Works Committee. He said the gentlemen who are wearing Red, White and Blue buttons are urging economy, so people who economize on water

Three Youths Are Killed In Tragic Accident

Crash Into Tree In West Newton

Three youths were killed and a girl was severely injured when an automobile driven by John M. Neffinger, 19, of 18 Withington rd., Newtonville, hit a tree on Berkeley st. near Temple st., West Newton at 11:55 Tuesday night. The dead are—Paul T. Neffinger, 20, of 18 Withington rd., Newtonville; Norman A. Pluksne, 21, of 52 Harding st., West Newton; James Ward, 18, of 106 Parmenter rd., Waltham. The injured are—Miss Audrey Zann, 18, of 13 Churchill st., Newtonville, fractured pelvis, head and face injuries; Arthur Bergonzoni, 19, 116 Harding st., West Newton cuts and bruises. Marie Lane, 17, of 259 Pearl st., Newton and Phyllis LaValle, 17, of 158 Linwood ave., Newtonville escaped injuries as did young Neffinger who was driving.

According to statements made to the Newton police by Neffinger the car containing the eight young persons was being driven at a speed of over 40 miles an hour around the curve on Berkeley st. when it grazed a tree at the side of the street. Going out of control the big sedan hit a second tree, slewed around sideways, turned completely over, landed on its wheels again, and came to a stop in the middle of the street. Paul Neffinger was catapulted out of the car onto the street and died of multiple injuries at the Newton Hospital about a half hour later. Pluksne and Ward were thrown out of the car and both received fractured skulls. The former died at the Newton Hospital at 10 a. m. Wednesday, and Ward died at the hospital at 10:45 that morning. The Zann girl was hurled over a stone wall.

Paul Neffinger graduated from St. Charles High School, Waltham in 1933 and was a student at the Northeastern School of Business Administration. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Neffinger; three brothers, John, Norbert and Gail Neffinger; and a sister, Phyllis Neffinger. His funeral service will be held tomorrow morning at Our Lady's Church, Newton. Norman Pluksne was born in Jamaica Plain and graduated from Newton High School last June. He had been employed as a gasoline station attendant since then. He is survived by his parents, Michael Olga (Johnsburg) Pluksne; and a sister, Alice Pluksne. His funeral service will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 at the Westworth Funeral Home, 4 Cutter st., Waltham. James Ward was a graduate of St. Charles School, Waltham and had been employed in a Newton Centre garage. He is survived by his father, George Ward; and two brothers, Paul and Francis Ward.

Noted Speaker To Speak On Youth at Forum

Margaret Slattery To Be Introduced by Mayor

The noted Margaret Slattery, lecturer and author, and widely quoted authority on educational methods, will be heard next Sunday afternoon, January 5, at the third session of the Newton Community Forum, on the subject of "Inheritance Taxes on Modern Youth."

Formerly a member of the State Board of Education, and later a delegate to important international conferences, Miss Slattery has made a world-wide study of social and economic conditions affecting youth, and it is expected that her address will be of unusual interest in view of the peculiarly difficult problems facing our younger generation today.

Miss Slattery will be introduced by Edwin O. Childs, newly installed mayor of Newton. Kirtley F. Mather will preside and conduct the question period after the speaker's address. Music will be provided by the High School Glee Club, conducted by Charles B. Harrington, with John Hageman at the organ.

For the purpose of lengthening the question period, the Forum announces that the program will begin as soon after 3:15 p. m. as possible. Admission is free to the general public.

Fine Woman $20 For Poor Driving

Mrs. Esther White of 63 Madison ave., Medford, was fined $20 in the Newton court last Friday for driving a car so as to endanger the lives and safety of the public. A car driven by the woman on Nov. 30 at Walnut st., Newtonville, hit a car driven by Dr. George K. Coonse of 370 Commonwealth ave., Boston, and he made a complaint against her. Two women who were riding with Mrs. White were injured in the collision. The White woman was also charged with driving without a license and this charge was placed on file. She was supposed to have appeared in court last Monday, but did not, and a default warrant was issued against her.

Mayor Edwin O. Childs Inaugurated--Many At New Year's Exercises

Inaugural Address Contains Many Recommendations—Floyd Elected President of Aldermen and Hill Vice-President

The inaugural exercises at City Hall on Wednesday afternoon were attended by a crowd of over 500 persons. The aldermanic chamber was filled to capacity, and loud speakers enabled 100 persons seated in the War Memorial Hall and 50 seated in a large conference room to hear the Mayor's address. Mayor Childs made a number of pertinent recommendations in his inaugural speech. He asserted that it will be necessary to increase the Mayor then delivered his inaugural address which is printed in full on Page 3 of this issue.

Upon the completion of his address, Mayor Childs called upon the Board of Aldermen to elect a president. Alderman Charles B. Floyd of Ward 4 was unanimously chosen. He was escorted to the rostrum by Alderman Rawson and upon reaching it was embraced by Mayor Childs who proclaimed that Mr. Floyd and he are still friends. This assertion on the Mayor's part was probably prompted by the fact that Alderman Floyd was the chief critic of the Mayor in the recent campaign. Mr. Floyd reciprocated the Mayor's display of friendship by stating that he would second Mayor Childs' sentiments. Unfortunately the scene of amity had to be quickly terminated in accordance with the program of the inaugural exercises by President Floyd announcing that the committee which had escorted Mayor Childs into the chamber would then escort him from the hall.

Following the departure of the Mayor and his guests, the 1936 Board opened its first meeting. Alderman Donald M. Hill of Ward 2 was unanimously elected Vice President of the Board. Francis M. Newhall was re-elected City Treasurer and Collector. A recess was taken at 3:50 to permit the Finance Committee to consider two recommendations for appropriations in connection with WPA projects. Upon the meeting being resumed the following appropriations were made: $3000 for materials in connection with WPA projects on public buildings, $10,000 for materials for WPA playground projects, $2000 for the executive department for administrative purposes.

Fernald Heads School Committee

George H. Fernald, Jr. of Winthrop st., West Newton, member of the School Committee from Ward 3 for the past 4 years, was elected as chairman of the committee at a meeting held on Wednesday afternoon. George Kellar of Auburndale was reelected secretary.

Miss Lindley Secy. To Mayor Childs

Miss Phyllis Lindley of 153 Webster st., West Newton, is again secretary to Mayor Childs. She served in this capacity for several years prior to the Mayor's retirement from office in 1929.

MAYOR CHILDS' INAUGURAL ADDRESS

On New Year's Day the inaugural exercises of Mayor Edwin O. Childs and other city officials took place before one of the largest, if not the largest, number of citizens in the city's history, to again prove the popularity of Newton's chief executive. The inaugural address of the Mayor contains a number of recommendations which will meet with general approval as well as particular approval from various sections of the city. It was conceded by all the mayoralty candidates before election that a rise in the tax rate in 1936 was inevitable. If the increase can be held to the amount predicted, and if the public moneys are wisely expended, as we believe they will be, there are thousands of Newton taxpayers who will find no fault. The inference that the morale of the police department has been affected by political influence and liquor will be genuinely regretted. Neither should have nor can have any place in the functioning of a protective force. We have on several occasions expressed the need for more men in the police department in order to provide for adequate handling of traffic. A larger police force, we realize, will cost more money, but if benefit results the necessary sums will be spent for something worth while. The same is true of the situation as it affects the resurfacing of some of the streets in the city. Some months ago we advocated the adoption of some plan which should spread the necessary work over a period of years. The adoption of the two-platoon system in the fire department means, however, an expenditure of a considerable sum that should not be favored too hastily. This particular recommendation will require long and arduous study upon the part of the aldermen.

Mayor Childs recommends a change to cash payments in the welfare department instead of the present commissary system. A real difference may well result on this administrative question, as there is much that can be said on both sides. There is considerable merit in the suggestion of the Mayor that volunteer investigators would give accurate and impartial reports upon the manner in which welfare money is spent. The issuance of water bills upon a semi-annual basis instead of a quarterly basis at present is largely an administrative problem. The doubling up of the work of sending out the bills, receiving collections and entering credits is one which concerns the clerical force rather than the water users, although many persons prefer to pay small bills four times a year than two larger bills twice a year. Salary increase in the library department also is an administrative affair. Few will object to bringing such salaries more in keeping with salaries of other departments or in keeping with the nature of the work.

We have also commented frequently upon the need for the elimination of wooden school buildings. We would go a few steps farther than the recommendation of Mayor Childs in urging the continuance of the present program and favor the expansion of the program to include other wooden school buildings which are ignored for the time being. We have likewise advocated the establishment of public parking places at Newton Corner and Newtonville. There are few projects which would supply the necessary incentive to impel Newton residents to shop locally more than adequate handling of traffic and adequate parking facilities. Newton Corner is vitally in need of such a project, and one only needs to try to drive an automobile along Walnut street on a Saturday afternoon to observe the desirability of a parking place in this locality. The elimination of wooden school buildings and the establishment of parking places and comfort stations are matters which are dependent upon the availability of funds. We trust that such improvements will not be delayed any longer than is necessary.

In toto the recommendations of the Mayor will entail a considerable expenditure of money but in almost every instance projects of merit are suggested. Newton has always demanded improvements as the city has grown. Continued growth will require additional projects.

THE "FORGOTTEN" WATCHWORDS

Governor Curley's address to the 1936 session of the Legislature will provide much discussion. Speaker Saltonstall hits the nail squarely on the head in stating that the message "shouts extravagance and whispers economy." With the principle of balancing the state's budget entirely by revenue and thereby eliminating the assessment made upon the cities and towns and known as the "state tax" there will be ready agreement upon the part of the real estate taxpayer. The imposition of new taxes upon cigarettes, tobacco products, slot machines and alcohol as well as the continuance of a cent of the gasoline tax, and the surtax upon incomes and the increase in dog racing taxes and truck registrations, will bring loud protests. The need for new buildings is evident but further increase in the cost of government must be carefully weighed. Retrenchment and economy are apparently the "forgotten watchwords" of our government of today.

A TRAGIC START

The first automobile accident of the year in this state took place in West Newton as the clock was striking twelve to usher in the New Year. It was the worst and one of the most tragic ever to occur in this city. A car containing a group of young people crashed into a tree in a residential section of the city where such a serious accident would seem most unlikely to occur, and resulted in the death of three. Our sympathy and that of the people of Newton, goes out to the families of those who figured in the tragedy. We can only hope that it will serve to make others in the future more mindful of the extreme necessity for cautious driving.

On Monday evening the Newton Hi-Y Club entertained their Alumni members at a dinner at the Newton Y. M. C. A. Following the dinner, which was served by the girls of the Newton Tri-Hi Club, the past Presidents each made a short address. The past officers are: 1935-36, Gilbert Myers, Mt. Hermon—1934-35, John Whilden, Dartmouth—1933-34, Douglas Sloane, Harvard. Others who gave greetings were Dick Francis, Dartmouth; James Stewart, Amherst; Warren Witten, Newton High School; and Gale Wisbach of Brown. President William Daniels welcomed the old-timers back, and closing remarks were given by Clyde G. Hess, adviser of the Club. Those attending the Reunion were: Alan Smith, George Whitehead, Charles Mergen, John J. McEwan, Johnson M. Qert, Allen J. MacQuarrie, Jr., Robert Miner, Gerald Sullivan, Ernest R. MacLeod, Hugh Munro, Carl C. Davis Jr., A. Minot Chandler, James B. On Thursday afternoon, December 26th, at 5 o'clock the department heads and clerks at City Hall assembled in the aldermanic chamber and gave a farewell testimonial to Mayor Weeks. In behalf of those assembled City Solicitor Bartlett presented the Mayor with a desk set. A brief case was presented to James Dempsey, secretary to the Mayor for the past six years. The presentation was made by Ernst Hermann, Supt. of Playgrounds and accepted by Mayor Weeks in Mr. Dempsey's behalf as the latter was at home ill with a cold. Mr. Dempsey will continue in Mr. Weeks' employ as his private secretary.

The Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross helped as usual to bring cheer to service men. That they might be received Christmas Day in foreign lands 108 bags, all alike and filled with comfort for the men—sewing kits, playing cards, pocket knives, tooth brushes and paste, writing paper, and pencils—were sent to headquarters last August. Articles were wrapped separately in red tissue and fastened by seals by the Girl Scouts at Camp Mary Day. Each bag contained also a greeting card and postal addressed back to the Newton Chapter. Soon these cards will return to the office with most appreciative messages from the marines who receive them. In addition to the Christmas Bags 35 books and over 200 Geographic and similar magazines were sent to the Charles-ton Navy Yard, to be dispatched by them to Veterans' Hospitals.

As the Newton Chapter's quota of 6000 members for this year has not yet been reached memberships are still being solicited. Send to the Office 12 Austin st., Newtonville.

The Chancel Choir of Central Congregational Church of Newtonville, because of its many fine musical contributions during 1935 under the leadership of Mr. Joseph R. Ludvigson, Director of Music and Religious Education and Mr. Fred Alexander, president of the choir has won recognition as one of the outstanding musical organizations of Newton.

Many singers of exceptional talent were attracted to the choir during the past year because of the unusual opportunity afforded for further training.

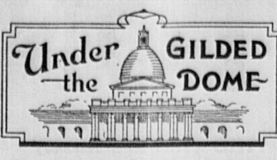

An expansion of the musical program for the coming year is contemplated. One of the innovations under consideration is to organize a Male Chorus.

The development of this feature is dependent on the expression of favorable comment by all who are interested.

The committee on social activities of which Mr. Alexander is chairman promises a program which they feel will be of great interest to the members of the choir during the coming year.

The Chancel Choir will resume rehearsals on Wednesday evening, Jan. 8th.

Dr. Kirtley F. Mather, Professor of Geology at Harvard University, has purchased the lot of land at the corner of Homer and Morton sts., Newton Centre, from the H. A. Johnson Realty Trust, and is having a New England Colonial brick house of nine rooms and three baths from plans by W. J. Freethy, architect, built on this lot by Harry A. Johnson, building contractor. Construction on Professor Mather's new house has already started, and the house will be ready for occupancy on or before May 1, 1936. Howe Associates, Realtors, of Newton Centre, were the brokers in this sale.

The Great and General Court of Massachusetts convened at eleven o'clock on Wednesday for the second session of the 149th legislature. Speaker Saltonstall called the House of Representatives to order and President Moran the Senate. The organization of the two branches was without incident despite the fact that rumors had been existing of an attempt to unseat both presiding officers. With the exception of a few changes in committee assignments the legislature is unchanged from that of last year.

A joint convention of the two branches was called in order to listen to Governor Curley's official message. The Governor and the House were escorted into the House chamber by his staff and shortly after twelve o'clock he began his address. Reading of the message occupied a full hour and a half and at its conclusion the joint convention was dissolved. Neither branch of the legislature will meet to conduct business until next Monday. The Governor's various recommendations will be referred to their proper committees and will be more widely discussed as the session progresses.

The introduction of various petitions will continue until January eleventh after which time further petitions will be admitted only through special procedure. At the present time fewer bills have been filed than at a similar time last year. Late Wednesday afternoon but 333 bills had been filed with the clerks of the lower branch as against approximately one hundred more than that figure a year ago. The bulk of the petitions, however, will be filed next week but it is anticipated that they will total considerably fewer than the more than 2500 of 1935.

Representative Brimblecom of Newton this week introduced a bill at the request of Mrs. Julia W. Keene of Newton and more than fifty other petitioners for the abolishment of capital punishment. The bill in question would substitute life imprisonment for the present mandatory death sentence.

Newton Republican, Jan. 6, 1877

Mayor Speare's inaugural address was distinguished by several features wanting on those of other Mayors in Massachusetts, brevity, clearness and an evident appreciation on the part of the writer of the condition and needs of the city in all departments. For every recommendation he gives a reason and economy is the keynote; not niggardly saving as would lessen efficiency in any direction, but the economy exercised by judicious men in their business affairs. Mayor Speare does not believe in cheap service because it is cheap, or that extravagant salaries necessarily result in the best service.

John Ryan of West Newton, son of Edward Ryan has returned home. He was in the U. S. Cavalry under General Custer and been feared killed in the Custer massacre.

The snow storm of Monday night delayed the trains Tuesday morning and business men were obliged to seek other means of transit to Boston.

About 12:45 Friday noon fire was discovered in the furnace room of the Newton Free Library by Janitor Demond. He at once shouted an alarm from the door of the building which had the effect of bringing Engineer Park and several other citizens. They attacked the flames with buckets of water and despite the dense smoke apparently succeeded in extinguishing the flames shortly after the arrival of a portion of the fire department. The firemen retired from the scene and the danger was believed to be past when Miss Hannah James, the librarian, rushed down from the library room and had broken out upstairs. A second alarm was sounded and the fire department was soon on the ground. The firemen worked with a will and in about a half hour the fire was nearly out. The entire damage is estimated at about $2500, half of which is from water. The damage to the books is trivial, some being wet and soiled while being removed from the building.

Mayor Speare in his inaugural address stated that our permanent police force can be reduced without detriment to the interests of our citizens. It consists of a city marshal, two day and ten night patrolmen, a reduction of three from last year.

The sanitary condition of the Underwood School is not what it should be. The officials whose duty it is to look after this matter should not neglect it. It is all important that every precaution should be taken to protect the health of the children.

One of the finest receptions ever given in the city took place on Tuesday evening at the residence of Mrs. W. H. Blodgett on Fairmont avenue, Newton. Several hundred invitations had been issued and the affair had been a prominent topic in fashionable circles for several weeks. Mayor Kimball, City Treasurer Kenrick, Dr. Stone and other city officials were present as well as many guests from Boston and other places. Soon after 8 o'clock the carriages began to arrive and from that time until 10 there was a steady stream. To avoid confusion each driver received a card corresponding to one given to each guest; a system which worked admirably. Elaborate preparations had been made for the comfort of the guests and the magnificence of the mansion was the subject of general remark. Dancing commenced soon after 10 and continued until 12 to the music of a 9 piece orchestra. Viands of the most delicate and tempting description were provided for the inner man in bountiful profusion and the hospitable hostess left nothing undone that would contribute to the happiness of her guests.

Rev. Edward Brailsin had a narrow escape from a severe accident on Saturday evening about 7:30. He was returning from Oak Hill where he had dined with Hon. Levi C. Wade of Newton Centre. As Mr. Wade's carriage turned from the driveway onto Dedham st. the horse bolted, the carriage was overturned and Mr. Brailsin was thrown partially through the window. The coachman clung to the reins although badly cut on the head and one leg broken, and brought the horse to a stop. Mr. Brailsin was able to extricate himself and placed the coachman on the robes which he laid on the ground.

Mayor Charles E. Hatfield has announced that he will be a candidate again next fall for the Republican nomination for Mayor. His intentions on this matter have been known for several weeks by his most intimate friends but the news will be a complete surprise to the public which had settled down to the idea that after a two year term a Mayor should not seek re-election. Mayor Hatfield, however, believes the city can receive better service from an experienced official and as he has several plans for improvements which cannot be completed during the coming year he has decided to be a candidate for re-election.

Congressman John W. Weeks made a brief trip home last week returning to Washington on Saturday. On Friday night he was given a dinner at the Algonquin Club, Boston, by the "Faithful Ten", members of his campaign committee at his first election.

Powers' Paragraphs

A petition which will be presented to the 1936 Board of Aldermen, similar to one recently presented to the 1935 Board, asks that a large area of land fronting on Boylston st. (the Worcester turnpike), Chestnut Hill, be changed from single residence zone to business zone. This land extends for 500 or 600 yards along the turnpike, including the property owned by some of the petitioners between the Brookline-Newton line and Hammond st. It includes land which only a few years ago was changed from business zone to single residence zone at the behest of the persons who now want not only the same land changed back from a residence zone, but also a large, additional frontage along the turnpike. Should the 1936 Board of Aldermen be unwise enough to grant this petition, results would certainly follow which would have adverse effects not alone on Chestnut Hill, but on those parts of Newton Centre, Oak Hill, Newton Highlands and Upper Falls which are so near to the turnpike. This big highway, constructed a couple of years ago at great expense to the people, would rapidly evolve along its entire length through this city into a business thoroughfare. The unattractive features which invariably result from the erection of business blocks and filling stations would ruin the values of high class residential areas not only abutting the rear of the business area, but within visible distance. And the purpose of the turnpike—to afford a high speed traffic artery remote from business areas between Boston and Worcester—would be nullified. It behooves not only residents of Chestnut Hill and the other South Side sections of this city to realize the menace of the proposed zoning change, but automobile owners in general who use the turnpike should object to its perversion into a business street with accompanying parking and other traffic slowing results.

According to reports of expenditures of election expenses recently filed, in accordance with law, by those who ran for offices at the election held last month in this city, some of the candidates, even those who ran for Ward Aldermen, expended well over $100, some of the candidates expended small sums, and some expended nothing. It is interesting to note among the names of the candidates who reported that they received no contributions and made no expenditures in connection with their campaign, several whose names were on cards sent to thousands of voters in this city. These cards were signed by partisans of one of the mayoralty candidates and were paid for presumably by the campaign committee working in behalf of that candidate. The aldermanic candidates (with one exception) endorsed on these cards were favorable to the candidate for mayor was also endorsed on these cards. They did not have to expend anything themselves as did the candidates not on the slate. But, it cost a considerable amount to have these cards printed and distributed either by mail or otherwise.

The fact that promotions and appointments in the Newton Fire Department occasioned by the retirement of Capt. Frank Frost of Engine 1 were announced several days before Capt. Frost retired on January 1st caused some comment throughout the city. Friends of Frost had been interfered with. Chief Randlett of the Fire Department said he interviewed Mr. Childs before making the promotions, explained that he desired his personnel complete by January 1st and that the Mayor-Elect was agreeable. Lieut. Daniel Herlihy of Engine 8 was advanced Captain, and was promoted to Lieutenant. Capt. Herlihy headed the eligible list and Lieut. Marchant was second on the list. He has an excellent record both for service and rescue work. The appointments to privates in the department were Frederick McLaughlin of West Newton who was fourth on the first eligible list and Wendell Reed of Auburndale who was sixth. James Rogers of 1665 Centre st., who was first on the list is a member of the Newton police department and agreed to have his name removed. George McIntosh whose address was given as 108 Charles st., Auburndale, was second on the list. Chief Randlett stated that he found this man to have been a resident of Gloucester for the past two years, and not eligible. Thomas Concanon of Wyoming rd., Newtonville, who was first on the eligible list following the appointment of McLaughlin, and Henry White of Hawthorne st., who was second, were jumped in the appointment of Reed. The latter has for the past six years been a "spark" or volunteer fireman at Engine 5, Auburndale.

Automobile owners, already gouged by taxes, will approve Gov. Curley's recommendation for an even higher tax on gasoline.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. BENTLEY

Good Reason Why

For good, and to me sufficient reason I did not tell a lie, tell a riddle or ring a bell to welcome the year 1936. Not that I was unwilling to receive the newcomer, but because I could not find a kazoo. Don't tell me you don't know what a kazoo is. If you fail to recognize the name you would not fail to recognize the music, for a kazoo is one of those instruments that produces a melody. Maybe it's a Chinese melody but nevertheless the sound is there. Remember the childhood stunt of putting a piece of paper around a comb and pressing the lips against it and blowing for whatever musical effect there was? Well, a kazoo gives you the same music but it tooted like a whistle. I had one long years ago and I'd like to get one now. As I started to say, had I been equipped with a kazoo I would have been among the New Year's Eve revelers, for I like to play an instrument that displays my proficiency.

"Call up the League"

Old Mother Hubbard, heroine of a fruitless quest for something to gladden the heart of Fido, Rover, Prince or whatever the name of her canine friend, would have been bowled over had she been around these days. A rubber bone for doggie! It might have solved the ancient dame's problem but then that famous classic would never have been written. Furthermore, Mother Hubbard would have been more surprised to see this newly-invented synthetic dog food than to learn that a heartless raider had cleaned out her cupboard.

You'll admit that an Alredale is a man's dog. Well, I saw one (a dog, of course) getting a heap of amusement out of a rubber bone. His master explained that the dog had never displayed much interest in real bones but that this novelty "got" him. "The funny part of it is," said the owner, "it's flavored with chocolate and vanilla."

I couldn't believe it but took a sniff and was convinced. Recovering from my astonishment I asked, "Can it be that the dogs nowadays are going sissy?" "I'll say they are," was his reply.

Oddments

It may be a juvenile streak in me but the wonders of the radio will always be a marvel whenever I listen to a program floating through the ether. Awed as I am, I prefer not to penetrate the mysteries of this great invention and yet I would like to know why it is that an occasional speaker talks as if two front teeth were missing.

Somebody said it long ago, and yet I dare repeat, that circumstances change one's point of view. There is a contract bridge player with whom I am intimately acquainted and who declares when she wins it is a game of skill and when she loses it is a game of chance.

Young Folks Again

Some parents spoil their children with many indulgences, while others tactfully allow the young folks to have a good time with due restraint. One way to achieve the latter is to permit and encourage boys and girls to entertain at home.

It gave me a good laugh and much satisfaction to observe the system followed in a home where I happened to be a holiday-supper guest. The young men volunteered to "clear away the things" and did a marvelous job. But they were original in their dish-washing and I can readily imagine some housewives becoming jittery under similar circumstances. The boys' system was unique. One would wash a dish and then toss it, no less than five feet or more, to another to be wiped. When that operation was completed the dish would be tossed to a third young man to be stacked. You never saw better jugglery on the stage. As unconventional and circus-like as it was, the whole thing was neat and ship-shape. The fussiest housekeeper could find no reason to complain.

I was told that at first the owner of the dishes protested. Finally she gave in. Now she is quite pleased to see her helpers so happy and has little fear of accidents. I don't suppose everybody can learn the art of juggling in connection with home dish-washing. Nevertheless, it seems to me it might well be taught as a course in household economics. If it were, the kitchen and its duties would be far more popular with the young people.

In Many Homes

Guessing contests have been in order in not a few households since Christmas. Gifts, usually from a distance, have been received with gratitude, followed with a puzzled silence. The reason is that the donor had selected some of the new articles, usually dishes, for domestic use that the recipients failed to recognize and could only query, "Wonder what they're for?"

The accompanying card often says, "Hope you'll find much use for this," but gives no explanation. The family thereafter begin a serious study, each declaring he or she has never seen the same thing. Finally you will hear one say, "O I know what it is, or I think I do, it's for keeping pickles." "Don't be silly," says another, "they don't have pickle jars any more."

"Maybe it's for maple syrup," suggests a third, whose appetite for waffles plus much syrup has been well established.

And that's as far as they get until a friend happens in who may or may not know the answer but whose word is final. Otherwise, the dishes go in to the pantry and become known as "the things we'd like to use if we knew what they were for."

Burke who resides above the hardware store, which is owned by Roy Grubbaugh, was obliged to vacate their home because of smoke. The blaze was confined to the cellar.

Seal Sale To Continue Thru This Month

Few persons realize the tremendous advance that has been made in this country in the past thirty years against the ravaging effects of tuberculosis. In 1905 one's chances of dying from the disease were three times greater than today. From being the most common cause of death at that time it has dropped to the seventh. Despite this advance there is still much that can be done. Tuberculosis, preventable and curable in its earlier stages, still takes more lives of persons between the ages of 15 and 45 years than any other disease. It continues to strike down men and women in their best years. With the knowledge now possessed by science there is every hope to believe that tuberculosis will be as rare as smallpox. The advancement of this work is accomplished through the receipts from the sale of Christmas health seals which were distributed throughout Newton a few weeks before Christmas. The entire receipts from Newton residents are spent in local care and prevention. The Health Committee of the Welfare Bureau and the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs report that only one-quarter of the seals sent out have received attention. The sale of these seals will continue through January and those who have neglected to respond to the appeal are urged to make their contribution promptly.

B. U. Professor To Give Lecture Course

Professor Guillermo Hall of Boston University answers this interesting question at a course of lectures which will give at Bay State Hall beginning Thursday, January 9th, "What is Life?"

The pessimist says: "Life is a nightmare between two nothings." If you agree in this view, you will get no joy out of life and give none to your fellow man. You are just one of Nature's mistakes. And Nature does not grant long life to her mistakes. So you need make no plans for growing old. Life for you will be just what you make it—"a nightmare between two nothings"—the nothing from which you emerged—the nothing into which you will be absorbed, because the life between will have been of no use—just a dreary desert of boredom from having to live with yourself.

Professor Hall says: "Life is the great adventure between birth and death." It is something to be lived sanely and completely till you die. Even then you may continue to live in the lives and in the memory of those you leave behind—that is life eternal."

W. C. T. U.

The West Newton W. C. T. U. will hold their next regular meeting at the home of Dr. N. Louise Rand, 247 Austin st. on next Monday evening, January 6 at 8 o'clock. Plans will be made at this meeting to celebrate the 46th anniversary of this Union at the Lincoln Park Baptist Church on Tuesday, January 14, with a supper at 6:30 which will be followed by an entertainment.

Rotarians Hear Talk on Labor

The belief that out of the controversy on labor problems between John L. Lewis, head of the United Mine Workers and William Greene, president of the American Federation of Labor will come a form of union new to this country is the opinion of Ernest Johnson, secretary of the Boston Building Trades Union expressed in a talk upon "Labor" at the meeting of the Newton Rotary Club on Monday. Mr. Johnson, who is a trustee of the Boston Elevated Railway and a former president of the Boston Central Labor Union, was introduced by Frank L. Richardson.

The speaker stated that the popular conception of a "labor" man as a "roughneck" and a "grabber" arose from the fact that the public knew little about labor except through the newspaper stories when labor was in trouble. He characterized labor as unselfish, with policies and influence and the ultimate objective of affiliation of workers in all trades. He remarked that Massachusetts was a pioneer in labor legislation along social and humane lines and that labor realized that co-operation must exist between it and the employer and that there can be no discrimination in labor's favor. Employers, however, have hindered labor's interests in many ways, chiefly through its great weakness, hunger.

Trade unions strive to build up their memberships to a position of influence in industry and in government. The weaker ones are the ones that are most likely to encounter trouble. Company unions, he claimed are never organized until outside unions come into the picture. The employer, in order to offset the outside union, starts a company union or mutual welfare association. Sometimes espionage, discharge and other practices are resorted to in an effort to prevent the affiliation of company workers with outside unions. With all the efforts of employers to prevent union influence they frequently express a need for an organization such as the American Federation of Labor and characterize it as a safety valve. Recognition of labor, however, will come Mr. Johnson believes, through legislation and not through strife. The time will come when the employer will encourage employees to join unions just as he now encourages his executives to join service clubs. The employer has always been afraid that labor will become too powerful and will ask for something to which they are not entitled or for something the employer does not want to grant. The situation is similar to that of the old slave days when the master held the upper hand over the servant. This situation cannot prevail because it creates discontent and malcontent.

Labor is opposed to many governmental methods of relief. But labor realizes that there are but two courses open. The employer must voluntarily co-operate or must suffer the yoke of governmental restriction. The employer will have to bargain with the employees or expect the government, state as well as national, to listen to the voice of labor and impose legislation. A poll of industrial plants during the existence of the NRA showed 90 per cent signifying a trend towards the A. F. of L.

The new form of union foreseen by Mr. Johnson exists at present in some foreign countries. It is the industrial form in which workers in one plant belong to the union and are affiliated with other unions in similar industries. Labor has been charged with stifling the training of new workers. This charge is untrue, the speaker asserted, stating that he has never seen the number of apprentices required by labor. On the other hand employers during the past five years have trained no new workers and there is a growing dearth of mechanics and other operatives. The depression has given industry no interest or incentive in training new workers and must do so in the future.

In concluding his address Mr. Johnson summed up labor's objective as the securing of decent wage and living conditions for the worker, with provisions for the keeping of labor informed as to the financial condition of industry, good as well as bad. Employees have not been ready to accept a wage reduction in bad times because in the past industry has never been willing to permit them to share in the profits of better times. Interest of both employer and employee must of necessity be spread upon a broader base than formerly.

Look Before You Leap Year

THIS is Leap Year. Even so, it is always a good idea to look before you leap—whether it be investments or marriage.

Last year a Florida girl promised to marry whenever HE was able to learn to save his pennies for the license.*

A smart girl! For money squabbles are the most serious in family life. Being thrifty helps to avoid them!

*P.S.—He did!

"Popeye Day" At the Repertory Merry Movies

"Popeye, The Sailor," the famous cartoon created by E. C. Segar for the newspapers and made into a movie cartoon under Max Fleischer's direction will be the great attraction at the "Merry Movies" all day, Saturday, January 4, at the Repertory Theatre.

Popeye, himself, needs no introduction as he long since became a matinee idol. The original Popeye came on to the scene when Mr. Segar was drawing figures for his "Thimble Theatre". One of the scenes in which Olive Oyl and brother Castor were planning a voyage on a lovely ship brought forth the question of a sailor to conduct them. Castor Oyl claims that he saw a man on the dock and yelled, "Hey, are you a sailor?" "Ja think I was a cowboy?" came the reply and in strophe Popeye to stay permanently in the cartoon as its leading character.

The program for Saturday will have six Popeye pictures, "Noah's Ark" and "Flowers and Trees" which are both Silly Symphonies.

Senior Play At High School

man Lonette Glaser, Anson Piper, Gordon Wentworth, Irma Kelsey, Gordon Turner, Daniel Haughey, Sam Wyatt, Virginia Rogers, William Wise, Barbara Mann, and Mortimer Lenk.

The plot of this most popular drama concerns itself chiefly with the affairs of Rose Trelawney, an actress in London during the eighteen fifties, who fell madly in love with Arthur Gower, a young aristocrat. However, before Rose was allowed to marry Arthur, his relatives insisted that she live with them for a short time to see if she would make a good wife. To the high-spirited young actress the Victorian repression was unbearable, and after a violent quarrel, she returned to the Wells Theatre. Out of this dramatic situation, Pinero has evolved a climax of the sort that one meets but seldom in the theater.

Yet, although the plot is always fascinating, it is the comedy that makes "Trelawney of the Wells" so outstanding. The banquet scene, the invasion of the Gower mansion by the actors of the Wells, and the riotous rehearsal scene, have set a high watermark in the theater that no other playwright has been able to attain, and have made the play an actor's paradise. Ethel Barrymore, Sir Gerald Du Maurier, and Ruth Gordon, the celebrated Theater Guild star, who appeared in the play last year, are but a few of the players who have been seen in "Trelawney of the Wells."

At the High School over one hundred people under the direction of Mr. Arthur Johnson, production adviser, are constantly working for the material success of the play. The Senior Play Committee, which is in charge of all departments, consists of Margaret Clark, William Abrahams, Betty Tobey, Fred Fairfield, Cornelia Brown, Natalie Grow, Eleanor Bixby, George Jamison and Joel Covington.

The costumes, which are being made by Miss Murray and Haydn, are most decorative, and Mr. Charles Peterson promises unique settings.

With all its activity, it is felt that the production of "Trelawney of the Wells" on Jan. 10 and 11, should be a worthy successor to such triumphs as "The Admirable Crichton" and "Once in a Lifetime." In fact, all concerned are justifiably proud of the opportunity they are offering to citizens of Newton to see one of the greatest plays of our time, "Trelawney of the Wells."

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

By JACK MORRIS

NEWTON LOSES 3-1 TO ARLINGTON CHAMPS

Newton High started the new year wrong by losing a 3-1 decision to Arlington at the Boston Garden Wednesday afternoon, their first setback in three games. Although not badly outplayed at any time, Doc Martin's charges were unable to capitalize any of their numerous opportunities until late in the last period, when Milner caged the rebound of Paul Brown's shot.

Newton dropped from the top ranking, leaving Stoneham there alone, while Arlington moved into second place. Melrose, by defeating Rindge 2-0, is now tied with Newton in third place, only one game behind the leaders. Newton leads the league in scoring, with eleven goals in three games, has allowed only two goals to opponents, a figure exceeded only by Rindge and Belmont, the two cellar teams.

Buttrick Good in Goal

Goalie Herb Buttrick arrived at the game without his all-important pads, meaning that his father had driven off to Maine with them by accident, and Gordon Turner started in the Newton goal, playing there the first period while Buttrick borrowed equipment from Bud Kramer of Cambridge Latin. Turner allowed one goal, a backhand shot by Red Preston on a pass from Bill Lane, which came at 4:49. MacLeod started on defense with Milner, while John Blodgett moved up to right wing on the first line, and Jack Herrick played right wing for the second line.

Newton forced the play to Arlington during the second period, but loose work with the puck near the goal, and some tight defensive hockey by the 1935 champions, kept the Newtons from tallying. Buttrick was in the Newton goal at the start of the second period, and gave a good exhibition for the rest of the game. But Arlington put the game on ice at the opening of the third canto, Bob O'Reilly tucking Chipman's pass behind Buttrick sixteen seconds after the faceoff. Joe Flores backhanded Roger Keefe's rebound for Arlington's third goal at 2:37. Newton's score came at 7:07. Howie Milner pushing home the loose puck after Paul Brown's shot dropped from Dutton's pads. Captain Ernie MacLeod made strenuous efforts to score in the closing minutes, but luck, as well as the crowd, was against him.

Daniels Star of 6-4 Rindge Game

Newton picked up two points last Saturday by outscoring Rindge Tech in a loosely played contest, featured by the scoring splash of the Newton first line, which produced two goals in the first three minutes of the game, then repeated the feat in the second period. Newton looked bad defensively, yielding four goals to a team that has not scored otherwise this year.

The first four Newton goals came on unassisted plays. Bill Daniels broke the ice at 1:14. Captain Ernie MacLeod added another at 2:18, and John Harrington made his third tally of the season at 4:49. Spider Dumont retaliated for Rindge at 9:53, and George Desrosiers made it 3-2 by adding another solo goal at 10:40, beating Herb Buttrick with a high shot from the blue line.

Buttrick did not return for the second period, complaining of sickness, and Gordon Turner played the game in goal for Newton. Bill Daniels made his second goal of the game at 1:25 of the second period, then passed to set up Ernie MacLeod for a score which came at 2:40, giving Newton a 5-2 lead. Charlie Mahoney beat Turner with a short backhand shot at 5:24, but Johnny Blodgett countered eight seconds before the period ended, scoring Newton's sixth goal at 11:52. Blodgett's angled shot rebounded off Turner's pads for the fourth Rindge goal at 7:22, in the last period, but from that point neither team was able to score again, Newton being content to protect their two-goal lead.

Newton Highlights

Johnny Garrison, Frank Stubbs and Frank Spain, three Newton hockey players, are on their way to Europe with the hockey team that will represent the United States in the Olympic games next month in Germany. The Olympics made their farewell appearance in Boston last week, playing one period against each of three selected teams, and beating them with an aggregate score of 14-2. Spain and Garrison accounted for eight goals for the Olympics. Stiffest opposition in this unusual game came from the North Cambridge Hockey Club, with a defense composed of Walter "Doc" Billings and Gus Castoldi, high-scoring defensemen on former Newton High teams. The Olympics beat North Cambridge 3-1.

Harvard is still leading the college hockey parade, having scored 43 points in seven games, while Harvard goalies, one of whom is Bob Waldinger of Newton Centre, have allowed their opponents only twelve goals. One game which didn't fatten the Harvard scoring average much was the 3-1 victory over Brown at Providence, and the reason lay in the spectacular goalkeeping of Jack Skilling and the work on defense of Norm Appleyard and Charlie Butler. Bob Van Patten-Steiger at M. I. T. is the only Newton goalie in college ranks who seems due for a bad season from the start. Four college coaches are Newton men, George Owen, Jr., at Tech, Joe Stubbs at Harvard, Wayland Vaughan at Princeton and Dick Vaughan at Boston University.

Elena Ciccone was doomed to disappointment in her second attempt to capture the girls' national indoor tennis title at Longwood last week. The Newton Centre player, runner-up in the outdoor nationals at Philadelphia in September, lost to Helen Bernhard of New York City 7-5, 6-4 in the semi-final round. Last year the same two met in the semi-final, and Elena outlasted the 14-year old prodigy in a grueling 11-12, 7-5 match, then lost the final to Virginia Hollinger by 6-1, 6-2. Miss Hollinger defeated Helen Bernhard 6-0, 6-3. Elena Ciccone's early-round victims last week were Dorothy Wightman of Brookline, 6-1, 6-3, and Polly Morrill, Dedham, by 6-3, 6-2.

Vic Stout of the Boston Traveler, who began his sportswriting on the Newtonite about ten years ago, as did P. E. "Jerry" Nason of the Boston Globe, was forced to eat his own prediction last week. The Traveler columnist had picked Medford as an easy winner over Newton in the hockey opener, and Newton won 4-1. Stout about-faced to redeem himself, predicting that Newton would win the league race.

Maybe Newton will come through. However, Stoneham, Cambridge and Melrose, all strong enough to upset Newton's appeal, are yet to be met. Melrose hockey teams have habitually paralyzed Newton outfits during the last decade by skating faster and bringing louder rooting sections to egg them on. This year Stoneham is the team to beat, rather than Melrose, and Cambridge is strong enough for third place.

The theme for discussion was "Security Against Unemployment and Security in Old Age." Mr. Boyd Hayden presented a paper which was very well prepared in which he treated specifically these four subjects: "The Social Security Act of 1935," "The Wisconsin Plan," "The Ohio Plan," and the so-called "Worker's Bill" otherwise known as the "Lundeen Bill," which was defeated in the House last spring, but which is likely to come up again for reconsideration in the coming session.

New American Home In Waban Nears Completion

It is expected that the house on Neholten rd., Waban, will be completed and open for public inspection in about 10 days, the builders, Bradley and Jones, announced today. The final coats of interior paint are being applied, and the papering of the rooms has begun.

The house is probably one of the most unusual of its kind in Newton. It does not conform to any specific type, rather the best points of all types of houses have been incorporated in making this truly an American home.

Mr. Bradley of Bradley & Jones stated that it is planned to keep the house open for the public for 30 days, and when it is finished judging by the interest shown in the house in its uncompleted stage, it is expected that it will be visited by large numbers of home owners, prospective home owners, and others.

Bruce Permanent Director of Community Chest

Expects To Raise $6,000 Balance Soon

The Board of Directors of the Newton Community Chest, Inc., report that they have employed Mr. L. A. Bruce, Jr., as Executive Director for a one year term. Mr. Bruce was Scout Executive of Norumbega Council, Inc., Boy Scouts of America, from April 2nd, 1927 to December 31, 1935.

When he came to the Boy Scout Council as Scout Executive, there were eleven units with about 300 boys and 65 men. Today, the Council includes Newton and Wellesley, has about 1,100 Cubs, Scouts, Seascouts and Rovers and 450 men interested and active in the work of the Council. In addition the Council owns, free and clear, one of the largest short-term camps, called the Nobscot Reservation, with 175 acres of land and 24 buildings, worth about $40,000.00.

The Newton Community Chest, in employing a full time executive, has followed 16 years' of experience in the United States, where there are over 400 community chests. Experience has clearly shown that success in Chest organization comes only when there is a full-time executive when the Chest is raising over $100,000.00 annually.

Raising the money for member-agencies is only one phase of the work of the Community Chest. In addition it works with its member agencies, to help strengthen their respective programs and activities; it gives public service by co-ordinating the work of public and private agencies.

For example, the Chest last fall took the lead by initiating frequent conferences in a group with all executives of public and private welfare agencies to discuss local relief problems and how to handle them. The latest was held with his Honor, Mayor Edwin O. Childs, with respect to co-operation between the City Welfare Department, Soldiers' Relief Department and the various agencies of the (Continued on Page 10)

Big Meeting of Disabled Vets

A large gathering is expected at War Memorial Building, Newton Centre, tonight at 8 o'clock when Chaplain Wm. J. Farrell Chapter, Disabled American Veterans of the World War will hold an important meeting. It will be featured by presentation of colors to the Chapter by Mayor Childs, presentation of a portrait of Father Farrell by John T. Burns, and presentation of honorary memberships in the chapter by Commander Harold Haffey to Mayor Childs, Mr. Burns, Edmund T. Dungan, director of Soldier's Relief in Newton; and to Cornelius Burke of Boston, a close friend of Chaplain Farrell.

Invited guests include General Daniel Needham, General Arthur Desmond, General Agnew, Colonel Tierney; Ex-Mayor Weeks and Mrs. Weeks, Mr. and Mrs. Leverett Saltonstall, Bishop Francis Spellman, Senator Arthur H. Hays Sulzberger, Rev. John Farrell of Lynn and the Misses Farrell of Auburndale, brother and sisters of the late chaplain; and members of Eugene Daley Post, V. F. W.; Newton Post, American Legion and the Y. D. Post of Boston.

There are 3700 World War veterans in Newton and of the membership of Chaplain Wm. J. Farrell Chapter five are D. S. C. men, 35 were wounded in action and 65 wounded or gassed, or both. Edward J. Theriault will give a history of the organization.

Newton Centre Imp. Asso. Will Oppose Business On Pike

Wants Land Taken To Protect
Hammond Pond

A general meeting of the Newton Centre Improvement Association was held Tuesday, in the Newton Centre Branch Library building. As specified in the notice of the meeting, the members of the Executive Committee were looking for trouble; and though they found some, most of the members present thought that though the community could be improved in some respects, the Association had done so much in its eighty-four years of existence to make Newton Centre an ideal community to live in that there were only a few details to be taken care of at present.

Alderman Inches from Chestnut Hill was introduced, and spoke of applications for rezoning along the Worcester Turnpike some 560 yards west from Hammond st.; of which about 235 yards is in Newton. Originally zoned for business, this area was later rezoned for single residence at the request of the owners. Petitions in 1935 that the area be restored to business and manufacturing zones have been put into 1936 business. It was understood that the town of Brookline was hoping to see what action Newton was going to take. Then it was unanimously voted that a petition be presented to the Legislature this week that the land in question be taken by the Metropolitan District Commission for the protection of Hammond's Pond. The sense of the meeting was that every effort should be made to eliminate "spot zoning" on the turnpike.

On the question of bus service, the members were definitely in favor of the new move to provide an ideal Newton Centre with Cleveland cir.; and also with Oak Hill, though the probabilities were that this would be used less by Newton Centre residents. The Association went on record as favoring both lines, however.

Considerable feeling was manifest when the question of the Edwin S. Webster Playground, otherwise known as the Dump, came up. The Association has previously communicated with City Hall in an attempt to have this work completed; to have the filled area covered over; or even to have the location made presentable in appearance from the railroad. It seemed to the members present that certainly they should be able to expect the Playground to be instated as such shortly.

As to the poor condition of the sidewalks in the Centre, many of them on the main streets, there was more agreement that they should be repaired and replaced than as to the method to be employed. Several members asked why men on relief, either city or national, could not be used to build good sidewalks, rather than "build stone walls over in the woods."

To Reestablish Reserve Police

A reserve force for the Newton police department will be reestablished shortly. Such a force existed for several years during the latter part of Mayor Childs' administration, but after Mayor Weeks took office and the Newton police department underwent the change from patrolling on foot nights to riding in automobiles, the reserve force was gradually abolished as its members were appointed to the regular force. The purpose of the reserve force was to provide substitutes for regular patrolmen off duty because of suspensions or illness or for other reasons. For several years the police department has been frequently short of men to fill assignments and the lack of substitutes has been a handicap.

The fourteen names submitted to Chief Hughes by the Civil Service Commission as eligible for appointments to the reserve police force are: John S. Lovely, Edward A. Hickey, Henry C. Bell, Charles W. Lynch, John J. Powers, Thomas B. Concanan, Joseph T. Doherty, William C. Sherman, John J. McCardie, Leo S. Gagnon, Martin Greeley, Thomas L. McEnaney, Milton S. Johnson, Francis M. Barry. Lovely has been working as a patrolman for the past few months as a temporary appointee.

Newton Inventor Wins Big Suit

Edward F. Small of 21 Park pl., Newtonville, an inventor, won an important verdict last Friday when Judge Hugh McLeellain in the Federal Court at Boston gave a decision which entitles Small to collect royalties on chairs of a swivel base type which are now in common use in modern railroad coaches. Small got his idea of the chair mechanism from an electric toaster and submitted the invention to the Heywood-Wakefield Company in whose employ he was at that time. They offered him $750 for it and he declined, asking $10,000. The company went ahead and manufactured the chairs, contending that the invention was its property because of "shop rights." Small contended that he invented the chair base on his own time and worked on it at his own home. He expects to collect a considerable amount from the company in back royalties.

Will Improve Laundry Brook

Work has started on improving that section of Laundry Brook between Walnut and Cabot sts., Newtonville. With the exception of a short stretch of the brook near Bulough Pond and Dexter rd., it is all enclosed in culverts other than the 800-foot section now to be improved. The improvements will consist of deepening, laying a cement bottom and building retaining walls. The WPA has authorized $25,764 for labor on this project and the city has appropriated $8000 for materials. The job will give work to 67 unemployed residents of Newton for some weeks. A culvert 50 feet long will be built to extend the present culvert which ends at Gay st. Six hundred men are now employed on WPA projects in Newton; an increase of about 50 over the number employed on ERA projects last year.

Margaret Slattery Talks on Oppression Of Youth

Condemns Tax Burden Placed On Young Generation

In an eloquent and moving address at the Newton Community Forum Sunday before an audience which filled every available seat in the High School Auditorium, the distinguished Margaret Slattery made an impassioned plea for justice and enlightened guidance for the youth of America.

"Taxation without representation," said Miss Slattery, "is tyranny; and the taxes on our youth are accumulating so heavily that for the next hundred years or more youth cannot escape them; yet nothing is being done to save our children from the effects of today's social and economic evils. Adults do not and cannot represent children, since our young people have aspirations and dreams and thoughts of their own. If this were not so, the world would never have made any progress. As men and women grow older they lose the enthusiasms and ideals of youth. In spite of what a well known writer has said, life does not begin at 40, and you and I know it only too well.

"Militarism is crushing the rights of youth in many countries today," said Miss Slattery, citing Japan as an instance of heavy taxation. "In China there is the curse of drugs along the North Wall, where, owing to the disturbed conditions, the sale of opium is unchecked and the youth of an entire nation is being betrayed.

"When I look at the thousands of young people of Italy I know that some day upon their young shoulders will rest the burden of the almost unbearable taxes which will result from Italy's present imperialism. In Germany, whose universities were formerly leaders in the world's progress, today youth can learn only what the teachers are permitted by the government to impart; and the head of the government is a former paper-hanger who does not know the meaning of liberal ideals. Yet Hitler has captured the souls of the youth of Germany by promising bread to those who were hungry, work to the unemployed, and social security for all."

Turning to Russia, she declared that the youth of that country did not make the Soviet Republic and had not had anything to say about its government. She deplored the narrow training of young men and women which prevented them from gaining any knowledge or ideas except those disseminated by the Soviet Government. The youth of Russia is in no way represented in the present government. It is not free to think. It cannot discuss. It cannot read books published outside the country. In France taxation today is a tragic burden and (Continued on Page 10)

Big Oil Truck Runs Amuck

Monday morning about 10:20 a large oil truck owned by the Cities Service Company ran driverless down Highland st., West Newton, knocked down two large poles and a hydrant, crashed through the heavy wire fence near the bridge at Highland and Margin sts., and was stopped from hurtling down onto the railroad tracks by a tree which stands between the fence and the railroad cut. George Chalmers of East Braintree, driver of the truck, parked the big vehicle opposite the home of Frederick S. Hardy, 72 Highland st., and went into the house. While he was there the brakes on the truck failed to hold and the vehicle rolled down the steep grade. It hit and knocked down a large pole en route, and then struck and knocked down a second pole at the corner of Highland and Margin sts. Between the two poles the hydrant was wrecked. As the truck reached the railroad embankment a train was entering the West Newton station bound for Boston. Had not the tree stopped the big vehicle, it would have crashed 15 feet onto the train.

Withdraws Appeal To State A. B. C.

J. Neal McDonald, who appealed to the State Alcoholic Beverage Commission several days ago when the Newton License Commission refused to renew a license for a package goods store at 1377 Washington st., West Newton, which he held last year, informed the local board through his attorney on Wednesday night that he has withdrawn the appeal. He will appear before the Board for another hearing on the matter. The reason for the withdrawing of the license is that McDonald and his partner have had a disagreement and the Newton License Commission desired to have the two settle their difficulties.

Mayor Reappoints Murphy Assessor

Mayor Childs announced on Monday that he had reappointed John W. Murphy of Jasset st., Nonantum, as Chairman of the Newton Board of Assessors. The reappointment will be submitted to the Board of Aldermen at the meeting on Jan. 20. Mr. Murphy's present three-year term will expire in February. He has been a member of the Board of Assessors for 13 years and its chairman for the past 7 years. Prior to becoming a member of the Board he was an alderman from Ward 1 for several years.

Committees of Bd. of Aldermen For 1936

Rawson Made Chairman of Claims and Rules Com.

At the inaugural meeting on January 1st the following list of committees was made public—Finance: Bowen, chairman; Floyd, Goddard, Hill, McCabe, McKay, Melcher, Public Works: Hutchinson, chairman; Barwise, Cronin, Keller, Lyon, Rawson, Temperley. Public Buildings: Temperley, chairman; Barwise, Brocklesby, Colby, Goddard, Hill, Hutchinson, Franchises and Licenses: Colby, chairman; Atkins, Brocklesby, Guzzi, Keller, Schipper, Walker. Claims and Rules: Rawson, chairman; Cronin, Hutchinson, Inches, Lyon, McCabe, Walker. Education: McCabe, chairman; Atkins, Keller, Kenrick Fund: Barwise, chairman; McKay, Schipper, Legislation: Cronin, chairman; Atkins, Colby, Floyd, Guzzi, Hill, Inches, McKay.

Two changes have been made on the Finance Committee due to the retirement from the Board of Aldermen Greenstein and Holden. Alderman Hill succeeds Greenstein as the Ward 2 member of the committee, and Goddard succeeds Holden. Only one change was made on the Public Works Committee; Alderman Keller, a new member from Ward 6 succeeding Goddard who was advanced to the Finance Committee. The Claims and Rules Committee has a new chairman and three new members. Alderman Rawson of Ward 7, who has been a member of the Board only since September, 1934, has reached the chairmanship of one of the most important committees of the Board sooner than probably any member within the memory of the present generation. Hutchinson succeeds Bowen as member from Ward 3, Cronin succeeds Floyd as member from Ward 4, and Inches succeeds Holden as member from Ward 6.

Alderman Temperley, now serving his ninth year as a member of the Board has finally been given a chairmanship of one of the five most important committees, the one ranking 5th in importance—Public Buildings. Alderman Floyd was chairman of this committee last year. New members on the committee are—Brocklesby of Ward 4, who succeeds Floyd; and Colby of Ward 7, who replaces Melcher. The important Franchises and Licenses Committee is headed by Alderman Colby of Ward 7 who has been a member of the Board for but one year. The new members on this committee are Schipper from Ward 2, who succeeds Hill; Brocklesby of Ward 4, who succeeds Gordon; and Keller of Ward 6, who succeeds Inches. The committee is composed (Continued on Page 10)

THE HUMAN ELEMENT

The mounting toll of death and injury by automobiles presents an appalling problem which is receiving more and more attention and which must be solved. We cannot continue to permit conditions to exist which contribute to this end. A new and unusual angle to the entire question is brought out with the publication recently of a book entitled "If You Are Going to Drive Fast." The author, long connected with the automobile business and considered as having considerable knowledge of speed and other factors which contribute to the accident record, takes this new viewpoint which merits further study. He points out that automobiles are designed as an improved and faster method of transportation but that in our attempts to reduce accidents insufficient attention has been given to the drivers. He urges the abandonment of campaigns of "horror" on the basis that they tend to shake the morale of automobile drivers and only result in making worse drivers. His answer is to do away with some of the rules and put the responsibility of safety into the laps of the operators by making good driving something to be proud of and poor driving something to be ashamed of. He believes that a standard of recklessness should be set up by others than by officials who may have no skill in driving a car themselves. The contention is also made that nothing has been taught the new crop of operators about safe driving at the speeds at which the modern car is operated today. He advocates the grading of drivers as is done with workers in trades and professions. A fast driver can be a safe driver while a slow operator can often be a menace. Individual temperament and ability is always present and any driver should rate himself, find his safe driving speed and stick to it.

A very definite conclusion is reached by analysis of accidents that "today's roads and cars are a lot better than today's drivers" and "that of the millions of drivers few are qualified to make speed in the city or country." All in all the entire book is an unusual treatise of the subject. Not only does it focus attention upon the situation but it offers methods which have merit and possibility of success if effectively put into operation. It is self evident that we can never hope to make much headway in the reduction of automobile accidents unless we take some definite means of regulating the human element which is invariably present.

CALLED TO A WIDER FIELD

Some eight years ago Lyscom A. Bruce, Jr., was appointed executive director of the Norumbega Council of the Boy Scouts of America, the local scout organization. Since that time the work of character building among the boys of Newton in their teens has forged steadily ahead. From a membership of approximately three hundred to a present organization of about 1100 boys and some 400 adults is a noteworthy accomplishment, much credit for which goes to Mr. Bruce. Last year a study of the Community Chest work and direction in this city suggested the advisability of a permanent Community Chest director instead of a volunteer director who served only during the duration of the annual campaign for funds. Experience in other cities where the Community Chest plan was functioning to advantage showed that such a permanent organization was quite advantageous and necessary to the adequate handling of the situations commonly met. Accordingly a permanent director was sought and Mr. Bruce was selected to try out the plan during the 1935 Chest Campaign. The announcement was made this week that Mr. Bruce has been appointed permanently as the Community Chest executive director and further announcement that with less than $6,000 to be raised to reach the goal set for the campaign that this amount would be obtained. Having demonstrated his qualifications as an executive with a character-building organization as the Boy Scouts we are confident that Mr. Bruce will accomplish much that is worth while in the wider field which the Community Chest position offers.

A SMALLER BOARD OF ALDERMEN?

With the question of redistricting the city and the possibility of other desirable changes in the election laws of Newton still confronting our citizens it is timely to call attention to changes that have been made in the conduct of other Massachusetts cities. We refer particularly to Somerville where important changes have been made in that city's charter. The city government recently inaugurated there has been reduced in number from twenty-one aldermen and fourteen school committeemen to a board of aldermen of eleven members and a school committee of seven. Somerville has a population of slightly more than 100,000. The question therefore arises as to whether or not Newton's affairs could be more efficiently handled by a smaller board of aldermen. While we are not now of the opinion that such a step is desirable it will be interesting to watch closely the effect of a smaller legislative body in Somerville.

HOME IMPROVEMENTS

Although a great advance was made in home-building during the twenties it is remarkable to note that many improvements have been introduced during the more recent years of the depression. Many of those improvements will be noticed by those who accept the invitation to inspect the new Trefrey home in Waban, announcement of which we are making in the news columns of this issue.

Official figures from the city clerk's office have given Newton considerable publicity recently with interest centered around an increase in dog licenses and a decrease in marriage licenses. Only 611 couples filed marriage intentions in 1935 as against more than twice that number the previous year. Deaths for the year in Newton numbered 635 although some of these were not Newton residents. Many residents of neighboring towns became patients of the Newton Hospital which makes the exact figures of deaths of Newton persons unavailable without considerable research. An increase of 208 dog licenses in 1935 over 1934 set a new high mark of 3561. The 1934 licenses numbered 3553. The increase brings the dog population up to an average of better than one dog for every four families. Incidentally, complaints over the dog situation are also increasing as residents who own more than one dog continue to become more prevalent.

In the sailing list of the SS. Georgic which opened the Cunard White Star season of 1936, last Saturday, appears the name of Frank L. Wattendorf of West Newton. Although only 29 years of age, he has achieved considerable distinction in the field of aeronautical engineering. He is a graduate of Harvard and of M. I. T. and holds a degree from Aachen University, Germany. He is just finishing a course in aeronautics at the University of California and is on his way to Peiping, China, to establish an Aeronautical Department at Peiping International College. He was one of the consulting engineers in the building of the dirigibles, Akron and Macon. He has also been drafted for engineering work in connection with the erection of Boulder Dam. In addition to his aeronautical activities, he finds time for plenty of skiing and swimming. He is one of four Americans holding membership in the Royal Aeronautical Society of England, one of the other trio being Col. Lindbergh.

A popular young radio announcer, continuity writer, and dramatic actress of the Yankee Network, Miss Patricia Fortescue of Auburndale, Mass., will present a talk entitled "Behind the Mike" at a meeting of the Altruistic Club, composed of prominent business men and women, on Monday, Jan. 13th, at 6:15 p. m. Miss Fortescue is at present appearing at the Copley Theatre in "Ceiling Zero" under the direction of Mary Young. She was born in Faneuil on Sept. 21, 1903, and graduated from Wellesley College with the class of 1925. She served as counsellor of archery and dramatics at Sargent Camp in Peterboro, N. H., for three years and while there took a private course in dramatics from the late John Craig with whom she later appeared on the stage and with whose widow she is now appearing. She made her radio debut on the WNAE Women's Federation program in 1929 and less than a year later became a regular member of the staff of that station. She has been heard by the New England radio audience in such Yankee Network programs as "The Affairs of the Hemingways," "The Marriage Clinic" and "Mary Young's Dramatic School of the Air."

The outstanding work of Ernest G. Betz, Sr., of 415 Lowell ave., Newtonville, as a salesman of the International Business Machine Corporation has been recognized by his admittance to the company's One Hundred Percent Club of sales leaders. As a member of the club, Mr. Betz will attend the annual international convention of the club to be held in New York, from Jan. 27th to 30th, to confer with other outstanding men in the company's organization from all parts of the United States and numerous foreign countries. Mr. Betz was similarly honored in 1933 and has been a prize winner in several special sales contests. He has been with the I. B. M. organization since 1913, as a member of the tabulating machine sales force. He first served with the Syracuse office as a salesman and manager before going to the home office in New York. In 1932 he was assigned to the Boston office. The I. B. M. organization is the world's largest manufacturer of electric book-keeping and accounting machines, writing machines, industrial scales and other business machines, doing business in seventy-nine countries.

During 1935 the number of building permits issued in Newton was 698 and the estimated cost of work to be done under these was $2,594,310. In 1934 the number of permits issued was 577, and the cost of the work and buildings was $2,229,656. The amount of building in Newton last year was in excess of any of the three preceding years. The number of permits issued during November was 65 and the estimated value of the buildings and alterations under the permits was $294,170. Of these permits 32 were for single residences to cost $279,350.

Several changes have been made in the Newton Fire Department. Captain Daniel Herlihy has been transferred from Engine 8 at Nonantum to Engine 1 at Newton Corner, succeeding Captain Frank Frost, retired. Lieutenant Thomas Burke has been transferred from Engine 4 to Engine 8. Lieutenant John Keating has been transferred from Ladder 2 at Newton Highlands to Ladder 3 at Newton Corner. Lieutenant John R. Marchant has been assigned to Engine 4, where he has served as a private for the past 11 years.

There was little activity in the Massachusetts Legislature this week as the various committee hearings will not get completely under way until the expiration on Saturday of the time for filing bills.

On Wednesday morning the committee on Constitutional Law held a hearing on a memorial to Congress in favor of the payment of the veterans' bonus. A lively moment occurred when a member of the Communist party sought to speak in favor of the measure. Committee Clerk Fred Reinsteiner of Revere refused to place into the records any mention of the Communist party and was supported by Senator Burke of Boston. At the afternoon session of the House of Representatives the measure was reported favorably and passed under suspension of the rules in order that the Senate might act upon it Thursday and send it to Washington prior to the expected vote in Congress upon the question. Representative Bigelow of Brookline opposed suspension of the rules in order to seek a standing vote to indicate that the measure did not meet with unanimous approval. A standing vote showed $3 in favor and 12 opposed with many members not voting.

A bill was filed with the clerk of the House of Representatives late last week seeking to provide municipal primaries in the city of Newton. The petition was entered on behalf of the Democratic City Committee of Newton by Representative Timothy J. Murphy of Boston. The measure would entail the holding of primary election of party nominees whose names would then be on the ballot at the regular city election instead of using the preferential method of voting now in effect.

Senator Arthur W. Hollis of Newton filed the petition of Frank H. Morton of Newtonville seeking the establishment of a boat club together with various recreational facilities on land of the Metropolitan District Commission at Watertown below the Galen st. bridge. This same bill last year was referred to the Commission for study along with other bills affecting the river between Watertown and Newton.

James A. Mitchell of Clyde st., Newtonville is seeking reimbursement of $25.40 for damage done to his automobile by a deer in a bill filed for him by Rep. Brimblecom. Mr. Mitchell was driving through Middleboro early in December when a wild deer ran across the road and landed on the mudguard of the car.

Newton Graphic, Jan. 9, 1886

Did you ever see such a winter? So much snow and ice. Yet the boys are not happy, but look with longing eyes toward Bullough's Pond, which is not in order for skating.

The average attendance in Newton schools during the year 1885 was 3047, of which number 319 was at the high school. The appropriation for schools was $108,191.45. The expenses of the school department for 1885 were—salaries of superintendent and teachers, $50,048.26; janitors, $5875.19; secretaries, $300; evening schools, $171.54; conveyance of pupils, $900; fuel, $6333.11; furniture and incidentals, $13,811.02. Total $107,975.07.

The large number of petitions received for additional street lights indicates the appreciation of the public for well lighted streets. The whole number of street lights in this city is 1215, of which 790 are supplied with gas and 523 with oil. The cost of the lights to the city for 1885 was $20,493.66. Mayor Kimball recommends that before another contract for street lighting be executed, that a special examination be made as to the adaptability and cost of electric lighting for a portion of the streets.

Newton Graphic, Jan. 9, 1926

(From Mayor Childs' Inaugural Address)

"Bullough's Pond has become a very important part of our winter recreational scheme. It is a valuable health center and helps many thousands of our young people, as well as older ones, to spend hours a day under wholesome and safe conditions out of doors. The pond is really nothing but a catch basin for an enormous amount of water for about half of Newton. Thousands of cubic yards of mud have been deposited in it. The nuisance has already reached such a height that a large part of the pond is a mud bank, cutting down the skating area. It has become an odorous nuisance during the summer. The mud should all be dredged out and used along the banks. Careful plans should be made to clean out the pond and build a large catch basin which will take care of the mud which comes down with every rainstorm. This will avoid future large expense for periodical dredging. Owing to the fact that large numbers use the ice and the accommodations daily, it becomes necessary to build a substantial building for public convenience. A great many objections to our present building have been raised in the neighborhood, and these should be heeded. The whole project has been studied by the Playground Commission for a number of years, and the Commission has advocated these changes for sometime."

Edward H.

Powers' Paragraphs

In his inaugural address Mayor Childs stated that he advocates cash payments to families obtaining relief from the Newton Welfare Department, together with a thorough check-up, rather than the commissary system which has been used for the past several years. He said that volunteer workers should be appointed in various sections of the city to see that proper disposition is made of money advanced to those in distress. We agree largely with the Mayor. When the commissary system was put into operation by Ex-Mayor Weeks we criticized it. Our objections were based on the facts that different persons require different kinds of food; what agrees with one does not agree with another, and sensible persons are better qualified to know what they want to eat than some allegedly expert dietitian. We also stated that competitive bidding for the furnishing of food would result in food of inferior quality being distributed. And this has occurred. We reiterate now what we wrote when the commissary system was established—that there are recipients of welfare aid who should receive food orders rather than cash, and mothers of families who spend money received from the city for non-essentials rather than for necessities of life. Money taken from taxpayers should not be spent for booze, gambling, moving picture shows, operation of automobiles or other unnecessary luxuries. But, decent men and women should be given the right to select food for themselves and their families.

Fair minded persons will agree that most of the farmers of this country were in straitened circumstances years and needed some form of relief. The AAA was a great thing for the farmers, but it was tough on New England with its processing tax on textiles. The big bonuses paid to farmers in the West and to garbage gatherers in Massachusetts for not raising pigs, did not increase respect for the AAA in this section. Neither did the contemptuous attitude displayed by Secretary Wallace last year. While the decision of the Supreme Court is praised by a large percentage of Americans, naturally, it is condemned by those who are adversely affected and will tend to cause their affiliation with that political party which will stand for radical changes from past conditions.

Providence, Rhode Island for the third year has the honor of having the best record of any large city in this country as regards highway safety. Not only are autoists made to obey traffic laws in Providence, but pedestrians are also handed tickets if they disregard traffic signals or otherwise jay walk. But, the most important factor in having made Providence outstanding for the few automobile casualties that occur there, as compared with most cities is—"no fixing." Persons who drive recklessly there, who speed, who disregard traffic signals—are brought into court, and fined or sent to jail. Last year 1936 autoists were haled into court for such offences and 1939 were either fined or sent to jail. Of 124 arraigned for drunken driving, 118 were convicted. And the autoists who disobey parking regulations in Providence don't get away with it. If one parks overtime there, in restricted or prohibited places, or double parks out on the streets one gets a blue tag which is so designed as to be of the non-fixing type. The first offence for those getting such tags costs $2, payable to a clerk in the traffic violations bureau; second and third offences cost $3 and $5 respectively; then if one repeats, one goes to court.

When other cities in this country, including Newton, emulate Providence, when "fixing" is abolished, when parking regulations are enforced, then, and not until then, will there be the appreciable lessening of the terrible toll of casualties caused by automobiles in this country.

The alleged severity of the Parole Board is blamed for the recent attempts to escape by State Prison convicts; attempts which caused the deaths of a couple of those who tried to escape, and also of a prison guard. This contention is "rot" as those prisoners involved in the attempts were not eligible for parole. What is probably more the cause of the unrest is the practice which grew up in this State under the regime of Governor Ely—the pardoning and paroling of prisoners through political and other influence; a racket which permitted undeserving criminals to go free while deserving men were kept in prison.

Governor Curley, when he began his term of office last year, referred to the pardon and parole racket, but he has not been too niggardly in granting pardons to prisoners. The attempt of several prisoners to escape from State Prison several weeks ago was thwarted by the speedy arrival of many Boston policemen. The attempt of prisoners to escape from Concord Reformatory last year was stopped by State policemen from barracks directly across the street from that prison. Which causes one to realize what a huge jail delivery might be effected at Norfolk prison where the only police within miles are those few at the sub-station of the State Police near Pondville Hospital.

Transient Joys

Rows of rubbish barrels loaded with what were once the gay and inspiring decorations of the Yuletide. Trees, wreaths and festoons, gathered in the woods to make brilliant the glorious holidays. Symbols of a gladdening spirit, now roughly carted away. In my neighborhood the city collectors were most considerate and did their work of removal after dark. They may have been delayed because of practical difficulties or the magnitude of the day's task. I like to think they came in the night because of their thoughtfulness of those of us who admit we are superstitious. Had these strong fellows been less engrossed in their work I should have interrupted to thank them saying, "Boys, remember what Emerson told us, 'All the forms are fugitive but the substances survive.'"

What Was He Thinking?

Water bills from City Hall twice a year, as recommended by Mayor Childs in his inaugural address, reminded me that these accounts, coming to us regularly every quarter, upset a lot of households. Unjustly or justly the assertion is frequently made, often with much asperity, "We can't have used all that!"

The Mayor I observed, did not amplify his suggestion but doubtless in his long experience as chief executive has been obliged to listen to many complaints. Nothing sends people on the run to City Hall quicker than a water bill higher in amount than they expected.

If there is any man in this city who knows his psychology it is His Honor. He's always considered, their. Maybe he thinks it would be far better if grumblers should "hit the ceiling" only twice a year instead of four times. What gives me that idea is the last paragraph of his address which says that he "looks toward the making of a happier people."

"Have Him Call"

Communications received by this column indicate that a responsive chord was struck when I referred to the person who calls on the telephone and, without apology or explanation, insists upon knowing who you are, and perchance, what authority you have to answer the telephone and further what right you have on earth. He is closely allied in his miserable discourtesy to the man who calls up and, finding you not at home, orders whoever answers to instruct you to call up such-and-such a number immediately, leaving no name.

When you find a memorandum containing these directions you ask if any name was given and are told there was not. Nevertheless, the person calling distinctly pointed out that it was most important. Sometimes there

Oddments

Having recently expressed horror at people who make notes and comments in pencil on the pages of public library books it is with reluctance that I now eat a small dish of crow. I was reading a book that interested me and was wondering if two of the principal characters were not persons in real life whose identity was thinly veiled. Sure enough, some previous reader had written, apparently for the edification of the rest of Newton, his opinion that the author was describing certain famous people whose names he gave. I must admit that the book afforded me greater pleasure after I had absorbed the tip.

The home-from-college situation which I recently referred to has come and gone for the present. Far be it from me to interpret the thoughts of others but I suspect that Mother and Father are finding things less distracting. In fact, a mother told me, "I miss them, but it has been a busy time with Sonny and Sis racing around and doing things." And then she sighed, though with a smile, "You see, they were always one step ahead of me."

Unkind Thrust

The fun of feeding birds during the colder weather is one of the milder dissipations in which I indulge. I do not go as far as to call them "feathery friends" for they are always alive when I walk out to spread their feed. But that, I suppose, is natural and because I know they are hungry I keep right on, just as if they lighted on my shoulders. Now it seems to me that although I seek no reward I am entitled to more respect than was shown by me by an old friend from whom I recently purchased a quantity of wild bird food as it is called. When that man, and you know him well, delivered the package at my home in my absence he left a message for me, saying, "Tell L. D. G. B. I brought his breakfast."

Lecture On China At Newtonville M. E. Church

The Rev. Dr. George L. Davis of Newtonville was the speaker at the afternoon meeting of the Woman's Association of the Methodist Episcopal Church of Newtonville on Wednesday. Dr. Davis, who has been a missionary in China for 25 years, and who was born in that country, where his parents were missionaries before him, spoke as only one with such a wide experience could on "The Older Church's Duty Toward the Younger Church of China."

Dr. Davis, who conducted a party of eight on a ride to the Orient last summer, feels that great strides have been made in the last three decades in the building of schools, hospitals and roads. The great need now is leadership, more schools and churches. Too many doctrines are being introduced by fanatic so-called religious sects.

Mrs. Clarence W. Williams, who was a member of Dr. Davis' party last summer, conducted the devotions, selecting hymns and Scripture readings appropriate to the subject.

The morning sewing for the Wilber Health Home in Natick was supervised by Vice-President Mrs. Robert E. Meeker, and luncheon was served by Mrs. Frank E. Morris and Mrs. G. W. Taylor, assisted by members of the group.

Mrs. Carl S. Ell, president, was in charge of the board meeting and of the afternoon business meeting. Mrs. George F. Williams presented the program.

In charge of banquet arrangements were A. L. Moriarty as chairman, Patrick Ford as secretary, Joseph Burke, S. P. Nicolazzi, Charles Miller, John Russo and Eugene Drennan.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

By JACK MORRIS

NEWTON HIGH SLIPS
AS MELROSE WINS 3-1

Newton High slipped another rung of the Greater Boston Interscholastic hockey ladder last Saturday when Doc Martin's unit was taken by Melrose High 3-1. Melrose took a 2-1 lead in the second period, adding a third goal in the last canto when Newton was carrying the play too far into Melrose territory.

Both teams benefited by freak goals. Melrose broke the scoring ice at 2:15 in the second period when Frank Sullivan's shot sneaked into the net as Goalie Herb Buttrick attempted to clear. Joe Rotundi made it 2-0 at 4:15, slapping home a pass-out from Paul Noyes, although he appeared well covered at the time.

Bob Miner got the only Newton goal in the last minute of the same middle period. Forced into the boards by Rotundi, he let go a pass-out in the general direction of the goal, and Birdsell was annoyed to have it dribble past him into the scoring area.

Newton staged the power play in the last period, trying desperately for the goal that would keep them in the league title race, but Melrose profited, Sullivan passing to Smith for a third goal at 7:26, after outskating the Newton forwards on a jump.

Newton has a slight chance of making the league playoffs, which will include the top four teams in the league. With three teams yet to play, Stoneham, Cambridge Latin and Belmont, Ernie MacLeod and his cohorts have a very tough assignment, and must win all three, including the Stoneham game, in order to be in there at the finish.

And since Stoneham has won every game and yielded only four goals in as many games, the outlook is bleak.

NEWTON QUINTET WINS
FIRST TWO GAMES

The Newton High School basketball five has opened its season with two victories. A week ago today Coach Frank Simmons took his squad to Watertown where the Newton five won a 17-16 decision. On Wednesday day the first home game was staged with Winchester High the victim by a 33 to 30 count.

At Watertown the inexperienced local quintet had a five point lead in the closing minutes of the game but saw it reduced to the final one point margin as time expired. LeSourd, Newton right forward, was the high scorer of the game with five goals from the floor. Captain Al Smith who played at left forward and left guard tossed in three free tries while Jimmy Johnston, substitute left forward scored twice from the floor for the remaining points. Lynch and Gruber at center and Savignano at right guard were the other Newton players.

Captain Smith was the high scorer against Winchester tallying twelve points while playing forward and guard. Johnston followed on his heels with 10 counters taking over the forward berth when Smith moved to a guard position. LeSourd tallied seven points, Savignano two and Rich at centre two. Gruber also played at centre and guard with DeSantis relieving Savignano shortly before the game ended.

Newton has an edge of five points in the running events, outside the relay, but the margin necessary for a decisive walkover was gained in the three held events, where Newton yielded only two points in twenty-seven to the invaders. Ray Huling and Paul Forte were one-two in the broad jump, doing 9 ft. 1.2 in and 9 ft. 8 in, respectively without greatly extending themselves, while Ed Springer of Everett did 9 ft. 6 in for third. Another Newton entry, Massell, was just out of the money with a leap of 9 ft. 5.2 in. The showing made in this event was seen as a great boost for Newton's chances in open interscholastic competition.

Sophomores Mark Messier and Phil Kyle outjumped Springer of Everett in the high jump, going over the bar at 5 ft. 7 in., and both appeared capable of further height. Nathaniel Heard, the boy who played second fiddle to Mel Swig in the shotput last year, showed real improvement by putting the ball 47 ft. 9.2 in. to win, while

NEWTON TRACKSTERS
TROUNCE EVERETT

Newton High got off to a great start yesterday as the indoor track season opened, defeating Everett High 55-22 on the board oval of the drill shed track in Newtonville. Everett's best showing came in the dash, 600 and 1000-yard runs, in which they tallied 19 points out of a possible 27, while Newton athletes scored 42 out of 45 points in their five strong events, besides winning the relay with the second-best combination available.

The failure of Newton's young sprint trio to score against Everett was the only real setback given the orange and black. The Newton entries, Paul Forte, Frank Hines and Don Hooper, were starting their first meet, and showed need of a little development before they will cut into the scoring. Everett swept the 40-yard dash final, with State Champion Al Romboli, Mascianica and Pantroy in 3 4/5ths.

Co-Captains Warren Wittens and Ray Huling had the 40-yard hurdles all to themselves, and made a great race of it. Huling showed considerable improvement over his form of last year, and was right with Wittens at the finish, while Paul Dussossoit took third place. The time was 3 4/5ths.

Wittens ran the fastest heat in the 300-yard run, 35 3/5 seconds, and Bob Mather took second ahead of Romboli and Lahoy. Everett's best, who ran the identical time on the watches, Everett had the satisfaction of taking both long runs, as state champion Frank Mascianica took the 600 in 1:28 2/5s, and Larry Piscione ran away with the 1000-yard run in 2m. 38s.

Newton boys took place and show points in both events, Mark Cortell and Jeremiah Allen in the 600, Dave Irwin and Al Parkhurst in the 1000.

Day Jr. High School

At the assembly last Friday Professor Leon Campbell of Harvard University addressed the school on the premise that there is and can be no life as we know it on the other planets. Professor Campbell was introduced by the leader of the assembly, Carolyn Peterson. Joseph McGrath contributed a New Year's poem which urged all to turn over a new leaf. Joan read a selection from Kate Douglas Wiggin's "The Bird's Christmas Carol" at the Christmas assembly, December 20. Donald Koughan, Jimmy Davis, Phillip Scanlon, Bill Thompson, and Charles Paige also took part in the Christmas assembly, acting in the French folk song, "St. Nicholas," in pantomime. French, Bohemian, and German carols were sung by members of IG and II I. Curtis Drury was chairman of the assembly, and Ratchell Milder stage manager of "St. Nicholas."

The officers of the Red Cross Home Nursing Club are: president, Edith Reynolds; vice-president, Claire Haloran; secretary, Barbara Keller; Frances Lombard is president of the Hobby Club, Shirley McDuff vice-president, Eileen Dunbar secretary, and Althea Brownville, treasurer. Sheldon Martines is president of the Chef's Club, Scott Doten, vice-president, Robert Murphy, secretary, and Donald Holmes, treasurer.

The library mascot, Primo, is longing for another Christmas, not because Santa wasn't generous but because he likes company, and practically the whole school came in at one time or another to survey his lotions and gadgets. Not the least of these was a beautiful perch, a veritable Beautyrest couch at night and a firm, claw-fitting support in the daytime. Primo's songs are now reaching new heights, as his satisfaction with life at the Day increases.

The school extends a cordial welcome to Mrs. Holmes, who is substituting for Miss Doran during the rest of the year. Mrs. Holmes substituted for Miss Wilson last year, so it is with the sincerest pleasure that she is welcomed back to the Day.

Weeks Jr. High

The assembly program on Friday, Dec. 13, was planned to give the student body a definite idea of how the "Newton School Days" broadcasts are conducted in the studios of WBZ. Kendall Fisher explained that the program would also show the work of the clubs that are new to the school this year. Scene I showed a rehearsal in the studio, while scene II gave a demonstration of the actual broadcast. Robert Nichols acted as station announcer, and Joe Tobin, as master of ceremonies for the program, gave a talk on the "Purpose of Clubs," following which Vincent Manchester told of the Chief Club as John MacDonald and James Wharton gave a demonstration on how to make biscuits. Two selections were rendered by the Harmonica Club, led by Henry de Ruscha. Doris DeVarennes next spoke on the Modern Dance Club, and Ruth Culin and Jean Jewett demonstrated the Sailor Dance, played by Mrs. Dinamon. Mary Burns explained the work done in the Home Nursing Club, and Donald Manning, that of the Projectors Club. The theme song of the program, "School Days," was played by the school orchestra. To conclude the program, the entire school joined in the singing of some Christmas carols.

The members of the Harmonica Club who took part were: Howard Houghton, Leonard Schiavone, Stanley Eilenberg, John Kroniliss, Edward Murphy, George Tucker, William Murphy, Calvert Stanley, John McDonald, Richard Cotter and Donald Thomas.

"The Jack and Jill Players," a seventh grade dramatic club directed by Miss Chandonnet, presented "Christopher's Orphans," a Christmas play by Jean Lee Latham, at the December 20 assembly. The cast included Elliot Mover, Constance Quint, Rosalyn Santer, Arthur Pearson, Harold Vlass, Jeanno Doyle, Frances Duffy, Edna Lees, Barbara Ulin, Ruf-sell Fleming, Gertrude McCabe, Elizabeth Allyn, Mary White, Esther Saxe, Marcia Basch, Sarah Cohen, Marion Card, and Laura Bannon.

The January 3rd assembly was sponsored by the Eighth and Ninth Grade Sports Clubs. The program consisted of an exhibition of tumbling. A paper read by Gordon Goodhand on the "History and Development of Basketball," school cheers led by Carol Tibbott, and acrobatic formations. During the program Mr. Parker directed some choral singing by the entire school, and the band played "Spanish Serenade."

The campaign for class officers in the eighth grade is getting under way. Parties and platforms are being organized for the rallies and election which will take place in the very near future.

The next meeting of the Weeks Parent-Teacher Association will be held on Wednesday, January 22, at eight o'clock, when Mr. Paul Ellicker, principal of Newton High School, will speak on "Some New Trends in College Admission."

Heavy Trucks Off Watertown Street

Yesterday the Newton Street Department placed signs on Watertown st. at Nonantum, Newtonville and West Newton warning that trucks over 2½ tons capacity will not be permitted to travel on that street during night and early morning hours. Recently the Newton Board of Aldermen amended the traffic ordinances so that this restriction was authorized. The State Department of Public Works placed its approval on the ordinance. It is expected that it will take a few nights to have the truck drivers become cognizant of the new rule.

The will of Mrs. Florence Farnsworth of Brookline was filed for probate at Dedham yesterday. Her estate was valued at $350,000. Among the bequests were $12,500 each to Mr. and Mrs. Harry F. Hartwell of Walnut Park, Newton; and $15,000 to F. Louise Harding of Auburndale ave., Auburndale.

Arrest Tourists Riding Rods Under Engine

The special providence that God is said to manifest frequently over drunks was evidenced when the midnight express from Boston to New York arrived at Newtonville shortly after midnight Wednesday morning. Two Roxbury residents were removed from under the boiler of the big locomotive by a squad of police under Serg. Bannon. The pair, well under the influence of liquor, had departed from Boston on the fast express for New York, and not having any money to pay their fares, selected to ride, of all places, on the rods between the big driving wheels of the locomotive. Fortunately they were observed as the train was easing out of the Back Bay and Newton police were notified. The "de luxe" travelers had managed to hang on until the train arrived at Newtonville, but it would have been a miracle if they could have clung to their precarious berths until the locomotive arrived at Worcester.

Pulled out by the police, they were placed under arrest for drunkenness and evading railroad fares. They gave fictitious names and addresses, but after fingerprinting the two, they were identified as James V. Carr of Thwing st., Roxbury, and John MacCalder of Columbus ave., Roxbury. Both had records of convictions for drunkenness and other misdemeanors. They were arraigned in the Newton court on Wednesday. MacCalder was sentenced to 30 days in Bellerica prison. Carr, who was on parole from Bridgewater State Farm, was sent back to that institution.

A Lecture on Christian Science

Entitled
Christian Science: The Law of God Applied to Human Affairs

By Louise Knight Wheatley Cook, C.S.B., of Kansas City, Missouri

Member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts

A lecture on Christian Science was given to the usual overflow audience in the edifice of First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Newton, Friday evening, January 3rd. The lecturer, Mrs. Louise Knight Wheatley Cook, of Kansas City, Missouri, was introduced by the First Reader, Mr. William E. McKee, as follows:

Friends: It is a great pleasure to welcome you all here this evening. It is most inspiring to see so many seeking good—a better understanding of God and man's relation to Him.

To those who are attending their first Christian Science lecture, we extend an especial welcome. You may expect to receive the help, encouragement and blessing which thousands of others have received heretofore as a result of their introduction to Christian Science through a lecture.

And those of us who are not first-timers, let us hark back to the time when we first began to seek and find in Christian Science the truth taught by Christ Jesus and revealed to us in this age by Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science. Let us remember that blessing—that comfort and joy that came to us during our attendance at a Christian Science lecture or a Christian Science church service, after which we walked out healed of some malady, fear or trouble, and rejoicing in the fact that we had found a religion, a practical religion, which answered our questions, healed our diseases, and revealed God to us as our Father-Mother who holds His children in His omnipotent care.

So, let us listen this evening with expectancy and faith that God's promises to His children are true and must be fulfilled. Mrs. Eddy says in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," page 426, "Expectation speeds our progress."

Our lecturer is a member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts. She has proved in her own life and in the healing of others, that the teachings of Christian Science are true and practical.

Her subject is
"Christian Science: The Law of God Applied to Human Affairs."

This lecture will be published in full in two of our local newspapers—The Newton Graphic and The Town Crier. It is a great pleasure to present our lecturer, Mrs. Louise Knight Wheatley Cook, of Kansas City, Missouri.

Mrs. Cook

The lecture follows:

Many centuries ago, a man stood in the midst of Mars Hill and gave to the people of his time a reason for the hope that was in him. From Paul's day to this, it has always been accounted a joyous privilege to speak in behalf of what one knows to be true. Faith, or blind belief, may be shaken; but when one has actually felt the healing and transforming touch of Christian Science he can never again doubt. He says, "I know, I know that my redeemer liveth," because that saving and redeeming power has already been made manifest in his own individual experience.

There are doubtless many here tonight who could tell of the blessings which have come into their lives through Christian Science. I am glad that they are here. But I am equally glad to feel that there are some others also who may, as yet, know very little about it. I hope there are some with us who are attending a Christian Science lecture for the first time. If there be but one such present, to that one I speak, well knowing what this brief hour may mean to him if his thought be open and receptive to the truth of Christian Science.

In these strange, difficult days of the world's unrest, it is not entirely wrong while to know of a system of thinking which is not only a religion, but an exact science, capable of demonstration? Christian Science challenges fear, failure, doubt, distress of any kind by affording a practical and workable understanding of the changeless law of God. Let us have done with negative thinking. The world for too long has been looking at the wrong side of the ledger. One may hold a penny so close to his eyes that he can see nothing beyond it. And there is so much "beyond" of beauty and happiness and success! There is a way out of every human difficulty, no matter how hopeless it may appear to be, a right way, a quiet way, a way which will bless all concerned, the sort of way of which the prophet once wrote, "For ye shall go out with joy, and be led forth with peace."

In quoting from Isaiah I am reminded to say what doubtless most of you already know, that Christian Science derives its sanction from the Bible. Our textbook is named, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," and it was written by Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, and its only Leader. One of the religious tenets of Christian Science, to which all members of the church subscribe, reads as follows, in Science and Health (p. 497): "As adherents of Truth, we take the inspired Word of the Bible as our sufficient guide to eternal life." That ought to silence the thought that Christian Scientists do not read the Bible, as has been said. On the contrary, they read and study it daily. To them it is still the Book of books, and no book can ever supersede it.

It was when studying this book that Mrs. Eddy's own healing came about. After reading some passages from Matthew's Gospel, and applying them to her own case, she was able to heal herself of an injury caused by an accident, pronounced fatal by the physicians. She literally "rose and walked," to the astonishment of all beholders. But this was not enough. She must help other sufferers also to find their freedom. So she spent three years in studying the Bible and searching for the solution of this problem of Mind-healing, proving it over and over again, until at last she was ready to embody the results of her investigations in the book just mentioned.

And then?—I often think of those early days, when there was just one Christian Scientist on earth, when Mrs. Eddy stood alone with God, triumphant over "the slings and arrows of outrageous fortune," untouched by the gibes and jeers of those who did not understand. Her first happy confidence that the world would rejoice to know of her discovery, and hasten to accept it, was found to be misplaced. The churches coldly closed their doors upon her—and her first joyous confidence that the world would rejoice to know of her discovery, and hasten to accept it, was found to be misplaced. The churches coldly closed their doors upon her—and her first joyous confidence that the world would rejoice to know of her discovery, and hasten to accept it, was found to be misplaced.

We love Mrs. Eddy, but we do not worship her. And why should we not love her? Have you ever seen her birthplace, or pictures of it? It is just a typical New England farmhouse of the better sort, quite away from the beaten road, with only grass-grown wagon-tracks leading past the door. Not many travelers, it would seem, were wont to pass that way. Yet in the interval between that time and this, millions of feet, figuratively speaking, tread weary feet, have worn a pathway to her door. Today the church she founded, The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts, has an edifice capable of seating five thousand persons, while its many branches, of which this is one, extend not only throughout this country, but to foreign lands as well. When something of this sort happens, when from so humble and unostentatious a beginning a Cause can steadily grow for seventy years, and can continue to grow, in the face of all opposition, it is time for every intelligent person to ask himself, Why? There must be a reason.

This book which I hold in my hand is the reason. Jesus said, "My words shall not pass away," and they have not. How well his early followers understood them is proved by the fact that for three hundred years after he left the earth they healed the sick and raised the dead. The secular historian Josephus, mentions this as a fact, and it was evidently regarded as a perfectly natural and inevitable part of their religion. After a while, however, various disintegrating elements crept in, as it grew and became "popular," until finally the primitive purity of those early teachings was lost. Gradually the healing elements fell into disuse. Then came that period in the world's history rightly called the Dark Ages, and in these centuries of dense materiality the pure words of Jesus, the Christ, were largely forgotten. It would almost seem that they were gone forever, but there they lay, unseen, yet still vibrant and untouched, still waiting until human hearts should once more be ready to receive them. And then—woman came, and they are now such form that they can never again be lost.

Some very good and conscientious persons, however, may hesitate to read this book, Science and Health, because they have been told that it denies the divinity of Christ. That is not true. We do not deny the divinity of the Christ, and we love and revere Jesus even more than do some others, for we believe in keeping all of his commands, and not just a part. When we read those who believed on him to "preach the gospel" and "heal the sick" we believe that he meant just what he said. The churches preach the gospel, yes. But when asked why they do not heal the sick the reply often is, because they feel that this command was intended only for his immediate disciples, and for the age in which he lived. If so, why did he say, "These signs shall follow them that believe; they shall lay hands on the sick, and they shall recover?" "Them" that believe. He did not say "you" who believe. He knew that anyone, at any time, in any age, who really understood his sayings could make them provable and practical, just as he did. God would not be God, were this otherwise. When he would not be Love, the faithful, tender, and true, were He to make relief from pain and misery possible only to a few favored ones, two thousand years ago, and then—never again. That would impugn our sense of even human justice. Man is made free today, as in Jesus' time, from any erroneous condition which may prevent itself, whether it be the healing of a sick body, a sick mind, a sick business, or a sin-sick, homesick, heartsick human being.

All the works of our Master were founded upon a spiritual law which is as applicable now as it was then, for real law, God's law, does not change with the passing of the centuries. Let us suppose that I am holding something in my hand—let us say, a pencil. If I drop this pencil it will go down. No one expects to see it go up. That is because we all believe in something we call "gravitation." Although the views of physical scientists regarding this have undergone some changes of late, it existed as a so-called law in Jesus' time, and in the time of Moses, in fact, since the beginning of time, although not so generally understood. But the only law which Jesus acknowledged was true spiritual law, God's law. This real law was the basis of his many mighty works which he confidently promised would be repeated and even greater works than his, when this changeless law of God should become more universally accepted, and utilized.

"God is no respecter of persons" and neither is the law of gravitation. If I drop this pencil, it immediately goes down. If anyone drops a pencil, it immediately goes down. And may I add, it requires no assistance from us! One does not have to push the pencil. He has only to release it. That is a point most important to remember, for the trouble with most of us is that we will not seem to "let go" of those false beliefs and theories which are so directly responsible for our difficulties. There is a law of God just as ready to operate, and just as instantly available as is the so-called law of gravitation, but if we continue to cling to our troubles, still holding them fast in clenched, frightened fingers, how can interrupt the ceaseless ebb and flow of the ocean's tide, nor prevent the perpetual recurrence of springtime.

Before such proofs of an intelligence which does govern and control all this, the so-called godless man must bow in silent acquiescence. He may call it "nature," and "law," but we call it God.

The Christian Science textbook (p. 587) defines God as "the great I Am; the all-knowing, all-seeing, all-acting, all-wise, all-loving, and eternal; Principle; Mind; Soul; Spirit; Life; Truth; Love; all substance; intelligence." To this God we turn rejoicingly, knowing that He is not far off, in some vague, distant heaven, shrouded in mystery and dogma, but here and near, tender, loving, merciful, compassionate, bestowing "beauty for ashes, the oil of joy for mourning, the garment of praise for the spirit of heaviness."

That which is called a Christian Science treatment is the law of God applied to any particular case. It releases, or "saves," us from all that is unlike God, thereby establishing our salvation, not deferred to some future time and to some so-called future world, but immediately, here and now. It includes a grateful acknowledgment of the good already received, a denial of whatever erroneous belief may be presenting itself for correction, and the establishing in consciousness of the great spiritual fact that since God and man are inseparable as Principle and Idea, man can see only what God sees, and can know only what God knows; and that God's knowledge does not include such dark shadows as sin, sickness, and death. It declares that there is but one consciousness, the God-consciousness, the Truth-consciousness, the Christ-consciousness, and that, in reality, is your consciousness, and mine; for there is no other. Into this purified consciousness nothing can enter "that defileth," or maketh a man unclean, or a Christian Science treatment proves, or "demonstrates" this, by casting out any claim of error to presence and power. It is the coming of the Christ.

"But," someone may be thinking, "that does not sound very reasonable to me. We all know that we are living in the midst of trouble. We see it on every side. Do you just close your eyes to everything that is wrong, and deny that it exists?" We deny that it exists as a reality, but we do not deny that it seems very real to frightened human sense, and so our work, our prayer, or process of salvation, our treatment, is to correct that frightened human sense through a better understanding of God, and of man's relationship to Him, to that Love which knows no evil. "Now, right there!" says our friend, the previous speaker, "you seem to be contradicting yourself. You say that God does not know evil?" No. "Nor sickness?" No. "Nor sin?" No. "Indeed, 'Then how can He heal what He does not know? How can He heal my rheumatism, for instance, if He does not know that I have any?' I should not think that even God could do that."

I shall answer that question by a metaphor. Suppose the sun could speak. It might say, "What is darkness? I never saw any. What is night? I never saw night. I do not know anything about it." That is true. The sun never saw night, does not know anything about night, and yet it destroys it every twenty-four hours. Light never knows darkness, can never know darkness, for where light is, there is no darkness. The sun does not have to know about darkness in order to destroy it. It has only to shine. The instant the sun comes, darkness vanishes. Darkness is not a real entity. It is just the absence of light. It has no power of resistance. It cannot fight back, because it is nothing at any time but the absence of something else. The only thing it can ever do is just to disappear. So it is with sickness, sin, sorrow, poverty, fear, suffering,—that rheumatism, for instance.

Copies of the Christian Science Lecture in this issue may be obtained at the Newton Graphic Office, 11 Centre Ave., Newton, Mass. Tel. New. No. 4354.

When the sunlight of Truth is brought to bear upon them, Truth destroys them by reason of its own Allness, filling all space, and consequently leaving no place nor opportunity for evil of any sort.

"But," someone else may be thinking, — perhaps the one who is here for the first time, — "I wish I knew just how it works. You say that there is a law of God operating in my life, half, available at any time, if I will do my part. Now, just what is this law of God, and how does it work?" That is all fully explained in Science and Health; but to answer briefly here I will say that it "works" from the basis of a perfect God, a perfect man, and a perfect universe, as recorded in the Bible, in the first chapter of Genesis.

This chapter, as you know, contains the account of creation, and from it as a premise we draw our conclusions as accurately as a mathematician demonstrates his problem in geometry. Since God made all that was made, and since God is Spirit, as the Bible declares, it follows that His creation must have been, and is, spiritual. All was finished. It was perfect and complete, and then God "rested" from His work.

Christian Science maintains that in his heart because no one seemed to make any effort to assist him. But Truth does not compel us to wait for somebody, somewhere, to do something before we can be healed. That is not God's way. The exact nature of the mist, we do not know, but the pure, spiritual vision of the Master saw through it in an instant. There was not even any period of so-called convalescence. Did you ever think of that? No waiting for weak and unused muscles to regain their strength. The mist had so completely vanished that not even the memory of it remained. Although for thirty and eight years he had believed that he could not move, he was able, at the Christ-command, not only to rise, but to pick up his bed, and walk away with it! Are we not glad and thankful that this same law of God exists today!

The dictionaries define "law" as "a rule of action made by a power capable of enforcing it." Law, then, is not law at all, unless there is power back of it. For instance, suppose some chilling, dry playing on the sidewalk should decide among themselves that anyone passing by who might happen to step on a crack in the pavement would have to pay them a penny. Would that be law? Of course not. They might ask for their penny, and some good-natured pedestrian might toss them one, in remembrance of his own boyhood days, but could they compel him to do so? But how about the traffic policeman? There he stands, in the midst of what seems to be a hopeless tangle of vehicles, and gives his orders. And do the drivers obey him? They certainly do! He controls the situation, not by reason of any power resident in himself, but because he represents the majesty of the law. Disobedience to that wretched hand, as it goes up or down, may lead to most unpleasant consequences, and they all know it.

In like manner does a Christian Science treatment operate. It speaks with authority, for back of it is the whole of omnipotence. This treatment, this saving law of God, specifically applied, carries with it its own irresistible impulsion. The trouble is that mortals sometimes believe something to be law which is not law at all, but merely a man-made or a man-projected theory. Still, if one believes in a false law, he may suffer from its effects just as much as if it really were a law, not realizing that he has a right to rebel against it. To return a moment to our illustration: if the children playing on the sidewalk should happen to find someone perhaps newly arrived in our country, who could not yet speak our language, and so did not understand what was going on, they might extort from him the coveted penny. But he would only be paying tribute to his own ignorance. So it is with us, sometimes. We obey a false law, not by reason of any power inherent in the law itself, but because we do not know any better.

Oh, those pennies which we pay, day after day, and year after year, under the mistaken conviction that we must! Thousands of millions are toiling along life's road today, bearing burdens more crushing than any ever laid upon the shoulders of a helpless people by a relentless Pharaoh. To cite just one example — and we all know of many others. There is a so-called law named "heredity," claiming that certain characteristics (usually undesirable ones), may be transmitted from one generation to another. Most of the world accepts this as law, and yet was there ever anything more cruel and unjust, that a little child should be compelled to suffer for another's sin or mistake? It is inhuman and repellent, and yet the very ones who love that child the best are usually the first to fasten about his neck this yoke of bondage.

Christian Science challenges all such conclusions. It says (Science and Health, p. 227), "Citizens of the world, accept the 'glorious liberty of the children of God,' and be free! This is your divine right." Because someone, somewhere, thirty or sixty or a hundred years ago was addicted to drink, or was a business failure, or had a bad temper or a poor digestion, do we have to have them, too? No. God's law is a law of Love, and of justice. It says that mortals can pay no penalty except for their own wrongdoing, and that even that penalty ceases as soon as the sin ceases. It says that there can be no dangerous inheritances, since God is the Father and Mother of all. It says that the real man is never overcome

Rotary Club

Last Monday the Newton Rotarians turned aside from the long run of serious talks that have characterized recent meetings and spent a half-hour of pure diversion and recreation listening to John J. Cronan as he sketched the boyhood and youth of Mark Twain and then shared with the audience a delightful Irish Christmas story. Mr. Cronan is a story-teller by trade and is on the staffs of the Boston Public Library and the Newton Free Library. He spends his time arousing and stimulating an interest in good books by visiting schools, settlement houses, and clubs and giving his auditors the opening chapters of books in which they would be interested. Whether in school or among adults, Mr. Cronan is remarkably successful in taking his hearers right out of their surroundings and themselves and transporting them body and soul into whatever realm of fact or fancy he may be portraying at the moment.

On Wednesday, January 22nd, the Newton Rotary Club is host for the mid-year assembly of the officers and committee chairmen of all clubs in the 31st district. Henry P. fact, so quietly and naturally did the answer come, that he hardly knew it was there at all until he saw it shining out in his experience, a thing of joy and beauty.

God is so good! What is it which ever keeps any of us from demonstrating more of this goodness in our own individual experience? It is our failure to lift our heads above the mist, and remember who we are—the man who has dominion over all things. No matter how hopeless any outward situation may seem to be, keep on singing your songs in the night, and trusting God. Never admit defeat. Never admit failure. There are no failures in God's universe. You are not a failure, nor have been a failure, nor are going to be a failure. That is not the truth about you. You are the child of God, free to walk the heavenly way, unhampered—and unafraid.

Market reports may all humanity with grief, business may disintegrate, human enterprises fail, established precedents come to naught, thrones alter, governments change hands overnight, but the true Christian Scientist is at peace. For he knows that "behind the dim unknown, Standeth God within the shadow, keeping watch above His own."

Conflicting interests may rage between men and nations, and threaten to engulf the world once more into darkness and despair, but above "the turbulent and the shouting" the light of Truth, like some clear star, shines on—and on.

Just one more word. Do you remember how the disciples once rowed all night, but "the wind was contrary," and they did not get anywhere? And how their little boat kept tossing, tossing on the waves, and he was not there, and they did not know where he was, and everything seemed to be going wrong? Perhaps that describes the way some of us have felt during the past year, when we rowed and rowed, and could not seem to make any progress. There was always that "contrary wind," and the harder we tried, the more it seemed to blow us back. But, listen! "In the fourth watch of the night Jesus went unto them, walking on the sea." "The fourth watch." Do you know what time that was? "The fourth watch" was the hour just before dawn, the proverbial "darkest hour." When the night was darkest, and their hope almost gone, the dear Christ came.

Truth is still with us, to give us strength and courage to keep on, and to bring us safely into the haven where we would be. Awake to reality! It is all here, every blessing from the hand of infinite Love—happiness, success, abundance, completeness, freedom, health, home, heaven, every good and perfect gift,—all ours. All here. Now. Just waiting. We have only to see it. "I ask no heaven-dropping manna, Lord, No special dispensation from the skies; Already wonders compass me around, Already heaven all about me lies. Open my eyes!"

Modern Theatre To Be Topic

"The Art of the Modern Theatre" will be the subject of the illustrated lecture to be given by Mr. Frank W. C. Hersey at the meeting of the Community Service Club of West Newton, at 2 o'clock, on Wednesday, January 15th, at the Unitarian Church. Mr. Hersey was graduated from Harvard, magna cum laude; taught four years at Brown University; and is now instructor in English at Harvard. His work has brought him into contact with Herbert Tree, Forbes Robertson, David Belasco, and other actors and managers, and with this background he gives a most entertaining talk on a subject of great interest.

The Food Sale to be held before the meeting will be in charge of Mrs. Leon W. Stetson.

Mrs. Ernest Angvine and her committee will serve tea.

Information On World Events

Mrs. Frank Mansfield Taylor will conduct the second lecture in her series entitled "Let's Look at the World," at the Newtonville Woman's Club House, on Wednesday, January 15th, at 10:30 a. m. In her interpretations and summaries of the day's happenings, Mrs. Taylor's talks are full of interest, as well as impartial, and highly informative concerning the evolution of world events. The lectures are open to the public. Club tickets admit members; an admission fee is charged for non-members.

Mrs. Howard M. Waybright will meet her committee at the Hospital on January 16th, at 11 o'clock, for a Day of Sewing. Any interested Club members are invited to join this group.

Dr. Kirtley Mather gave a most interesting lecture on "The Pattern of Life in This Age of Science," at the regular meeting of the Newtonville Woman's Club on January 7th.

Mrs. John F. Capron, director of the Twelfth District, was the guest of honor.

Miss Harriet L. Parsons, general secretary of the Newton Welfare Bureau, made an appeal for clothing, especially for children. Miss Parsons told the Club that there are fifty children unable to go to school because they have not the proper clothing.

The hostesses for the Dessert-Coffee were Mrs. Arthur D. Quimby, Mrs. Theodore M. Reed, and Mrs. Arthur H. Burdick. Mrs. Carl Hudson, Mrs. Robert C. Brigham, and Mrs. Ernest L. Nichols were the sponsors.

Mrs. Harriet L. Parsons, president of the Club, was one of the club presidents to speak at the State Federation Club Institutes on January 2d. Her paper was entitled "How We Spend Our Club Income and Extra Earnings."

Timely Lecture On Mountain Camps Appeals

The Garden and Conservation committee of the Newton Centre Woman's Club will offer a lecture by Percy Brigham on "Mountain Camps and Tramps in Winter," on Monday, January 13th, at 8 p. m., at the Club House.

Mrs. Brigham is head of the department of Manual Art in the Brighton High School, and is a member of the Field and Forest Club.

Club members will be admitted by membership tickets, and guests for 25 cents. This lecture will be of special interest to those who indulge in these activities, and to men and boys who have had camping experiences, or who would like to have them.

Mrs. Frank Mansfield Taylor will talk on Current Events on Thursday, January 16th, at 10 a. m., at the Newton Centre Woman's Club, bringing timely world information in a nutshell, so helpful to busy people.

The Literature committee will offer an evening lecture by Dr. Miriam Skirball on the same date, Thursday, January 16th, at 8 p. m., at the Club House, when Dr. Skirball will review "Seven Pillars of Wisdom," by T. E. Lawrence. The entire proceeds of the lecture will be given to the Club treasury. Admission is 50 cents.

"Antiques and How to Know Them" is the subject of Mrs. John Matsen's Talk on Friday, January 17th, at 2:30 p. m. This Talk is the first of a series sponsored by the Antique and American Home committees. Mrs. Matsen will wear Colonial costumes, and she will set the stage with furniture from her own collection.

Two other Talks in the series will be on Friday, February 28th, when Reverend Lawrence Barber will talk on "Early New England Clocks and Their Makers"; and one on March 27th, when "Hoop Skirts and House Car Days," will be the topic by A. H. Wilson.

Tea will be served and music provided at each lecture. The fee for the series is 75 cents for Club members, and $1.00 for non-members. Single lecture fee is 35 cents to members, and 50 cents to non-members. Tickets are on sale at the Club House or those who desire to order them may call Mrs. Arthur T. Hertig (telephone Centre Newton 4629).

Life Begins At Six A. M.

New Members' Day was the gala event of the season with the Newton Highlands Woman's Club on Tuesday, January 7th, at the Congregational Parish House. At 12:30 o'clock a luncheon-dessert was served to the new members and officers of the Club by Mrs. Walter G. Archibald, hostess. The president, Mrs. Chester W. Tudbury, opened the regular meeting at 2 p. m. with words of greeting to the new members.

Mrs. Lawson W. Oakes announced the dates of Dr. Miriam Skirball's lectures as January 29th, February 26th, and March 25th, all at 10 a. m. Mrs. Louis H. Marshall stated that the Newton Highlands has not fulfilled its privileges in respect to the annual roll call of the Red Cross and that only 27 per cent of the Woman's Club members have enrolled. The 73 per cent that have forgotten were asked to enroll at once.

The chairman of the Art committee, Mrs. Edward D. Wallace, announced a lecture at the Art Museum, Boston, on Tuesday, January 14th, at 10 o'clock, on the subject "Screen Paintings," and that transportation would be furnished to all members desiring to attend the lecture; also the first of Mrs. Caldwell's Classes in Screen Work on Wednesday morning, January 15th, at the Workshop.

All members having antique china or glass were asked to lend them for the Exhibit at the Workshop on January 22nd, and to telephone Mrs. Walter B. Godsoe regarding arrangements.

Mrs. Kenneth J. Waite, accompanied by Harold Schwab, gave four musical numbers.

Cornelia Stratton Parker was introduced by Mrs. Tudbury not as the famous lecturer and author but as the mother we love best. Mrs. Parker gave the reason for the title of the lecture "Life Begins at Six A. M.," as Houghton Mifflin's request for something of about five hundred words similar to "Life Begins at Forty," and its philosophy was "yesterday has gone forever, tomorrow never comes, all we have for life is today." When a person gets up in the morning at 6, 7 or 8 o'clock," said Mrs. Parker, "they are faced with the choice of what I will do this or that. If they can conquer fear of anything new or untried, timidity concerning their ability and their meekdom complex, the World will be their half way. Swing the World by the tail, and plunk it down so to get an idea of what constitutes a good life, out of living."

To Mrs. Parker the good life includes positive good health, congenial activity, adequate social life (meaning a broad circle of friends from all stations), widening intellectual horizon (including books and adult education), mate, children, and a satisfactory religion and philosophy, and the solution of the problem "Life Begins at Six A. M." is the little word "NOW."

This talented, humorous, and enthusiastic lecturer left with a very appreciative audience of over three hundred women a beautiful philosophy for life.

Art Class Offers Opportunity

The Art committee of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club is presenting a Class in Screen Painting to be taught by Mrs. Alexander G. Caldwell. Mrs. Caldwell will meet those interested in such a Class in the Craft Room of the Club Workshop on Wednesday, January 15th, at 10 a. m., to discuss frames and materials.

As a preliminary to the Class the committee will furnish transportation to the Museum of Fine Arts on January 14th, to a lecture on "Japanese Screen Paintings," by Mrs. Tomita.

Present-Day Financial Problems Discussed

Through the courtesy of the Newton Trust Company, the Waban Woman's Club was privileged to hear Prof. Erwin H. Schell, head of the Department of Business and Engineering Administration at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, at its regular meeting last Monday afternoon, January 6th.

Prof. Schell outlined the economic conditions existing during and since the war period as two great vacillations, one upward, the other downward. During the war period business felt it must produce at any cost, while since then it has been a matter of cost, regardless of production. In that earlier period there was a strong appeal to the moral and spiritual forces, while, since, the trend has been entirely economic.

During these years of depression, or "weary years," business men have been distraught, but have come through in better physical condition, according to medical directors. Man, through the ages, has been a struggling creature, happiest when in that state, and he flourishes under such conditions.

Prof. Schell stated that the question, "Does business life tend to weaken or strengthen family life?" was a very important one for women to consider, and he pointed out ways in which women could aid men's business by the maintenance of standards, especially in times of stress, and by providing recreation in the home which should be re-creational.

Mid-Winter Board Meeting Promises Interest

Women from every State in the Union and from several foreign countries will gather in Washington, D. C., this next week for the Mid-Winter meeting of the Board of Directors of the General Federation of Women's Clubs. Mrs. Roberta Campbell Lawson, president, and the chairman of the nine departments of work, will outline their programs for the coming three years. "Education for Living," the keynote of this administration of the Federation, will be emphasized in these program outlines and in the addresses which will be given by nationally-known women and men.

United States Surgeon-General Hugh S. Cumming; the Honorable Wesley E. Disney, United States Representative from Oklahoma; Colonel John Monroe Johnson, Assistant Secretary of Commerce; and Mr. Kermit Roosevelt, vice-president of the United States Lines, are among those who will address the Board. Representative Disney will discuss the bill which he introduced at the last session of Congress, providing for the establishment of a National Academy of Public Affairs, this proposed legislation being in line with the educational program of the General Federation. Colonel Johnson and Mr. Roosevelt will speak on the American Merchant Marine, while Surgeon-General Cumming will discuss Public Health problems.

Other speakers will include Mrs. Ellen S. Woodward, assistant administrator of the Federal Emergency Relief Administration and the Works Progress Administration, who will tell what women in these Administrations are really doing; Miss Bertha Neiburg, assistant director of the Women's Bureau of the Department of Labor, whose subject will be the Economic Problems Confronting Women with which the Bureau is coping; and Mrs. William Brown Meloney, editor of "This Week," and presiding genius of the New York Herald Tribune's annual Forum on Current Problems, who will be presented by the Federation's Department of Press and Publicity. Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole, former president of the Federation, and now vice-chairman of the department of International Relations, will discuss some current international problems. There will also be two speakers on the question of granting suffrage to residents of the District of Columbia.

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt will receive members of the Board at the White House after the Wednesday afternoon session, and the First Lady will also be the honor guest and principal speaker at a dinner given Friday evening in honor of the Federation's Clubs in foreign lands. The wives of Ambassadors and Ministers from countries in which the Federation has affiliated clubs will bring messages from those clubs, and among those present at the dinner will be Mrs. A. N. Connell, Jr., president of the Federation of American Women's Clubs in Europe; and Mrs. Marie Schandine-Best, former president of the American Women's Club of Berlin. Mrs. Poole and Mrs. Herbert L. French, extension secretary for Inter-militarism is taking the sons of those mothers who believed the World War would end all future conflicts.

Margaret Slattery Talks On Youth

Speaking of America, Miss Slattery referred to the tax burdens which our rising generation will have to face. "We have today a deficit of over 14 billions of dollars and a national debt of over 32 billions. The increase during the past two years has been 11 billions. There are those who say the budget must be balanced before we can hope to regain normal times. There are three ways of doing this. You can balance it by repudiation. You can balance it by inflation and meet hell. Or you can balance it by utter bankruptcy. But we have got to balance the budget, so they say. Do you think we are going to accomplish it in our generation? Upon the shoulders of youth will rest the balancing of the budget, but those who created the circumstances will be beyond activity or will have passed on altogether."

Devoicing the failure of "hard-headed business men" in their attempts to bring this country out of its difficulties, Miss Slattery said, "You hard-headed business men have had your chance and have made a fine mess of running the country; I will never again apologize for my own idealism. I believe we should have a greater measure of free speech and should give more attentive hearing to those favoring newer methods."

"The money tax, however, is as nothing compared with other taxes on youth, such as the tax of confusion. This is a generation in a wilderness of disagreement. Signatures of nations mean nothing today. There was a time when the signature of a nation upon a piece of paper was a sacred bond of honor, not to be broken. When a nation declines in its ethical standards the loss to the morale of its youth is a bitter one."

Committees of Bd. of Aldermen

tee, while rated in the past as one of lesser importance, has become of considerable import in recent years because its duties include among other matters the consideration of gasolining filling station and garage permits. Alderman Colby during his one year on the Board has evidenced a willingness to devote time to the acquiring of detailed information relative to matters coming before him and this is highly desirable in the committee chairmanship to which he has been appointed.

The Legislation Committee is headed this year by Alderman Cronin, who succeeds Alderman Greenstein. The new members on this committee are Hill of Ward 2 who replaces Greenstein; and Floyd of Ward 4 who succeeds Gordon. The committee will have before it this year consideration of new Ward lines.

The select committees of the Board are—Mayor's address, Melcher, chairman; Akins, Inches Lyon and Walker. Street Traffic Committee, Goddard, chairman; Guzzi and Schipper. Joint School Buildings, McKay, chairman; Barwise and Melcher. Schipper succeeds Colby as a member of the Street Traffic Committee. Barwise and Melcher replace Akins and Lyon on the Joint School Buildings Committee. As in former years, two of the three members of the Street Traffic Committee are Aldermen whose business keeps them out of Newton days. The contention has been raised heretofore that it would be more practical to appoint to this committee members of the Board whose business or occupation is in Newton, and who therefore have more opportunities to observe traffic conditions here.

1935 Campaign Closing Up
Final details of the 1935 Campaign, involving check-up on all cards, analyses of pledges by classes by villages and all the hundreds of details attendant upon any financial campaign are being finished up. The figure now stands at about $180,000.00 with definite assurance that the balance of $6,347.20 will be raised, making Newton one of the few Chests in the country to raise its goal for 1935 expenses. Full credit is due to the campaign organization of about 2,000 people for this splendid record.

Boy Scouts

Norumbega Council, Boy Scouts of America, will conduct its first Winter Camporee at Nobscot on January 18th and 19th. Several Camporees have been held in the spring and fall but this is the first in a winter month. The object is "To stimulate interest in and develop proficiency in the various phases of Winter Camping technique." One bona fide Patrol from each Troop in the Council is permitted to enter and will be judged on its proficiency in providing proper equipment, in taking care of itself in camp, and in general conduct in accordance with Scout training.

Each entering Patrol will occupy a cabin from Saturday afternoon to Sunday afternoon with proper adult supervision. The Camporee is not planned as a contest but to give the Scouts the opportunity to put into action some of the "book learning" that they have acquired. There will be four main divisions in the judging, namely—Packs, Troops, Equipment and Discipline, and Cooperation. A rating will be awarded to each Patrol according to its proficiency.

The Camporee will be conducted in whatever weather nature provides. The Patrols of the several Troops are busy with planning and practice to make this Winter Camporee long remembered by the boys as a practical demonstration of Scouting.

The Camporee Committee is comprised of Joseph C. Fuller, Chairman, Lawrence Allen, Ralph E. Rice and Samuel P. Allison, Judging Chairman.

Hospital Wants To Build Shelter

The Newton Hospital has filed an application with the Board of Aldermen for a permit to build a shelter on Washington st. in front of the hospital. This shelter would be only 2 feet in from the street line, and as the zoning ordinance specifies a setback of 25 feet, a waiver must be granted before a permit can be given. For sometime there has been a demand for a shelter or waiting room at this locus so that persons waiting for busses may have protection from inclement weather and the cold.

G. E. NEW AMERICAN HOME, WABAN, TO BE OPEN FOR PUBLIC INSPECTION

G. E. NEW AMERICAN HOME OPENS SUNDAY FOR INSPECTION

Public inspection of the General Electric "New American" demonstration home, at 122 Nehoiden road, Waban, one of approximately a thousand that have been under construction all over the United States during recent months, will start Sunday, Jan. 12th it was announced today.

Final construction details and furnishing were completed today by Bradley & Jones, the builders and the house will be open for examination for 30 days. The hours during which the public will be admitted are from 2:00 to 9 p. m.

The opening of the house to the public will coincide with "New American" openings throughout the United States, and will mark the completion of a phase of one of the most ambitious housing programs ever to be undertaken by a single organization.

The architect took every member of the family into consideration and designed the home to fit the New American mode of living. Rooms were provided that would supply privacy not merely for sleeping but for living as well. As a result, the house was designed with what the engineers call "use sequence" in mind. Occupants can accomplish their tasks and get from one room to another in the fewest possible number of steps—there is no "traffic problem" as in many conventional homes. The rooms are exceptionally large for the cubic footage involved. Instead of having the usual 65 to 70 per cent usable space, the new house has as high as 85 per cent.

The "New American" home is as attractive inside as it is outside. Air conditioning, centrally controlled heating, and complete electrical equipment of modern design combine to make the house noteworthy. Many firms participated in equipping and furnishing it. Widespread interest has been shown throughout the construction period and it is expected that hundreds of visitors will see it during the inspection period.

EXPLANATION OF LOCAL NEW AMERICAN HOME

In answer to queries from many local individuals about the features of the "New American" house being constructed in Waban by Bradley & Jones, Builders, Mr. Bradley today outlined briefly the outstanding features of this house being built under the provisions of a sweeping demonstration home-building program.

"While the new home that will be opened here on Sunday, Jan. 12th, will be one of very definite design," he declared, "the term 'New American' refers not to a form of fabrication, to any external style, or to any formal characteristic. It means, instead, a new style of living based on a scientific study of the needs of the average family. The homes that are being built throughout the United States as part of the demonstration program vary widely in appearance, but they all have certain things in common. All of them, for instance, have been planned from the inside out, with the first thoughts of the architect and builder being given to living comfortably, healthfully and conveniently.

"These houses are built for living and bringing up a family. The waste space of the conventional house has been largely eliminated. Windows have been made as large as necessary to afford plenty of light, rooms have been planned and laid out in the order of their use, kitchen and laundry equipment is being installed in its use-sequence, every provision is being made for outdoor living when weather permits. These are the things that constitute a 'New American' home—not any one architectural style."

Referring more specifically to the house under construction on Nehoiden rd., Mr. Bradley said that it was a home designed by Edmund I. Leeds, architect, and modified to fit local conditions. Its electrical equipment will include an electric kitchen, scientific lighting and wiring, and air conditioning. The house itself presents the interesting texture of cinder units, developed in a random pattern employing five different sizes of blocks, the whole tinted a buff color with variegated effect. Stability and integrity with grace and beauty are typified by this method of building with concrete. They are in truth "Walls that whisper happy living."

G. E. NEW AMERICAN HOME WAS BUILT FOR NEWTON MAN

Mr. James T. Trefrey is the owner of the new Waban home. Mr. Trefrey lived in Newton from 1913 to 1931 when his business necessitated his moving to New York where he resided until the spring of 1935. Since then he has made his residence at 130 Nehoiden road, Waban.

Mr. Trefrey is a member of the firm Tripp and Trefrey, managers of the Fidelity Mutual Life Insurance Co. This firm maintains offices at 10 Post Office Square, Boston.

The house will be open for public inspection for a period of 30 days, after which it will be occupied by the owner.

PLUMBING INSTALLED BY R. G. WAMBOLDT

The plumbing contract was awarded to R. G. Wamboldt of Waltham.

During a period of 5 years Mr. Wamboldt's business has grown from a "one man and a helper" outfit to such proportions that he now requires the services of 8 to 10 men the year round.

Mr. Wamboldt's firm are specialists in Plumbing, Heating and Air Conditioning, and has done much of this work in greater Boston and other cities in Massachusetts. The C. Campbell Patterson estate in Weston, the Bellevue Hotel, Boston, the Mrs. David Brown residence in Canton, and the Jordan Marsh house on Belmont Hill are some of the larger jobs handled by Mr. Wamboldt. In the G. E. New American Home the R. G. Wamboldt firm have installed an owner's bath, guest bath and maid's bath, also various lavatories and the kitchen plumbing. The modern popular "Standard" plumbing fixtures were used throughout.

BUILDING MATERIALS FROM C. H. SPRING CO.

In the selection of a roof for this new home, Bradley & Jones felt that only the very best would do, consequently an order was given the C. H. Spring Co. for a Bird roof. It is a well known fact that Bird roofs are the ultimate in roofing perfection, from the standpoint of durability and protection.

Other materials furnished this house by C. H. Spring Co. are flooring, rough lumber, plaster and masons' supplies, etc.

The unusually large stock of materials always on hand plus the fact that Spring handles only materials that are standard and of high quality, no doubt were important factors in influencing Bradley & Jones the builders, to call on the C. H. Spring Co. to supply these important materials.

BRADLEY AND JONES RECEIVE MUCH PRAISE FOR NEW HOME

A few years ago, two carpenters, who had followed that trade for twenty years due to a constantly increasing demand for their services, decided that it would be to their mutual advantage, to pool their interests. This, they did, and the result, is the very much alive firm of Bradley & Jones, builders and contractors, and the men, Mr. A. B. Bradley, and Mr. Frank Jones.

When it was decided to build the G. E. New American Home in Waban, Mr. Bradley submitted figures and obtained the contract for his firm.

Mr. Bradley and Mr. Jones have taken a keen personal interest in every detail of the construction of the house. Mr. Jones has been on location every day, overseeing the work, and to Mr. Bradley's shrewd judgment was left the task of procuring material. The result is the home on Nehoiden rd., Waban, in which Bradley & Jones take justifiable pride.

In the last analysis, the owner of a home is the one to be pleased, and Mr. James T. Trefrey, owner and who will be the occupant, makes this pertinent statement, "Bradley & Jones certainly lived up to their slogan, 'We build to please.'"

NEWTON ARCHITECT DESIGNS G. E. HOUSE

Edmund I. Leeds, architect, with offices in Boston and Newton, who designed the All Electric Home, is well known in architectural circles in New England. Mr. Leeds does not confine himself to the planning of individual homes entirely, but has to his credit many public buildings in Massachusetts. Probably the buildings better known to Newton residents, designed by Mr. Leeds, are the Newton Y. M. C. A. and the F. A. Day School.

NEW HOME COMPLETELY AIR CONDITIONED

One of the outstanding features of the General Electric home at 122 Nehoiden rd., Waban, is the complete winter air conditioning system with which it is equipped.

For this purpose, the new sensational "L-B-4" General Electric Conditioner unit was selected and installed by Lawton Engineering Corporation, exclusive distributors of General Electric heating and air conditioning equipment in this area.

Visitors will be able to see this latest and most complete expression of the air conditioning art and understand how General Electric provides the ideal answer to all of the four essentials of winter air conditioning all combined in one compact unit.

First, correct temperature. Heat supplied by the famous General Electric oil furnace, unrivalled for cleanliness, quietness, long life, and economy; controlled to a degree by the General Electric telechron day-and-night thermal control.

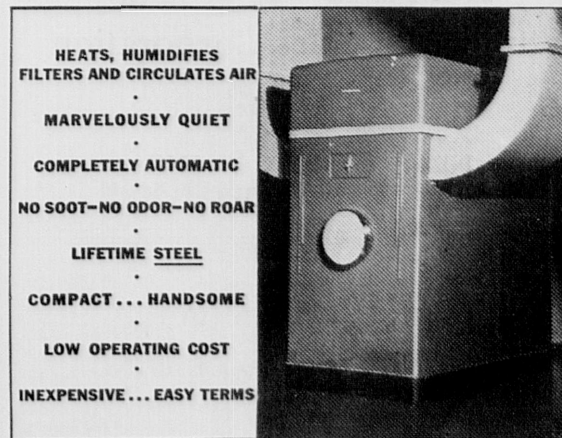

Second, circulation of warm air through every room, providing a uniformly pleasant current of gently heated air; the large capacity General Electric blower doing the work.

Third, humidification, provided by electrically controlled water supply to humidifying pans which are capable of supplying a gallon an hour of moisture to overcome the natural dryness of winter heating.

Fourth, filtration by means of removable viscous filters which strain out of the air the fine floating dust particles which defy ordinary cleansing processes.

The net result is a home in which all winter air conditions are always just right. The benefits to health, to comfort, to furniture and rugs must be felt and experienced to be appreciated. All who have studied the subject agree that they are highly desirable, and the General Electric Company, with this system, provides the ideal solution to this vexing problem of home comfort.

FRAMINGHAM FIRM INSTALLS OVERHEAD GARAGE DOORS

The use of BARCOL OVERdoors by the Barber-Colman Co., Framingham, is a progressive step in the planning and construction of the garage of the G. E. New American Home.

The BARCOL OVERdoor is a positive revelation in an easy to operate garage door, and will be appreciated by every member of the family. It is claimed that this door will not sag, warp or bind, it always works, even if banked with snow or ice. A gentle lift, and it rolls overhead out of the way. A gentle pull and it rolls down into place, wind and weather tight and it requires no care or maintenance.

The Barber-Colman Co. also manufactures the Electric Control door, which operates from a switch on a post alongside the drive way, and the Radio Control Door which operates from a button on the dashboard of the automobile.

A permanent display is maintained at the Building Arts Exhibit, 182 Tremont st., Boston, and at the factory of Barber-Colman Co., 180 Alexander st., Framingham.

MAXIMUM LIVABILITY IS CLAIMED FOR NEW HOME

Large scale building of modernly designed and equipped homes, for which there is a tremendous pent-up demand, should be the big industrial development that will bring the United States back to prosperity, according to Mr. A. B. Bradley of Bradley & Jones, Builders speaking yesterday in his office in reference to the "New American" home which he is building on Neholden road, Waban, and which is one of approximately a thousand new houses going up all over the country as part of the General Electric "New American" demonstration home-building program.

As an example of the kind of house that the program is making available to the modern family, Mr. Bradley referred to one of the specific designs being used by other builders, calling for a new small home with year around air conditioning, oil or gas furnace, complete electric kitchen, modern lighting and wiring, and many other features generally considered expensive. One of these homes is now under construction on Long Island in the New York metropolitan territory. Like the "New American" home being built here, this house emphasizes intelligent room planning, architectural supervision, and maximum livability. It was offered in response to hundreds of requests from builders and real estate men for a modern low cost home that would be highly salable and a high type of security for a mortgage company.

Although one of the prime benefits accruing from the "New American" program, according to Mr. Bradley, will be the employment of labor and the sale of equipment and materials for the houses themselves, the influence of this one plan upon building and real estate generally will be far greater. Some indication of this effect was seen recently with the opening of the first "New American" home for exhibition at Marblehead, Massachusetts. On the first day more than 26,000 people from eight states sought entrance, and within two days the builder had sold two adjacent lots and a house next door that had been completed nine months before but had not been sold.

STUDEBAKER CAR LIKE THE NEW MODEL HOME

In the garage of the new Trefrey home on Neholden rd. will be found two of the new Studebaker automobiles. The choice of motor cars for such a home would just naturally be Studebaker, the smart car of 1936. With grace and charm in every appointment from basement to roof the same fine discrimination appears in these cars. These beautiful new models which are justly said to be smart to be seen in and smarter to buy will have the same appeal as the modernity of all the features in the house.

Styled by Miss Helen Dryden as chief consultant, the interiors of these swank new cars make an instant appeal to the discriminating owner. Priced at new low levels there is just one phase left to be proven, the miracle ride on planar suspension. The new home and the new cars are in complete harmony, each awaits your critical inspection.

M. W. HEMEON GETS PAINTING CONTRACT

The interior and exterior painting of the All American House was done by M. W. Hemeon of Newton Lower Falls. Mr. Hemeon was selected because of his 33 years experience in this line of work, having had an important part in the decorating and painting of many private dwellings in the Newtons and adjacent towns, as well as libraries, schools and other public buildings. The M. W. Hemeon concern employs at times as many as 25 men, all skilled in the art of painting and decorating.

Recent laboratory developments made it possible for physicians to determine the temperature of the human body at any desired spot, and this was of great aid in diagnosis of hitherto troublesome maladies. The temperature of the rooms in most houses varies greatly from floor to ceiling just as does the human body from feet to head, and often with the same result—discomfort and illness. But an air-conditioned room maintains a constant temperature through controlled circulation of air.

You can save one cent every evening in the "New American" home if you turn out the one light usually left on—but a dark house is a welcome sign to prowlers, and an electric light left on is the cheapest burglar insurance that can be bought.

ALL-ELECTRIC KITCHEN SPELLS NEW FREEDOM FOR THE HOUSEWIFE

Contains Corps of Silent, Efficient Electrical Servants—
 Add To Leisure

The Housewife of today commands more servants — all obedient to her wishes — than the queens of ancient kingdoms.

Thanks to electricity, and its modern applications, the housewife can muster a corps of electric servants which silently and efficiently take the drudgery out of house work and add leisure, health and comfort.

Nowhere is the value of modern electrical appliances more emphasized than in the kitchen. Today electricity in the kitchen preserves the food, cooks the meals, washes the dishes, disposes of garbage and performs many other household tasks.

The modern kitchen, as exemplified in the "New American" homes, is all electric. It is designed not only to eliminate labor, but to save steps. Scientifically arranged, it is a combination of cooking, laboratory and livable space.

New Kitchens Scientifically Planned

In addition to modern equipment, such as the electric range, electric refrigerator, electric dishwasher and electric garbage disposal unit, an essential part of a well-planned kitchen is adequate wall space. There should be as few doors as possible in the kitchen. For a house of from 4 to 8 rooms, with no more than one servant, a storage pantry is entirely obsolete. It takes valuable space from the house, increases the number of doors and adds nothing of real value to the kitchen.

All kitchen equipment should be built-in so as to avoid unnecessary dirt pockets. Major pieces of equipment should be so placed in conjunction with each other that the preparation and cooking is accomplished with a minimum of labor and steps. Kitchen operations are arranged in this normal sequence: receiving supplies, storing supplies in cabinets or refrigerator, preparing and mixing foods, cooking, serving, cleaning up and restoring dishes and foods. Kitchen equipment should be organized into work centers, each equipped to perform these functions efficiently.

No Longer a Luxury

As to the electrical equipment, the electric refrigerator no longer is looked upon as a luxury but rather as a necessity. Owners find that the electric refrigerator is an investment, that it actually saves money for the housewife in that she can buy perishables in quantities on food bargain days and that she gets the benefit of lower prices on larger purchases. It also is recognized as a necessity in keeping foodstuffs in wholesome condition.

More and more people are installing electric ranges in their kitchens. The modern range is speedy and economical. It is cool cookery, inasmuch as the ovens are well insulated and retain the heat. Moreover, it is clean cookery; pots and pans are not blackened as in old types of flame cooking.

Electric Dishwashers Foster Health

So far, doctors represent the largest single group of electric dishwasher users, as physicians realize that electric dishwashers have much to do with preventing the spread of communicable diseases. It has been determined that at least 20 per cent of disease organisms adhere to eating and drinking utensils which are washed and dried by a towel. Medical authorities say that approximately 90 per cent of all communicable diseases are transmitted through the nose and mouth and these same diseases are carried in the saliva-borne and food-borne infections from eating utensils. Mechanical dishwashing eliminates this danger.

Exit the Garbage Can

The newest electrical device for the home is an appliance which grinds waste foods and thereby eliminates the garbage can. The device is installed beneath the kitchen sink and can be attached to existing sinks or it can be obtained in conjunction with the General Electric dishwasher ensemble. It grinds and pulpifies all waste foods, including citrus fruit skins, chicken bones, and chop bones. Reduced to a fine pulp, this waste food is flushed by water and carried away as part of the sewage stream. Successful tests of the unit have been made in the homes of sanitary engineers in selected cities throughout the country.

It has been truthfully said that science, in lifting the burdens of household care from the backs of American mothers, and onto the tireless shoulders of electricity, has rendered a signal service to humanity. Readily apparent in every quarter of the "New American" homes, this fact is particularly evidenced in the spotless new all-electric kitchens, where the artist and engineer have united in the liberation of the housewife from tedious work, and given her many hours of long-sought freedom.

LINOLEUM FLOORS BY GEORGE W. WARDNER

Many complimentary remarks are heard by visitors at the G. E. New American Home on the linoleum in the kitchen and hall. It is an Armstrong product, handcraft, inlaid, tile pattern, in different shades of green, cemented to the floor over felt. The Geo. W. Wardner firm furnished and laid the linoleum, in a workmanship-like manner, so that it has the appearance of genuine tile.

Geo. W. Wardner has done much of this work in Newton and surrounding towns, and maintains a large show room at 158 Linden st., Wellesley. Advice, suggestions and estimates are gladly given without obligation.

COLONIAL LIGHTING FIXTURES A FEATURE

Sack, Incorporated, of Boston has furnished this Waban home with some outstanding examples of their work, in the installation of unusual lighting fixtures.

The dining room and hall fixtures are finished in maple and polished brass, the living room wall bracket type fixtures have a mirror back plate, brass bracket and cut shade. The lanterns outside the front door are of natural copper which will be allowed to weather and assume a natural copper color.

Sack, Incorporated, maintain show rooms at 85 Charles St., Boston, and their factory is located on 6th St., Cambridge. They have been established 25 years and specialize in authentic Colonial reproductions of residential hardware and lighting fixtures. They are glad to make recommendations and give advice, and as they employ their own designers they are in a position to submit sketches etc., to any home owner, or prospective builder.

Modern air conditioning is not the maintenance of a certain temperature inside the home regardless of the weather outside. Rather, it is an adjustment to within a certain number of degrees of the outside temperature, automatically controlled. Too great a variation would result in discomfort and would be as injurious to health as no air conditioning at all.

ELECTRICAL LIVING NOT COSTLY, FIGURES SHOW

Upkeep Expense Reasonable, When Convenience Is Considered

It is not only the first cost but the upkeep that will gladden the hearts of householders in the "New American" all-electric homes. Because of the natural impulse of the head of a family to look askance at the cost of operating electric labor-saving devices, despite their convenience and efficiency, two homes containing the basic equipment found in "New American" houses were selected recently from different sections of the country and an analysis of their electrical costs prepared.

In a typical thoroughly electrified home in Cleveland, a close check on current consumption was made by the installation of sub-meters during a four-month period extending from August through November. The house was a seven-room dwelling containing 57 appliances and 44 lamps, or a total of 101 current-consuming devices. The connected load for lighting alone was 2800 watts. According to a list compiled by the owner, electricity performs 81 jobs in this home.

Analyzed, the consumption was as follows: During the four-month period the electric range used 60 kilowatt-hours; small cooking appliances 156 kilowatt-hours; the refrigerator, 180 kilowatt-hours; miscellaneous small appliances, excluding the kitchen, 72 kilowatt-hours; portable lamps, 108 kilowatt-hours; general lighting, ceiling and bracket fixtures, 264 kilowatt-hours. This is a total of 840 kilowatt-hours, an average of seven per day or 220 per month, at a cost of 28 cents a day or $8.80 a month at the prevailing basic rate of 4c per k.w.h. In this home it was found that small appliances in the kitchen, excluding the refrigerator, consumed about three times as much current as the range.

In the other home, located in upstate New York, there are 40 appliances and 61 lamps. Power appliances, such as sewing machine, fans and ventilator, dishwasher, cleaner, radio, and refrigerator, cost 60 cents a week; heating appliances such as the range, ironer, heaters, and irons amount to 94 cents; while the cost of lighting, including a floodlight and three sunlamps, is 80 cents. The owner, who has had long experience with an electrified home, points out that electrical appliances cost money only when they operate—also that the cost of operating power devices is ridiculously low as compared with other applications of electrical energy.

In this home the total cost of light, refrigeration, and electric range, as analyzed by the manager of the local power company, was $5.25 per month. When this was subtracted from the average monthly bill, only $3.75 remained as the cost of running all other appliances. The owner also pointed out that the addition of power devices to his household load eventually served to bring down the cost of his electricity, as the rate went down by a sliding scale—a condition that prevails in many communities.

INSULATING MATERIAL MADE OF SPUN GLASS

The William N. Rich Co. of West Newton installed the insulation in the house. It is interesting to note that this insulation is made of spun glass fibres in the great glass works of the Libbey Owens-Ford Co. at Newark, Ohio.

It is not a by-product but designed along scientific lines to give the maximum reduction of fuel costs and the added comfort of a cool home in the summer. Being glass which has been spun it is light and clean and feels like soft silky wool to the touch. It is sterile and vermin free as well as fireproof.

The William N. Rich Co. have insulated over 700 dwellings in the suburbs of Boston as well as many churches, schools, hospitals and all types of commercial buildings. Recent installation in the Newtons include the Walker Missionary Home and the M. E. Church at Newtonville.

Believing that every installation calls for individual analysis the above firm maintains an engineering service and each proposition is carefully studied. Sometimes they find it necessary to use more than one type of material on the same job, their belief being that no one material is so designed that it will answer every need for insulation. Holding franchises from the Aluminum Co. of America who are the manufacturers of "Alfol" the Scientific Aluminum Foil Insulation, and the L. C. Chase Co., Inc., of Boston and New York who make "THERM-A-PAD" the fibre insulation that covers your home like a blanket and is also extensively used for sound control and also their franchise to sell and install U. S. Gypsum insulating wools in every form both hand installed as well as to "blow in" by a patented pneumatic process it is evident that they are in a position to give unbiased information on the subject of what is correct for each individual job whether it be a residence or a commercial enterprise.

They are also Acoustical Engineers. This field embraces all types of acoustical correction in offices, homes and all types of public buildings. Their most recent installation which was completed in December was the Post Hospital at Fort Devens, Mass. Maintaining a warehouse stock of over 100,000 sq. ft. at all times they are able to render prompt and efficient service. They will be glad to discuss your insulation problem with you and to show you what can be done in increasing your comfort within your home and at the same time reduce your fuel expenditures.

NEW AMERICAN HOME IS MASS OF SERVANTS

But You Don't Stumble Over Them, Since They Are Rarely Seen

A group of efficient and trained electrical servants that never bother you with annoying questions, never seek tips, and never take a day off contribute immeasurably to the livability of the "New American" Home. This electrical mechanization of the "New American" Home does not have the effect of hampering the true spirit of the home; rather it gives the homemaker an opportunity to develop her highest spiritual values for her husband, her children and herself. The woman who is merely a household drudge is handicapped in bringing her home and her personality to the highest point of development—spiritual and mental.

If you lived in colonial days or even fifty years ago, you could achieve comfort and leisure only by employing a multitude of servants to do the hard physical work in the home. In many foreign countries this is still true; but not in America. We have replaced human servants with mechanical and electrical servants which nearly every family can afford. The result is a new social standard and a new conception of home-making. The huge mansion with its servant quarters is no longer the social ideal. Instead the "New American" Home is judged by the perfection of its design, equipment and appointments; its comfort, convenience and livability. Modern electrical servants are playing and are destined to play an increasingly greater part in securing greater freedom, comfort, leisure and happiness for the housewife.

Did "Blue Monday" get its name from bluing—that indigo reminder of the labors of washday? In the "New American" Home "Blue Monday" reigns no more. Here we find the laundry established in its own room in which all the General Electric servants required for convenient, economical washing and ironing—soiled clothes receptacle, washer, set tubs, electric dryer, ironer and other accessories—are arranged as a permanent installation. The average family wash as done by these electrical servants takes only about one to two hours from the clothes hamper to the ironer. Effortless ironing that's more satisfactory than any other method heretofore used in the home is made possible by the General Electric Flat-plate Ironer. Even Wash Day—that dreaded Monday that comes around relentlessly fifty-two times a year—has been abolished. In the "New American" Home, with its modern electric home laundry, clothes are washed as they accumulate during the week—without any special fuss, hubbub, and preparation. When the washing job can be done quickly and cleanly in an hour or two, there is no need for special planning.

When the school bell rings it brings a new routine into the life of the mother as well as into that of the children. Meals must be cooked by the clock if they are to be eaten fully and with enjoyment. Almost all little children who are beginning school have an overwhelming dread of being late, and if meals are delayed they are often too excited to eat with the usual good appetite. In the "New American" Home the planning of meals is an easy and quick arrangement, making life more simple and less hectic, for the housekeeper. With General Electric table appliances breakfast is a simple meal to get ready and serve in record time. The electric mixer is always ready for instant use when orange juice is to be served or hot biscuits are on the menu. Of course toast will be made at the table and the danger of burning it, while at the same time attempting to do a dozen other things, is eliminated by an automatic feature. On Sunday morning, perhaps the waffle iron will be put to use when there is more time for breakfast and digestion. The coffee maker or the percolator takes guesswork out of making coffee and, with almost uncanny certainty, prepares a clear, sparkling, rich-flavored brew that will satisfy the most discriminating taste. Should friends drop in unexpectedly, as they so often do, some afternoon or evening, the chafing dish or perhaps the sandwich grill will be called upon to create some appetizing dish. The "New American" Home contains all these electrical servants and many more. In some instances, where space is at a premium, these servants of household magic are stored in convenient wall recesses built into the house design. The popularity of party snacks brings about a new innovation—the buffet room with its suitable table-counter for cooking, and the storing of electrical table ware.

The ever increasing popularity of radio as a source of home entertainment and education makes it important that adequate receiving equipment be provided. For example, programs that interest children usually bore adults—and those to which husbands listen with enjoyment, often cause the wife much mental anguish. The "New American" Home eliminates the possibility of such domestic difficulties in providing a sufficient number of receivers so that individual radio entertainment is available. This year General Electric brings to radio—the new metal tube, a development so important, so revolutionary that a completely new type of radio has been built around it. In the old days we were patient when a pleasant program was shattered by waves of interference, but today we are annoyed—and rightly so—for radio has passed the "awkward age." Today, the "New American" Home enjoys perfect reproduction of the program just as it is broadcast, with the full range of musical tone, from the low notes of the bass to the high note of the violin and the flute. General Electric Radio, today, does more than reproduce the program—it recreates it. The modern radio owner has the entire world at his finger tips. In the comfort and convenience of his own home he can take a radio voyage to Sydney, London, Paris—in fact, any place he desires to go.

From a budget point of view, a modern radio is an investment in both entertainment and self-improvement. In many homes it takes the place of the theatre, movies and other entertainment items. It is easy today to forget that radio is one of the most powerful instruments in world affairs. The time has already come when the relations between a citizen and the leaders of his nation are direct and personal; when each citizen can meet his legislators, educators and entertainers "voice to voice."

As the "New American" Home housewife goes about her normal job of running a household, she is really making history. Her daily acts of living are making changes in history that thousands of centuries have not achieved. She presses a button and the living room is flooded with light, where for thousands of centuries man lived by night in the dim glow of fires, then candles and flickering lamps. She vacuum-cleans her home in an hour or two without fatigue, where once the labor of days with broom and brush would not have been enough. She prepares her food and puts it on a range which turns itself on at her command and turns itself off when the food is cooked, where for countless centuries women have been the slave of blistering fires.

By their willingness to accept new ideas and to use them intelligently, American women have created the "New American" Home. This is making history!

WALL PAPER VERY CAREFULLY CHOSEN

Ballet and Pirsch, Inc., of Boston, specialists in wall paper, selected and furnished the paper for this new G. E. American Home.

They have made a study of designs, colors, textures, etc., of wall paper, and great care is used in choosing papers that are suitable. Taken in consideration are the type or period of the house, and in this connection both interior and exterior are given attention. The furnishings of the home also play an important part in determining the type of paper to be used.

Mr. Ballet of this firm says, "Many home builders do not give enough consideration to the proper selection of wall paper. They are very apt to be swayed in their decision by a beautiful design, enchanting colors or the persuasive words of a clerk who very often is a beginner in the business, the result being a conglomeration of patterns and tints that do not fit in with the type or furnishings of the house. We have concentrated on 'period and type' homes, and have selected paper for many such houses in Waltham, Newton, Brookline and other suburban towns. We selected and furnished the wall paper for prize winning house in Brookline, which was awarded the Gold Medal by President Hoover in 1933.

A month's use of a ventilator and air filter equals the cost of two lead pencils or a chocolate bar.

POPULAR ELECTRICIAN SAYS BUSINESS BETTER

All electrical work on the Waban All American House has been completed by John L. Selig electrician, associated with the Allied Master Contractors of Waltham. This firm can be called in by a builder to do plumbing, heating, electrical work and painting eliminating the necessity of apportioning these various contracts to several firms. Mr. Selig has been in the electrical business for the past twelve years and has had the wiring and installation of electrical equipment in many Newton, Needham and Wellesley estates and smaller homes.

NEWTON SASH AND DOOR CO. FURNISH QUALITY MATERIALS

A great deal of thought was given to the selection of a concern who could furnish the doors, frames, windows, shutters, etc., for the G. E. new American Home, which would be consistent in quality and workmanship with other high grade materials used in the construction of the house. Newton Sash and Door Co. was finally awarded this important contract, and it may be said that the materials furnished by them reflect favorably on their good reputation.

This firm has been established for several years and maintain warehouse and mill on Newton street, Waltham. Their staff consists of 15 to 20 persons, and they are pleased and certainly qualified to submit estimates on any job, large or small.

NEWTON CONCERN INSTALLS WEATHER STRIPS, SHADES, ETC

Weather Strips, Screens, and Shades on the General Electric Home were furnished by the Standard Metal Weather Strip Co., an old Newton concern with a known reputation for quality merchandise and skilled workmanship.

This company is well equipped to install A-1 interlocking metal weather strips at reasonable prices. Window Shades and Screens are manufactured in their shade and screen plant at 791 Washington St., Newtonville.

See products in use on the New General Electric Home!

It is curious to note that the "New American" home is a reversion to the most primitive type of dwelling. Not since the cave man and the cliff dweller have utility and convenience on the inside determined the layout and appearance of the outside.

HIGHER STANDARDS OF LIVING REFLECTED IN NEW AMERICAN HOME

Changed Concept of Home Life Paves Way for Greater Comfort and Leisure

The "home of tomorrow" is here today. As a dramatic climax to one phase of the most ambitious home building programs ever launched by a single organization, approximately a thousand General Electric "New American" demonstration homes are being opened to the public in communities all over the United States.

For a period of a month or more these houses, differing in external appearance but alike in their air conditioning, electric kitchens, scientific lighting and wiring, rooms planned according to their function, and other characteristic qualities of the "New American" concept, will be exhibited to the public for whose comfort, pride, and pocketbook they were designed by the best architectural talent in the United States. Their construction has in almost every instance been the result of co-operation between local builders, architects, electrical dealers, public utility companies, financing organizations, and the General Electric Company.

Variety of Design Featured

Those who have thought of "New American" homes in terms of "model houses" of one specific design, will have a pleasant surprise, for these homes do not represent a new style of architectural design but rather are products of a new school of thought which places comfort, convenience, and all-around livability above conventional design. They were planned from the inside out, reversing the time-honored process that has in the past produced a stylized exterior with the necessity of adapting inside room arrangements to fit, resulting in wasted space, bad lighting, and awkward room layouts.

New Arrangement of Rooms

Visitors to the "New American" homes will find in most cases that the garages have been placed at the front of the house, near the street, and that the rear of the home is no longer just a place to leave milk and groceries but a sheltered, attractive area where the family can combine indoor and outdoor living in privacy and comfort. They will not find dining rooms, those "spoiled children" of the average house, taking up valuable space for the sake of the few hours a day in which they may be used. In their place are dining alcoves, or some other ingenious space arrangement incorporated in the living area with advantage to both functions of family life. In the kitchen, complete electrical equipment has been scientifically built into the plan in what engineers call use-sequence. In fact, throughout the "New American" houses, the equipment and the space needed by various members of a family in doing their tasks most efficiently and in eating, sleeping, and living most comfortably and healthfully have dictated the plan and appearance of the home, inside and out.

Scientific Equipment Saves Labor

Living in the new homes will be an adventure to those weary of wasted space, tangled traffic in getting from one room to another, dark corners, and obsolete equipment. The architects and builders have demonstrated that such "luxuries" of yesterday as complete air conditioning, scientifically planned lighting and wiring, and the most modern labor-saving electrical devices can be built into a new home at a price within reach of the average family without making sacrifices to attractiveness and quality.

Planned for New Era

The "New American" homes utilize as much as 85 per cent of available space, compared to the 65 or 70 per cent of usable space in the average house. Despite their relatively small cubic-foot capacity in some instances, the houses are so arranged that gardens, terraces, and sun decks enlarge their livable space to unbelievable proportions, and by so doing how to the recently acquired hunger of Americans for eating, sleeping, and even working out of doors whenever possible. Such things as large windows, flattening-out of pitched roofs into sun decks, and dining terraces enclosed on two sides make this possible and desirable.

The "New American" homes throughout the country have been built not solely for exhibition, but for sale and actual occupation. The various agencies which have been combined to bring the project to the community will also co-operate with the builder in disposing of the homes. Advertising, liberal credit arrangements, and the emphatic need for small homes all lend impetus to this objective.

Refuting the remark that a man's home is a woman's factory, the sponsors proclaim that the "New American" home is built to live in as well as to look at—one in which the inside, where the family lives, is planned before the outside is designed. As such, it features modern health-promoting and labor-saving equipment, maximum use of available space, and quality construction throughout. Requiring minimum labor, it provides utmost livability, convenience, and comfort—at a reasonable cost. In short, it is a house in which to live and bring up children in comfort and good health, with the greatest possible leisure and the least possible labor and expense, and on that basis it is recommended to the families of America. If the enthusiastic interest evidenced during the months of planning and construction is any criterion, hundreds of thousands will this month pass the threshold of this "house of tomorrow" which is here today.

LONG LIFE FOR RUGS IN NEW AMERICAN HOME

Most rugs would last much longer than they do if better treatment came their way. And the manner in which they are cleaned is almost more important than the wear they receive.

Authorities from carpet companies and the rug departments of large stores who are interested in a range from five-dollar mats to Orientals worth thousands of dollars, say that practically the same care should be given to all of them.

The vacuum cleaner—an important member of the staff of electrical servants in the "New American" Home—should be run over the rugs every day. This picks up the dust before it has a chance to settle at the base of the weave. It also gathers up foreign matter that might cause strains if mashed into the fiber.

Actually, there are three general kinds of dirt that get on and into carpets and rugs. First—light surface dirt; dirt that comes in through open windows and doors. And there is a second kind of dirt—the litter, clinging dirt; dirt from the sewing room or hair from dogs and cats. Such dirt is really surface dirt that clings to the rug-nap with an aggravating persistence. Then there is the deep-down dirt—the myriad of sandy, gritty particles that burrow far beneath the nap. In General Electric Cleaners a motor-driven brush taps and vibrates the deep-plodged dirt up to the surface where powerful suction throws it into the cleaner bag. The sweeping, swirling, rotary action of the long bristle brush picks up all surface dust and litter with swift action. This triple-cleaning principle of General Electric Cleaners is hard on dirt—but easy on carpets and rugs.

You can save two cents a week in the "New American" home if you disconnect your electric clock—but it would hardly pay, as you might be late for work.

You can save four cents every month in the "New American" home if you keep the electric cleaner in the attic and use a broom. But who wants to do this?

The cost of electricity for operating electric home laundry equipment is less than that of a pack of cigarettes.

The owner of a completely electrified home in Indiana told recently of departing on a three weeks' vacation during the hot summer months. When he returned, he found to his consternation that the electric fan had been left running—night and day—for three weeks. He worried continuously until the bill came from the power company, only to find that for the whole month of August the charge was just one dollar.

Police To Arrest Drivers After Fatal Accidents

Courtesy Shown to Drivers Has Obstructed Prosecution

Chief Michael Hughes of the Newton police stated on Tuesday that in the future drivers of automobiles involved in fatal accidents in this city will be placed under arrest on technical charges of driving to endanger and manslaughter. This method is used in other cities and permits the arraignment of drivers within a day or two of the accident. Usually, in such cases the judge orders a continuance of the case to permit complete investigation. For the past few years Newton police have extended the courtesy to drivers of cars involved in fatal accidents of not placing them under arrest immediately following accidents. This leniency on the part of the police has resulted in a practice growing up of counsel demanding hearings on the issuance of complaints. This has occurred in two fatal accidents recently, that at West Newton at midnight on December 31, and at Newtonville on January 10. The result is that weeks elapse before drivers involved can be arraigned in court, witnesses are compelled to attend hearings as well as court trials, and complications ensue. The police also deem it necessary to withhold facts of accidents from the press and public until complaints against the drivers of cars have been allowed and issued.

Youth Breaks Auto Laws, Fined $15

John McIsaac, 18, of 859 Beacon st., Newton Centre, was fined $10 in the Newton court last Friday for speeding and $5 for driving without proper lights. Patrolman Green testified that on December 30 he stopped McIsaac for speeding and driving a car with only one headlight. The defendant had no driving license and promised to bring one he claimed to possess to Green. He failed to keep the promise and when Green saw the car a couple of nights after parked in Newton Centre square, he obtained the complaints against McIsaac.

Newton Choral Singing Class Starts Jan. 21

Meetings Will Be Held At Underwood School

The second unit of the Newton Choral Singing class, under the instruction of Mr. Carl Peirce, member of the New England Conservatory of Music faculty, and sponsored by the Massachusetts Department of Education, Division of University Extension, begins January twenty-first. The meetings will be held at the Underwood School on Tuesdays at seven-thirty as before.

This second series will consist, as usual, of eight weekly meetings. Director James A. Moyer of University Extension and Mr. Keith Crosby Brown of the New England Conservatory of Music first organized classes for adults in music enjoyment and appreciation in Boston several seasons ago. The success has been so great that this season there are other groups in fifteen or sixteen towns and cities throughout the state.

Enrollment is open to everyone without restrictions as to voice training and previous experience. Expert musical teaching is here closely seconded by keen enjoyment. Those attending are assured of thorough instruction in voice building principles as well as music reading, part singing, familiarity with the best composers, and sound preparation for choir and other positions.

Questionnaires filled out by members of some of these Choral Singing classes show that a great variety of professions and occupations are represented, proving the power of a common recreation for drawing together people of all sorts.

Newton Hlds. Girl Killed in No. Car.

Miss Helen Reay, 25, of 69 Wendell st., Cambridge was killed in an automobile accident at Fairmont, North Carolina on Saturday. She was born in Newton Highlands, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John O. Reay. Recently she went to Miami to work. She is survived by a sister, Mrs. Harold Hill of Jamaica Plain, and a brother, John L. Reay of Columbus, Ohio.

Auto Kills Man On Washington St.

Martin Finan, 64, of 129 Norwood ave., Newtonville, was instantly killed Friday evening about 5:30 as he was crossing Washington st. opposite the Harvard st. bridge. Finan was about three-quarters of the way across the street when he was hit by a car driven by Richard Whittemore, 19, of 39 Meadow Way, Cambridge. One side of Finan's head was badly bashed and the street was covered with blood. The street, where the fatality occurred is well lighted, straight and broad. At Newton police headquarters the report of the accident was withheld from the press, so details could not be obtained.

Finan was formerly an employee of the Newton Street Department and was pensioned several years ago because of disability. He was born in County Sligo, Ireland and had lived in Newton for over 40 years. He was a member of Middlesex Court, M. C. O. F. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Sarah Finan. His funeral service was held on Monday morning at Our Lady's Church and burial was at Hopkinton.

Hearing On Neffinger Case

Last Saturday morning in the Newton district court a hearing was held before Judge Lynch of Milford on the issuance of complaints against John Neffinger, 19, of 18 Withington rd., Newtonville, driver of the automobile which hit two trees on Berkeley st., West Newton, on New Year's Eve. Three young men, including Neffinger's brother were killed in the crash and Audrey Zaun, 18, of 13 Churchill st., Newtonville, will be probably permanently crippled as both her hips were broken. The police seek complaints of driving to endanger and manslaughter. Judge Lynch reserved his decision pending an inquest to be held this week.

Fire Damages Newton Ctr. Home

A fire which started in the cellar of the home of J. Frederick Clune, 23 Channing rd., Newton Centre, about 6:30 Wednesday morning, forced Mr. Clune, his wife and two children to make a hasty exit from the house and caused damage estimated at $600. The fire started under the cellar stairs and is supposed to have been caused by spontaneous combustion in oily rags. It worked up into the kitchen.

Defective wiring caused a fire in the three-tenement house at 9-13 Craft st., Newtonville, on Tuesday night at 8:55. The fire started in a kitchen on the first floor and caused damage estimated at $800. The building is owned by Thomas Morrissey, who occupies one of the tenements.

Fire In Store At West Newton

Monday night at 8:48 Patrolman Goddard discovered a fire in the store at 1704 Washington st., West Newton, at the corner of Commonwealth ave. The fire was caused by an overheated motor in a refrigerator. Goddard pulled Box 36 and the smoking motor was extinguished before the fire spread.

Priest Criticizes Speeding On Washington St.

Rev. John A. Sheridan, pastor of Our Lady's Church, Newton, speaking at the 9 o'clock service in that church on Sunday, severely criticized the hazards which his parishioners are subjected to on Washington st. In past years several members of Our Lady's parish have been killed by automobiles on Washington st. while going to or coming from services at the church. Martin Finan, an usher at the church, was instantly killed last Friday evening while crossing Washington st. opposite Harvard st. bridge, Newtonville. Father Sheridan spoke of the high rate of speed at which motor vehicles are driven along Washington st., and of the danger which both adults and the children attending the parochial school are subjected to while crossing the street. He advocated the placing of traffic signals at Washington and Adams sts., and at Washington and Harvard sts. On Monday Father Sheridan conferred with Chief of Police Hughes relative to speeding of automobiles on Washington st. Patrolmen have been apprehending speeders on Washington st. this week and as a result a number of autoists will appear in court.

Several years ago the late Rev. Lawrence Slattery requested that a traffic signal be placed on Washington st., opposite Adams st. The State Department of Public Works refused to authorize the signal on the contention that a sufficient volume of vehicular traffic did not use Adams st. It was contended, however, by those desiring the signal, that a pedestrian-controlled signal, similar to that on Commonwealth ave. near Lake st., should be installed. Before Washington st. was resurfaced a few years ago wires were laid opposite Adams st. so that such a signal could be installed. A determined attempt will now be made to have the signal placed at this point.

Daly Heads List For Draftsman

The City Engineer's Department of Newton was notified this week by the State Civil Service Commission that the three men heading the list of eligibles for appointment to the position of draftsman in the department are in order—William J. Daly, 59 Playstead rd., Newton; Roland A. Warren, 85 Kingswood rd., Auburndale; Herman Schwartz, 97 Dalby st., Nonantum. The position carries a salary of $1800 per year.

More Repairs On Incinerator

The new incinerator at Newton Highlands, which was closed for sometime last year to have alterations made on it, has again not been functioning. The incinerator has been shut down the past two weeks to permit the relining of the furnaces. Some of the fire brick which had relined the furnaces gave way and had to be replaced. Unlike other incinerators which are operated 24 hours daily, the Newton Highlands incinerator has been in use only 8 hours each day and it is supposed that the expansion and contraction of the lining bricks caused the trouble.

Amendments were made to orders passed last month in connection with appropriations for WPA projects. These amendments were drawn by the city solicitor and were necessary to comply with WPA regulations. The projects call for the resurfacing of nine streets in the city and the $250,365.31 appropriated was segregated as follows—Commonwealth ave. and Centre st., $72,296.06; Adams and Walnut st., and Auburndale ave., $85,799.60; Beacon and Ward sts., Lowell and Waverley aves., $92,269.65. Bids for three contracts will be advertised and the contracts will include the streets specified herewith.

Break Auto Laws And Pay Fines

In the Newton court on Monday Charles D. Weathers, 742 Commonwealth ave., Newton Centre was fined $5 for driving past a traffic signal when the red light was against him. Charges of driving without his license in his possession, and allowing the motor to run unattended, were placed on file. Edwin Drinkwater of Cushing st., Waltham was stopped Saturday night for driving without proper lights. In court Monday he paid a fine of $5 for driving without a license.

Lincoln Thiesmayer of 6 Frost st., Cambridge, a Harvard instructor, was fined $5 for driving a car without proper plates. Thiesmayer was stopped at Newton Centre on January 3rd while driving a car which bore only pieces of cardboard bearing the inscription "Registration applied for." In court Monday he told the judge that he obtained the registration and plates after having been stopped by the traffic officer.

Our Lady Alumnae Plan Card And Dancing Party

The Alumni Association of the Church of Our Lady, Newton, recently re-organized, and comprising graduates of the Grammar and High Schools, will hold its first public function in a card and dancing party, to be conducted in the High School Auditorium, Washington st., Newton, on Friday evening, Jan. 31st.

A large and enthusiastic committee is working to make this initial activity a success. Other activities of social and civic nature are being planned with the idea of developing the Association into a beneficial community group.

The music will be provided by Walter Burke's Grey Tower orchestra, a well known band which has functioned at numerous collegiate activities. The Card Party will be conducted by Miss Mary Buckley, and there have already been donated a great number of valuable prizes for this part of the entertainment.

The officers of the association, recently elected are as follows: President, Chas. P. York; Vice-President, Jos. Murphy; Secretary, Miss Agnes Earls; Treasurer, Jos. Farraher.

Smedley Butler At Community Forum Sunday

Famous Marine's Topic "America Faces The Orient"

Newton Community Forum announces that Major-General Smedley D. Butler will be its speaker at the Forum to be held on Sunday afternoon, Jan. 19, at the Newton High School Auditorium. His subject will be "America Faces The Orient." He will be introduced by Gen. Daniel Needham of the 25th Division, National Guard. George W. Coleman, President of the Ford Hall Forum, will preside. A short musical program will be rendered by Ralph Tallby, baritone. A group of American Legion members, under the supervision of Donald M. Hill, acting as ushers, will add to the military character of the session.

Described as "America's most distinguished and colorful soldier," Gen. Butler retired from the Marine Corps in 1931 after one of the most brilliant careers in the history of America's armed services. It is anticipated that his talk will throw new light on America's Far East problems and our future relations with Japan and other Asiatic countries.

Cotton In Cellar Catches Fire

A fire which started in the cellar of the home of E. C. Andres at 61 Kirkstall rd., Newtonville about 1:45 Saturday afternoon was supposed to have been caused by a spark from the furnace igniting some samples of cotton which were in the cellar. An alarm was pulled from Box 264 and the firemen confined the fire to the cellar and first floor. The damage was estimated at about $500.

Charged With Drunken Driving

John McFarland of 293 Parker st., Newton Centre, was arrested on Sunday night by Patrolmen Gaquin and Cummings after the car he was driving had allegedly been involved in an accident. In the Newton court on Monday he was arraigned on charges of drunkenness, driving a car while under the influence of liquor, and leaving the scene of an accident without revealing his identity. His case was continued until Jan. 22.

Plan Council Of Social Agencies Here

Will Co-Ordinate Social Planning in Newton

The Newton Community Chest, Inc., reports that with the cooperation of the Member-Agencies' fourteen executive officers and other public-spirited citizens, there is in process of formation a Council of Social Agencies in Newton. The committee which has formulated tentative Rules of Organization and Procedure for the Council is composed of Miss Hilga Nelson, of the Newton District Nursing Association, as Chairman; Miss Harriet Parsons, General Secretary of the Newton Welfare Bureau and Mr. Harry Bascom, General Secretary of the Newton Y. M. C. A.

The Council will be an integral part of the Community Chest organization and the Executive Director of the Community Chest, Mr. L. A. Bruce, Jr., will be the Executive Director of the Council. The function of the Council, which will include representatives from the Chest Member-Agencies, from the City Departments, and from all clubs and organizations performing community service, will be to do social planning for Newton. It will bring fullest cooperation between all organizations into play and develop coordination of purposes, activities and programs among them to the highest degree.

In addition to a Governing body, the plan as proposed to present to the Board of Directors of the Community Chest for their consideration and action calls for three distinct Divisions. There will be a Division of Health, Welfare and Relief, composed of delegates from Chest agencies, City Departments and other organizations engaged in that field of work. Likewise, there will be a Division of Education, Recreation and Character-building and a Division of Member-Agency executives. It is expected that the Governing Board of the Council will name a Research Committee to make surveys and studies on which much work of the Council will be based. In addition representative citizens will be asked to become members of the Council.

License Board Renews Permit

The Newton License Commission at its meeting on Monday night voted to grant a renewal of the package store license to J. Neal McDonald at 1377 Washington st., West Newton. The commission had refused to renew the license at the beginning of this year because of friction between McDonald and his partner, Edward Hodges. Both had made applications for a license and the local commission turned down both applications. McDonald then took an appeal to the State Alcoholic Beverage Commission, but later withdrew the appeal.

Another license renewal which had been held up was also granted on Monday night, that of Albert Blakeney to dispense beer and wine at Stell's Lunch, 1261 Washington-st., West Newton. The Board again rejected an application from Santy DePucchio for a license to sell beer and wine at 97 Elm st., West Newton. Last year the Board turned down DePucchio twice. He appealed to the State A. B. C. without success.

The commission refused the application of Alice Overshaw for the extension of her license at 321 Washington st., Newton, so that she could sell all alcoholic beverages until midnight, instead of the present limit of 11 o'clock.

AN INTERESTING PROBLEM

The definite announcement by Ex-Mayor Weeks that he would seek the endorsement of the Republican pre-primary convention as the party's candidate for United States Senator presents an interesting problem. Prior to the Weeks' announcement there were two avowed candidates in Representative Henry Cabot Lodge, 2nd, and Ex-State Senator James Cavanaugh. Weeks and Lodge are the most prominently mentioned of the present candidates although it is quite possible that others may be in the field before the convention in June.

Ex-Mayor Weeks is a business executive of proven ability. He has had considerable experience in politics, in municipal affairs, in industry, and his attitude toward sound money is well-known. With the possibility of Speaker Saltonstall receiving the convention endorsement as governor the presence of Weeks' name upon the same ballot is in some circles construed as a handicap as both are residents of Newton. Representative Lodge is a keen student of government, has had considerable legislative experience not only in Massachusetts but through several years' contacts in Washington as a political correspondent. He also has more than a passing understanding of international affairs through press service as a foreign correspondent. Both may be considered to have youth and background. In some circles it is also pointed out that Lodge would also be a handicap to the Republican ticket as a running mate of Mr. Saltonstall because of the similarity of family background. These reflections are but a few of the many that the delegates to the convention will have to focus their attention on in determining the make-up of the party ticket in June.

TRAFFIC CONTROL IN NEWTON

As a result of the fatal accident on Washington street early last Friday evening motor vehicle inspectors have been conducting a campaign to reduce speeding upon Washington street and the Worcester turnpike. Many motorists have been booked for traffic violations. The attempt should have the whole-hearted support of motorists as well as citizens. The accident is not the first that has occurred in this vicinity and many are the complaints that have been registered as to the difficulty pedestrians have in crossing this thoroughfare. Rev. John H. Sheridan of the Church of Our Lady has renewed the agitation started by his predecessor a few years ago for the installation of pedestrian controlled signals at the intersections of Harvard and Adams streets with Washington. There is much merit in the proposal and in fact provision was made at Adams street for the possibility of such installations when the concrete surface was laid. It is evident that effectual steps must be taken if the ever present dangers are to be eliminated and the matter is one which should not be overlooked nor further delayed.

FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY

The Newton Hospital Aid Association observed its fiftieth anniversary at its annual meeting and luncheon this week. Starting in a small way in 1885 this organization has been doing a most valuable work with little noise or fanfare for half of a century. It now numbers among its members several hundred women who are giving their time and interest in a most noble cause. The contributions of moneys and materials which the Hospital Aid Association have made comprise a lengthy list which we wish it were possible to itemize, as it is almost beyond the limits of comprehension. We take this opportunity to congratulate the Association upon its fiftieth anniversary and also to urge all Newton citizens to make themselves more fully acquainted with the work that is being accomplished.

A COUNCIL OF SOCIAL AGENCIES

The Newton Community Chest announces plans for the formation of a Council of Social Agencies in Newton. This council will aid in the social planning along health, welfare and relief lines. With some fourteen agency members of the Community Chest and in addition many churches and individuals who are aiding in the problem of social welfare the difficulty of duplications and the lack of organization bring to the forefront the need for efficient planning. The formation of the council should be one of the most progressive steps taken in regard to social planning that Newton has witnessed for some time. It promises the highest type of social service program and activity development possible with resulting benefit to the city and its people.

WELCOME, ROTARIANS!

Next Wednesday the mid-year assembly of the thirty-first district of Rotary International will be held at city hall. The thirty-first district is composed of Rotary Clubs in eastern Massachusetts and Rhode Island. Many of the members of these clubs are influential business men in their respective communities. Newton welcomes these men who are placing service above self and sharing in the advancement of the objectives of Rotary International.

Edward P. Clark, who has been named local supervisor of the Census of Business, recently announced that enumeration work will start in Newton within a few days. A number of enumerators will be selected to make the canvass in this district which includes parts of Middlesex and Norfolk counties. Offices of the census are established at Cambridge. All census employees are bound by a strict census oath not to reveal information obtained on business reports. All places of business of almost every kind will be canvassed for reports on their operations during 1935 and the results will be tabulated in Philadelphia, headquarters of the business census, and become basic statistics. The census to start soon has been extended considerably beyond the limitations of the Census of Distribution for 1929 and the Census of American Business for 1933 as a result of requests that all fields of business be included. The Census is designed to supply a definite answer to the question of how many concerns there are in business, the total volume annually, total payrolls, employment, etc., and the request of business for dependable information for sounder planning of expansion programs.

Next week Wednesday city hall and the memorial building will be the scene of the gathering of some two or three hundred business men from eastern Massachusetts and Rhode Island. The occasion is the mid-year assembly of Rotarians of the thirty-first district where information will be exchanged, reports received, and assistance in the conduct of club affairs given. The Newton Rotary Club is the host club and a program of much interest has been arranged beginning at 9:30 and continuing until five o'clock with a Seiler luncheon to be served at 12:30. Mayor Edwin O. Childs a member of the Newton Rotary Club will welcome the assembly on behalf of the city. Secretary Lyseum A. Bruce, Jr., a past-president of Newton Rotary, is general chairman of the assembly and he will be assisted by President James E. Melcher, other club officers and committee members. Henry P. Porter, Governor of the 31st District of Rotary International is a member of the Boston Rotary Club which numbers in its membership about eighty men who reside in Newton.

John Dunphy of 919 Walnut st., Newton Highlands, for the past 29 years a clerk at the Newton Centre postoffice, has been appointed superintendent of that office. He succeeds Daniel Sheehan who has been transferred to Roslindale.

That Newton will be more than slightly interested in the coming state election is indicated by the fact that numerous Newton residents are candidates or expected to become candidates for various places upon the state ticket. Speaker of the House Leverett Saltonstall of Chestnut Hill is a candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor. Ex-Mayor Sinclair Weeks recently announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for the United States Senate while Moses H. Gulesian of Chestnut Hill a few weeks ago stated that he would run independently for the same office upon the Townsend plan program. Another Newton resident whose name is frequently being mentioned as a candidate for a place on the state ticket is former District Attorney Robert T. Bushnell of Waban. He is looked upon as a possible candidate for governor, senator or attorney general. It is further rumored that Mr. Bushnell will make known his intentions shortly.

The former Boston Athletic Association building on Exeter st., Boston, was recently purchased by Boston University. The building has been renamed the Soden building in honor of the late Arthur E. Soden of Newtonville whose bequest made the purchase possible.

Sumner P. Lawrence Rebekah Lodge, No. 177, held a "Baby Party" at the I. O. O. F. Hall, 15 Southgate Park, West Newton, on Monday evening. Members and friends came dressed as babies or small children and enjoyed games, songs, stunts, and a general evening of fun. A short skit was presented by Mrs. Roscoe Doliber, with Fred E. Perkins as "Father Time." Among those present were: Mrs. Waldo Weldon as "Shirley Temple", complete with little fur-trimmed coat, hat and muffs, receiving first prize; Mrs. J. Garfield Anderson, chairman, "Bimble"; J. Garfield Anderson, "Mischievous Schoolboy"; Mrs. J. Gilbert Keyes, Noble Grand, as a "Romper" Toddler; J. Gilbert Keyes, "Little Lord Fauntleroy"; Mrs. Alden Gould, vice grand, as a "Little Pantalet Girl"; Mrs. Roscoe Doliber, "Curly Locks"; Mrs. Ralph Walsh, "Dollie"; Mrs. Dana Clark, "Baby Dear"; Fred E. Perkins, "Baby Darling"; Mrs. Fred E. Perkins, "Baby Doll"; Miss Marjorie P. Perkins, "Mama's Baby." Refreshments were served following the party and then the "babies" went home to bed, each with a lollipop.

The Boston Society of Optometrists held its annual meeting and election of officers on Wednesday, January 15. Two Newton men are among the incoming officers: Dr. Edwin P. Leonard Jr., of 6 Willard st., Newton, president, and Dr. Edmund I. Wilson of 41 Aspen ave., Auburndale, secretary. The foremost function of this society is the operation of an Optometric clinic which is supplying a complete Optometric service, with glasses at cost, to properly recommended people from charitable organizations. The society has been conducting such a clinic for a number of years.

Rotary Club

On next Wednesday, the 22nd, the Newton Rotary Club will be the host for the annual Mid-winter Conference of the Officers and Committee members from the clubs in the 31st district of Rotary International. It is expected that over 200 Rotarians will be in attendance at the session which opens in the auditorium of the City Hall at 9:30 and runs through to 5 o'clock, with a luncheon at 12:30. The District Governor, Henry P. Porter, of Boston, will preside and Lyseum Bruce of the Newton Club is in charge of the arrangements.

At the meeting of the local Rotary Club at Braeburn this week the speaker was Professor Clarence Skinner, Dean of the Tufts School of Theology, and his subject, "Prejudices." Professor Skinner defined prejudices as ideas, emotions, or points of view which are so firmly lodged in the mind as to prevent one from seeing the truth as it objectively is; and he selected the abstract field of Science for an illustration, pointing out the difficulties that Pasteur encountered with the medical profession of his day in securing recognition for his theories which were accepted today by even the laymen as elementary. The chief factor favoring the growth and strengthening of a prejudice seems to be a desire to escape from competition; for instance the Jews in Germany have excelled in the fields of business and the professions and have now become the scapegoats.

Many prejudices have their inception in the home, in the press, and even in the schools. Oftentimes in the homes, the impression which leads to the prejudice is given in an entirely unconscious manner; and this is true in many other cases although the present state of the German press is an illustration of the worst extreme of directed and cultivated prejudices. Racial prejudice is being fanned in Germany right along but in this country we are not without our Negro problem.

Professor Skinner feels that two things will help to remedy the situation: a cultivation by everyone of the scientific attitude of mind which strives to see things exactly as they are rather than as we think they are or as we should like to be; and a more general and sincere acceptance of the principle of the Golden Rule, which would lead us to judge as we would be judged by.

1935 BOOKS FOR BOY SCOUTS

Exploration and Research

Exploring Today—Lincoln Ellsworth. The author, who has done a great deal of exploring, has written this book to interest and aid boys who are wont to ask two questions: What is left to explore and how one may become an explorer. He tells of various expeditions such as the flight of the Norge, the Roy Chapman Andrews Gobi desert work, the Whitney, the Crocker expeditions and many more. He talks of the use of airplanes in exploring, in mountaineering, in archaeological research and in the quest for rare animals, and in scientific research. Also he suggests the qualities and the training needed by one who would be an explorer.

Men, Mirrors and Stars.

This is a history of progress in astronomy through the development of instruments for the study of the heavens.

Radio: The Story of the Capture and Use of Radio Waves—John Langdon-Davies.

A good book for the boy who wishes a real understanding of radio.

Canoeing with the Cree—Arnold Seavreid.

Two boys made a canoe trip North from Minneapolis 2,000 miles into the Hudson Bay country.

Sea Craft

The White Phantom—John Hunter.

A story of the future but not of the too distant future. Two wonderful speed vessels are built, an air-sea and a sea-going vessel—the latter of which is captured by a group of daring crooks.

Harpoon: The Story of Whaling Voyage—Foster Rhea Dulles.

A sixteen-year-old boy signs on for a whaling voyage in 1846 and this is the story of the voyage which he made.

Ocean Gold—Commander Edward Ellsberg.

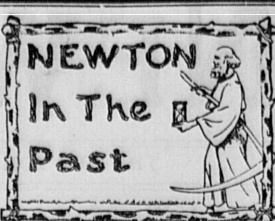

An expert in diving and salvaging, Commander Ellsberg presents a story concerned with the taking of treasure from an old Spanish galleon over the wreck of which lies another sunken vessel.

The Boy's Life of Benjamin Franklin—Helen Nicolay.

The life of Franklin, its contrasts, its many accomplishments in many fields, its wide range of acquaintance, its importance in our country's beginning, is here presented in such a way that the figure of the man himself emerges, life-like, impressive.

Moccasins on the Trail—Wolfe Thompson.

This is a sequel to Circle of the Braves. It concerns Indians and their life two or three hundred years before the coming of the white man.

60 YEARS AGO

From Newton Republican, Jan. 20, 1877

Losses in Newton by fire in 1876 were $53,180; insurance was $51,700.

(Advertisement.) J. Vickers & Co., Auburndale, dealers in Groceries, Flour, Grain, etc., have on hand a large lot of Teas and Coffees. They have just added to their other business a Drug Department. The junior member of the firm has had experience as a druggist. If you are in want of any article usually found in a first class apothecary, give him a call. Physicians' prescriptions carefully compounded.

The patrons of the Newtonville railroad station think they do not have proper railroad accommodations and those who were detained at the station on Tuesday morning because of trains having been delayed by the snowstorm resolved themselves into an indignation meeting with W. F. Slocum as chairman. The 150 present likened the Newtonville depot unto a flag station in comparison with the fine brick structure at West Newton, although more tickets are sold at the Newtonville station. Henry C. Hayden, John L. Roberts, George W. Morse and W. J. Towse were appointed a committee to wait upon officials of the Boston & Albany Railroad.

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night the Finance Committee recommended the fixing of salaries of city officers as follows: Auditor, $1500; City Solicitor, $1000; Chairman of Assessors, $1200; Assessors, $700 each; Janitor at City Hall, $800; Chief of Police, $1200, and horse and carriage; Sergeant of Police, $1000; Patrolmen $900 each; Supt. of Highways, $1400, and two horses; Overseers of Poor, $50 each; Sealer of Weights and Measures, $75; City Treasurer and Collector, $3000; City Clerk, $1600. The report was accepted.

50 YEARS AGO

The depot employees at Newton had a great job this week removing the snow from the tunnel entrances.

For the week ending Thursday, Jan. 14, no deaths were reported at Newton City Hall. Can any city in the world with 20,000 population show an equally favorable record?

Several runaways and smash-ups have occurred in different parts of the city since the good sleighing prevailed, because of fast driving.

The mercury stood at 14 below zero on Tuesday morning.

The report of the City Marshal shows the number of arrests for 1885 to have been 485. Of this number 265 were foreigners and 109 non-residents. Drunkenness was the cause of arrest of 198; disturbing the peace, 68; assault and battery, 44. The value of property reported stolen was $3062; amount recovered, $2288. Eleven search warrants for liquor were served. The annual report of the Chief of the Fire Department shows that there were 44 box alarms in 1885, still alarms 11, telephone calls 12, calls out of the city 7; a total of 74. The loss on real estate was $13,175; personal property, $6151; insurance paid on both, $15,233.

Andrew J. Fliske, West Newton plumber, lost a valuable horse on Monday. The animal developed signs of an acute disorder at 6:30 in the morning and died at 10:30. Dr. McLaughlin made an examination and revealed the cause as extreme peritonitis.

William Deuschle was tendered a surprise party on Monday evening at his home on Oakland st. He was presented with a watch by the boys and a stickpin by the girls. The belle of the party was a charming young lady, "Miss Marjorie Ferris," better known as Don Reed.

Among the bills presented to the General Court at this session are several by residents of Newton. Mrs. Katherine Lent Stevenson asks for a constitutional amendment on prohibition; Fred A. Hubbard asks that the State Board of Pharmacy shall have the sole right to grant druggists' licenses; William F. Garcelon asks for the enrollment of voters where nominations are made by direct vote.

Alvin R. Bailey, John Flood, George T. Coppins, Newman Storer and W. Montgomery have been appointed aides de camp on the staff of Commander-in-Chief John Gilman of the G. A. R.

Dr. Curtis, chairman of the Board of Health, warns that measles is beginning to appear in this city. He says: "Most persons consider measles a mild, unimportant disease with practically no fatality. A disease that is a necessary evil of childhood and the sooner a child has it and is done with it, the better. Nothing can be further from the truth than these ideas. The figures of the Chicago Board of Health show that of every five children under two years of age attacked by measles, one dies; a case mortality of 20 per cent. In England the deaths from measles during 40 years were 367,602; of which number 31,728 were over 5 years old. These figures certainly do not indicate a disease of trifling fatality."

Powers' Paragraphs

President Roosevelt, being human, has made mistakes in his efforts to relieve the depression. But, at least he made an attempt to remedy conditions. Many of the "conservative" Republicans and Democrats who are condemning him can be included in the category of hard headed business men and industrialists criticised recently by the Newton Community Forum by Margaret Slattery for having made a sorry mess of the affairs of this country. Incidentally those who have been criticising the Forum for having presented "liberals" as speakers, probably will be satisfied with the gentleman from Wall Street who will probably substitute for Julius Hecker.

How times have changed. In the postoffice department as in other activities. In past years even a substitute letter carrier could not deliver mail without wearing a uniform. Now one observes men delivering mail without even a semblance of a uniform. We are glad to see unemployed men obtain temporary work in the postoffice and it would be hardship to compel these men to even purchase a uniform cap. But, they should at least be provided with a badge to be worn conspicuously.

Last week there died in this city a man who had been a resident of Newton for 50 years. For nearly half of that time he had been blind as a result of having been hit in the eye by a snowball thrown by a boy. This man, a peaceful, industrious citizen was driving a wagon along Franklin st., Newton when he was hit on one eye by the snowball. Shortly afterward he lost the sight of that eye and the loss of the sight of his other eye followed. He had a wife and three young children depending on him. They were deprived of his support and he had to endure blindness for over twenty years, all because of the boldness and thoughtlessness of the boy who threw the snowball.

The horrible death of Martin Finan, an old resident of Newton who was struck by an automobile and instantly killed as he was crossing Washington st. opposite Harvard st. last Friday evening at 5:30 again gives evidence of the need of police protection for pedestrians who must cross this street. A number of persons have been hit and fatally injured by motor vehicles while crossing Washington st. and many collisions of cars have occurred. The smooth, polished surface of this broad, straight highway tempts many motorists to travel at reckless speeds. While the operator of the car that hit Mr. Finan may not have been driving at an unreasonable speed, a large percentage of cars and trucks which travel along the street are operated at speeds of 40, 50 and more miles per hour. Pedestrian controlled signals should be placed at Adams st. and at Centre ave. and a motorcycle officer should patrol this street during the day and early night hours. The most dangerous period of the day is between 4:30 and 6 evenings, especially when it is dusk or dark at this time. Until the past several years there were eight motorcycle officers on the Newton Police Department, but this number was reduced to two. The protection of life is the most important duty of the police and with the appalling number of deaths and injuries caused by automobiles, traffic control and regulation has become the most serious problem affecting the safety of the people of this country.

Comparatively few persons who reach an advanced age have the distinction of dying in the house in which they were born. John Hanlon of Pearl st., Newton, who died last week at the age of 70 died in the house in which he was born. But, the unique thing about this was—that when Mr. Hanlon was born, the house was located on Hunnewell ave., Newton, more than a mile from where it was located when he died. The house was moved about 50 years ago.

Only a few years ago Winter st., Boston was a dignified, retail business street, in keeping with the reputation Boston enjoyed in the past. The other day we walked along Winter st. in one of the large display windows of a big furrier's store an attractive, bleached blonde was strutting and smirking as she modelled a fur coat for the edification of a crowd of gaping women who blocked the sidewalk. In the doorway of another store a girl was standing and inviting passersby in loud tones to sample salted nuts. A few feet away a Barker was calling attention to a cafe upstairs. If this evolution of Winter st. continues it will soon resemble the oldtime Bowery in New York.

On Monday the bulletin board of the Boston Transcript stated that Mayor Childs is supporting the candidacy of Ex-Mayor Weeks for the Republican nomination as United States Senator. Mayor Childs says that he has not, as yet, aligned himself with any of the candidates for Senator.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

It Has To Happen

How wise were they who cautioned me in vain in my school days of the importance of close application to my studies and particularly the subjects which were the most difficult and the least interesting. How often have I thought of the warning and regretted my heedless behavior. There comes a time, once regularly each year, when I am seized with a feeling of self-reproach as spread before me lie the income tax blanks of our Federal and State governments.

Despite the Lilliputian amount involved I am always distressed. The struggle to master the complex and involved questions, combined with threatened punishment if I err as much as a cent's worth, throws me into a series of hot and cold sweats. Never was I any good on figures and now, with the grim and imposing demand that I be most accurate, I falter, fuss and almost fail. It is the most miserable period of all the year to me. Many people put off until the last minute the filling-out of their blanks. If their annual agony is similar to mine I can understand their procrastination.

How Poets Operate

Although by no means a practical person I have been convinced by bit and sweet experience that one must at times get down to brass tacks. Not a delicate metaphor and hardly appropriate when discussing poetry. But I am a crude fellow at best, though I possess admiration for writers of verse. I envy these men and women as they dash off line upon line, whether it be jingle, lyric or sedate and ponderous philosophy or narrative.

It happened to be my good fortune to encounter a poet of that school to whom a poem is not a poem unless it contains a minimum of two dozen verses. Moreover, he deals in every subject under the sun. The fact that his effusions are seldom if ever printed makes no difference. He is the most industrious versifier I know. So, when I asked, "Where do you get so many themes?" I was not surprised to have him answer, "They come to me out of the air and I write them down wherever I may be."

"Do you carry a note-book for that special purpose?" I went on.

"No, that would be too methodical," he replied. "When I feel that the idea may flee before I get to my study I write it down on the inside flap of a card of matches."

From the reading of some of his masterpieces I knew at once that in such a cramped space there was ample room for his brain-child.

Harrowing Thoughts

Brooding does one no good. Yet I sometimes find it unavoidable. I believe that in this I am not alone. For misery not only likes company but hunts everywhere for as many sad faced companions as it can find. What upset me was an attractive circular in colors. Pictures of young people engaged in winter sports on one page and then on the opposite an equally entrancing illustration of young women and men dressed for the beach and jolling on the sands of Palm Beach, Bermuda or Hawaii. I was not envious, for I enjoy watching people have a good time, but I went goofy at the message underneath, which said, "Let us get you ready for both ends of our thermometer." All I could think of was a clinic, of nurses gliding about, of solemn-visaged doctors in barbers' rig and I the center of attraction. I pictured myself not only "ready for both ends of the thermometer" but with that very instrument halfway down my throat. I shuddered, my hand shook and I laid the paper down. No tropics, no snow fields and no thermometer in mine.

Rough on a Dear Friend

It did not surprise me to find a bill had been introduced in the Legislature to prohibit pictorial proclamations of Santa Claus as chief endorser of one or more brands of liquor. It strikes me that the idea of bibulous Saint Nicholas has been rather overdone and particularly during the festive campaign of alcoholic publicity that marked the recent Yuletide.

The proposed legislation, I understand, would make it a crime to hook-up Santa Claus and Soandso's famous blend of whisky. I doubt if any steady or unsteady consumer would be swayed in the least by Santa Claus' approval of this or that potent beverage. Neither, as I view it, would his devoted followers be lured from virtue's path and turn tipplers because of his example. The whole idea, however, may be offensive to many, though hardly worthy of the attention of the Great and General Court.

On the other hand some may endeavor to plausibly explain that as the sale of liquor has been legalized it now has a legitimate place in the Santa Claus myth. That, however, is the height of nonsense. In fact, the whole business may well be left to public opinion, which will, in my opinion, put an end to it more quickly than an act of the Legislature.

Oddments

If you follow the political news you will see how rapidly Newton is becoming Massachusetts' leading city for producing candidates for top notch offices. Moreover, the Newton brand is the voters' guarantee of highest quality.

First, Newton policemen are warned that sobriety is to be the watchword for 1936 and now a member of the Massachusetts Senate introduces a bill to make intoxication an offense for which a legislator would forfeit his seat. Let's see, wasn't Repeal supposed to correct such things?

Left to Right—Mayor Edwin O. Childs, A. B. Bradley and Frank Jones of Bradley & Jones, Builders, G. M. Craig and J. P. Maloney of W. L. Thompson Co., Mr. Ferguson of Edison Elec. Ill. Co.

The tremendous interest shown by Newton residents in the GE New American Home, as evidenced by the hundreds of visitors on the opening day, Sunday, Jan. 12, is indicative of the open-mindedness of home makers in learning about new ideas and seeing ultra-modern equipment.

The house, which is located at 130 Nehoiden rd., Waban, was officially opened for a 30-day public inspection period by Mayor Edwin O. Childs.

"Employment of the term 'use-sequences' in all discussions and announcements regarding the 'New American' home built by Bradley & Jones for Mr. James T. Trefrey, has resulted in many queries as to just what this actually means in the home," Mr. Bradley said today.

"What it means is that rooms are planned in such a relation to each other that no 'traffic' problem is created, that the maximum amount of work can be accomplished by the fewest steps in any one room, that the various functions of working, sleeping, eating, and so on may follow in logical order throughout the house, from the time that the family car is placed in the garage and the occupants enter.

"This can probably be best seen in the kitchen of the new home," Mr. Bradley continued. "The modern kitchen is all-electric. It is a combination of cooking laboratory and living space. Modern equipment such as the refrigerator, range, electric dishwasher, and garbage disposal unit is made more effective by adequate wall space and lighting. Equipment has been built in so as to avoid dirt pockets. Major pieces of equipment are so placed that operations in the kitchen fall into normal sequence—receiving supplies, storing, preparing and mixing foods, cooking, serving, cleaning up, and restoring dishes and foods. Equipment has been organized into work centres for more efficient operation. The same applies to the home laundry equipment."

The kitchen in the new home on Nehoiden rd., which was opened to the public last Sunday, is the result of collaboration between artist and engineer. Since it exploits the majority of the changes that have been made in the "New American" home, it is expected that it will receive a great amount of attention from visitors.

W. C. T. U.

The West Newton W. C. T. U. celebrated their 46th anniversary in the parlors of the Lincoln Park Baptist Church, West Newton, on Tuesday evening. A delicious home cooked supper was served. There was community singing at the tables. Rev. Blake, pastor of the church, Rev. Arthur W. Kelly of Auburndale and Rev. John S. Franklin were the speakers. Miss Madeline Neade entertained with trumpet solos and songs. Miss Mildred Beardsley with readings and pianoliques, and Edgar O. Butz, Jr., with songs. A most enjoyable evening, was had by all who attended. Mrs. Ella F. Hall was chairman of the supper committee and Mrs. M. Millie Beardsley of the program committee.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

WITTENS SETS NEW RECORD IN 300

Newton High's sparkling track team, stronger than last year in six of the eight events, outscored Brockton by 59-27 at the Newton High drill shed track yesterday afternoon. Brockton took first in only two events, the 600 and 1000-yard runs, in which Newton is notoriously below par, and also captured a close team race.

Notable performances were chalked up by Jack Allen, who became eligible this week, doing 5 ft. 10 in. to win the high jump, and Nathaniel Heard, who won the shotput at 47 ft. 6 in. Co-captain Warren Wittens, who seems to produce a better performance at every attempt, set a new track record in the 300-yard run, winning the event over his teammate, Bob Muther, in 35 2/5 seconds.

Wittens beat his co-captain, Ray Huling, in a close hurdles final to open the meet, and Paul Dussossoit finished third to account for the only clean sweep scored. Newton sprinters came through in good shape, showing the benefit of their experience of last week as Paul Forte nosed out Louis Montgomery, Brockton's football ace, and Don Hines took third for Newton. Kozlowski won the 600 and DeCelle took the 1000 for Brockton's only victories. Corthell gave the Brockton winner a great finishing race in the shorter run, being very close as Kozlowski won in 1 m. 25 2/5. Elmer Ross of Newton was third. Dave Irwin ran second to DeCelle in the 1000, which was won in 2m 37s, and Mandeville of Brockton took third.

Newton proved very strong in the field events. Jack Allen's first in the high jump was very encouraging. Watson took second for Brockton ahead of Carl Davis. Massell and Huling outleaped LeTerrouille of Brockton in the broad jump, Massell winning at 9 ft. 3 1/2 in. Nat Heard's 47 ft. 3 in. beat Rosenthal of Brockton in the shot, and Stelmick was third for Newton. Newton led 50-22 at the relay, just as they did last week against Everett, and Coach Enoch started his next-best relay quartet, Hines, Mergendahl, Madfis and Dussossoit, who lost a very close battle with the Brockton team of Montgomery, Roberts, Werner and Coz.

NEWTON FIVE TOPS CANTABS—FOURTH WIN

Although not big, as basketball teams go, the Newton High quintet is developing into a fast, smoothworking aggregation under Coach Frank Simmons. On Friday and Tuesday the local team chalked up two more wins on foreign courts to make it four straight for the season and to maintain a clean slate. The Friday victory was at the expense of Westboro High by a 31 to 21 count. The Tuesday victory was at St. Mary's gymnasium, Cambridge, in the opening Suburban league game for Newton against the Cambridge Latin outfit. The orange and black's winning margin was again 10 points in a 27 to 17 affair.

Captain Allan Smith and Leonard Lesourd, Newton forwards, were the high scorers at Westboro, each tallying four goals from the floor and three on free tries for eleven points. These twenty-two counters were sufficient to give Newton an edge but Johnson's three points, Savignano's four, and Gruber's basket from the floor for nine additional points helped to clinch the verdict.

The St. Mary's gym court has always been a jinx for Newton fives but Captain Smith led his mates to a clean win over the Cantabs. Smith again tallied eleven points high scorer and was followed by Lesourd with E. Ledger at centre and Savignano with four each, and Gruber with one point.

This afternoon Coach Simmons' squad entertains Melrose high and next Wednesday Milton Academy before engaging in its second league affair against Rindge Tech on the Newton court next Friday.

OUR LADY HIGH WINS

Our Lady High basketball team came from behind to score a well-earned 34 to 29 victory over St. Mary's High of Brookline on Tuesday at the Our Lady gymnasium. At half-time the locals were trailing by three points but fought gamely to eventually overcome the handicap and take the lead. Morris, Our Lady High center, was the individual star, scoring 17 points which included seven floor baskets and three successful free tosses. W. Doherty and Marino were the local forwards with the latter scoring five points and the former three. Gallagher relieved Marino for part of the game. Hanney played at right guard scoring seven points and Timmins and Mullin shared the left guard berth. Timmins scored one from the floor.

NEWTON CHAPTER, ORDER OF DEMOLAY

On January 6th, the Newton Chapter Bowling Team, defeated a team from Old Colony Chapter, from Quincy, the match taking place in Newton, with the home team bringing its record up to two wins and no losses. Saturday evening, January 11th, Newton Chapter, held another supper preceding the regular meeting, Dad Simmons, Advisor of Newton Chapter, being the speaker. There were over one hundred and fifty DeMolays and friends present at the meal which was prepared by Dad Kellaway. During the meeting which directly followed the supper, the History of the Chapter was read by the Historian, Russell R. Taylor.

Newton Chapter, Order of DeMolay, and Waltham Assembly of Rainbow, held a joint church service on Sunday morning, January 12th, at the Phillips Congregational Church in Waverstown. There were approximately seventy-five DeMolays and fifty Rainbows in attendance.

NEWTON BOWS TO FAST STONEHAM SIX

Undefeated this year, Stoneham High's capable hockey team extended their string of consecutive victories to five last Saturday by sinking Newton 3-0 at the Boston Garden. The defeat left Newton in fifth place in the league standing, in grave danger of being shut out of the championship playoff series for the first time in a decade.

Faulty position play was largely responsible for Newton's shutout. Doc Martin's team was ably assisted by MacLeod and Milner on his first rush at the Newton goal, but from that point on, the Newton defense was never again as effective a unit. Don Orr had a fairly long shot on Herb Buttrick, and George Downes snapped home the rebound for the first Stoneham goal at 3:58.

Newton Defense Ineffective
Cliff Thompson, Stoneham's valuable center, was sandwiched neatly by MacLeod and Milner on his first rush at the Newton goal, but from that point on, the Newton defense was never again as effective a unit. Don Orr had a fairly long shot on Herb Buttrick, and George Downes snapped home the rebound for the first Stoneham goal at 3:58.

Stoneham had another break when MacLeod and Daniels were caught up the ice, but Buttrick smothered the puck. Thompson was allowed a penalty shot, but his drive was wide of the goal. Newton put on the so-called power play when McCaleb was put off for tripping Herrick, but the power was all Stoneham's as their forwards broke away twice from the cordon of Newton skaters and forced Buttrick to make difficult saves.

Newton's disorganization became greater as the second period ticked away without a Newton goal to even the score. With four and sometimes five orange jerseys swarming inside the Stoneham blue line, Stoneham had frequent chances to score. Truesdale was tested three times toward the end of the period as Don Harrington combined with Paul Brown and Jack Herrick, but Newton's drive stopped when Herrick was sent to the box for tripping. Immediately after this, Stoneham got another goal. Thompson took the puck from the faceoff, passed to Orr, who passed in turn to Bob Gray and the Stoneham sophomore had only to lift over Buttrick as the Newton goalie dropped to the ice. This goal came at 10:29. Newton came back strong when Thompson was penalized in the last minute of the period, but there was no damage done.

Newton actually was due for a goal when Don Harrington's drive from the blue line hit the nets at the start of the last period, but referee Leo Hughes ruled Herrick offside on the play. Downes and Thompson were sent off in succession late in the period, and though their absence was soon neutralized by penalties on Harrington and Herrick, there were several near-goals at the Stoneham end. Milner, MacLeod and Daniels all had fine opportunities, but were out-guessed by Truesdale.

Stoneham took advantage of the hit-or-miss Newton offensive drive, sending a man down the ice ahead of the Newton defenders three times, and the third time, a score was the result. Harrington had gone off for charging, and Bill Daniels lost the puck deep in Stoneham ice when he apparently had a sure goal. Don Orr came back fast for Stoneham, with none to beat but Jack Buttrick, and he made it 3-0 at 9:3.

Newton played Framingham, second-place team in the Bay State League, and pinned a 5-0 shutout on them Wednesday at Bullough's Pond. John Blodgett scored no less than three goals, and Herrick and Milner each tallied once, to equal the record of four league opponents of Framingham, who have scored only five goals on Paul Clark. Incidentally, the game was a real feather in the cap of Gordon Turner, Newton's reserve goalie, who shut out a team which had scored 17 goals in four games.

Newton will have a last chance to redeem themselves and make the playoffs when they face Belmont tomorrow at the Garden. A pair of victories over Belmont and Cambridge Latin will probably put Newton in the finals ahead of Medford, Rindge, Belmont and Cambridge are definitely counted out of the race, except as they are able to impede the finishing sprint of the other teams.

Newton Highlights

William Fred Schipper of Newtonville, senior at Union of New Hampshire, was elected Wednesday to the captaincy of the university hockey team. Schipper was captain of the hockey team at Newton High, and starred on the Worcester Academy sextet after graduation from Newton in 1931. He has played center for New Hampshire ice teams for three years.

Al Carvelli scored two assists for B. U. against Yale the other night, but the Boston team lost, 7-2. Al Freeman won the 600-yard run for Northeastern freshmen in their meet with Boston College freshmen, covering his favorite distance in 1m 21s.

Bill Fish of Newtonville swam a leg of the relay for the Bowdoin Junior varsity against Olneyville Boys' Club in their dual meet last Saturday at Brunswick. Newton High looks more and more formidable as a contender in the open meets, with Wittens, Huling, Muther, Heard, Forte, and Allen all likely point men. Next week come the Northeastern inter-scholastic games, and Enoch's team will rule the favorite, in spite of the fact that there will be no broad jump.

Annual Morning Coffee Held In Aid of Thrift Shop

The fifth annual Morning Coffee for the benefit of the Pennywise Thrift Shop was held Thursday, January 16, from eleven to one o'clock at Trinity Church, Newton Centre.

A novel entertainment was presented this year. This was a skit, entitled "A Day at the Thrift Shop," which was planned by Mrs. Harold C. Sears.

As usual, the price of admission was a package of articles to be given to the Pennywise Thrift Shop, the profits of which help to support some of the Diocesan charities, the Episcopal City Mission, the Church Home Society, and the House of Mercy.

The committee consisted largely of members of three of the Neighborhood Groups. Those who presided at the coffee urns were Mrs. I. S. Dillingham, Mrs. A. Dudley Dowd, Mrs. Charles K. B. Nevin, Mrs. C. O. Bassett, Mrs. Thomas Johnston, and Mrs. F. H. Underhill. The co-chairmen were Mrs. Hanson Hart Webster and Mrs. William Leverett Cummings.

LET YOUR POCKETBOOK TAKE ITS PICK!

THEY'RE ALL BIG
...ALL BEAUTIFUL
...ALL BUICKS!

THERE was a time when the price tag told the main story about a car's quality. Low price, low quality—high price, high quality.

But Buick has changed that. For example, the sleek Buick Special at $765* factory list has the same basic Buick quality as the lordly Limited at more than twice the price!

It has the same more efficient type of valve-in-head straight-eight engine. The same smooth, lash-free torque-tube drive. The same tiptoe hydraulics, solid steel "Turret Top" roof, "Knee-Action" gliding ride.

The difference is in size and capacity and finish. All Buicks are big in power and ability, beautiful inside and out, Buicks to the innermost fibre.

Bring your pocketbook here and let it choose from four cars that range in price from $765 factory list to $1945*.

*YOU CAN AFFORD THE NEW BUICK $765 to $1945 are the list prices at Flint, Mich., subject to change without notice. Standard and special accessories groups on all models at extra cost. All Buick prices include safety glass throughout as standard equipment. Convent new GMAC 6% TIME PAYMENT PLAN

Hospital Aid Association Meets

The 50th anniversary of the establishment of the Newton Hospital Aid Association was celebrated Tuesday by more than 150 Newton women in the cafeteria of the hospital. In the 50 years, the association has spent $38,000 for equipment, scholarships and free bed service, in addition to $25,000 given for the equipment of the cafeteria when the new hospital was built a few years ago.

Among those who spoke were Dr. William O. Hunt of Newton, who told of the early days of the Newton Hospital; Dr. DeWitt G. Wilcox, also of Newton; Miss Elizabeth Wheeler, Superintendent of the Social Welfare and Out-Patient Department, and Miss Mary E. G. Bliss, of the Alumnae Association of Nurses.

Officers of the association elected were Mrs. Maynard Hutchinson, president; Mrs. Pitt Drew, Mrs. Dana M. Dutch, Mrs. Charles B. Floyd, Miss Mary C. Sawyer and Mrs. W. V. Taylor, vice-presidents; Mrs. C. E. Knepper, recording secretary; Mrs. Arthur H. Shannon, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. D. Morley Lodge, treasurer.

THE ANNUAL MEETING OF THE ELIOT CHURCH

The Eliot Church of Newton held its annual meeting and dinner on Thursday evening at 6:30 o'clock. It was one of the most interesting and best attended in the history of the Eliot Church. Mrs. William D. Reid and Miss Florence Heard were the hostesses at the turkey dinner. At every place was a booklet containing the financial statement of the various departments and organizations within the church and the "Chronicles for 1935." Several brief and interesting oral reports were made by various officers of the church. Mrs. Mabel Pearson, contralto member of the quartet, sang in her usual superb manner. The meeting was held on the forty-ninth anniversary of the fire, Jan. 16, 1887, which destroyed the second meeting house of the Eliot Church. Reports showed a loss of sixteen members by death in 1935 and the addition of thirty-six new members. Last year the church expended $22,665 for church expenses and $6,260 for benevolences. The minister of the church, Dr. Eusden, reviewed the decade, 1926-1935, he has served as minister.

Evening Lecture
By Famous Explorer

The next meeting of the Waban Woman's Club will be held in the Angier School Auditorium, on Monday evening, January 20th, at 8 o'clock.

Capt. "Bob" Bartlett, a well-known explorer, will be the speaker. Captain Bartlett was born in Newfoundland, was given command of a schooner at seventeen years of age; and he has gone on most of the important Arctic expeditions from the United States in the last half century. He has done much research which has proven highly valuable to scientific institutions. He is one of eight to have been awarded the Hubbard medal.

Club members may bring one guest to this meeting free and others for the regular guest fee.

The Music committee is sponsoring four lectures on the "Symphony" by Mr. George H. L. Smith, two having taken place; and the others to be on January 24th, and 31st, at the Waban Neighborhood Club House at 10:15 a. m.

The Educational Discussion Group, led by Mr. C. E. Drake, director of Research and Guidance in the Newton Schools, will meet January 21st, at 10 a. m., in the Angier School, with the subject, "Measurement of Ability: Grades 1 to 6." A discussion period will follow each meeting of the series, and there will be a question box for more general questions on education. These will be answered at the next meeting.

After the entertainment, Mr. Stanley Marshman invited all to come up on the stage and examine his Show Box Theatre, meet his fellow puppeteers, and see the inside workings.

During the social hour which followed, coffee and sandwiches were served, and the pourers were Mrs. R. A. Eusden, Mrs. L. B. Handley, Mrs. Arthur J. Mansfield, and Mrs. G. W. Willmarth. In An Hawaiian Garden To Be
Pictured

Interwoven with history and anecdote, "In An Hawaiian Garden," a Talk by Mrs. Alice Cooper Bailey, is being anticipated with pleasure by the members of the Newtonville Woman's Club for their meeting on January 21st, at 2:30 p. m. Mrs. Bailey, who until her marriage spent the greater part of her life in the Hawaiian Islands, is the daughter of Henry E. Cooper, at one time acting president of that Republic, and who later served in numerous executive capacities. The lectures will be illustrated with slides depicting the charm and beauty of these islands in the Pacific, and native Hawaiians will contribute special music.

Mrs. John A. Jennings, State chairman for the Club Institutes, will be a guest of the Club at this meeting.

Contributions of materials are solicited for the work of the Physical Handicapped, by Mrs. Earl J. Smith, the chairman of that department in the State Federation, and a receptacle for the purpose will be found in the rear of the Auditorium. Old silk stockings, small glass jars, bits of cloth, silk, and yarn; cigar boxes, Christmas cards, etc., are among the items requested, by Mrs. John F. Capron, who desires the Twelfth District to furnish its share of materials.

Attention is called to the postponement of the Sunday Afternoon Musicals which had been scheduled for January 26th. A date will be announced later.

Newton Centre Garden Club

The Newton Centre Garden Club will open the season of 1936 with a meeting on Monday, January 20th, at 10:30 o'clock, at the Greenhouse of Mr. Alfred A. Frazer, 65 Linden street, Wellesley. There will be a "Practical Demonstration of seed planting, transplanting, cuttings and plant culture."

Schools And The Public

Dr. Bancroft Beatty, president of Simmons College, will address the Newton Community Club on January 23rd, at Underwood School Hall, at 2 p. m. The subject of his lecture, "Helping the Public to Understand Its Schools," is one that should be of vital interest.

Pres. Beatty, formerly on the School Committee in Belmont, has devoted his life to the field of Education. At Harvard he obtained his Bachelor of Arts degree in 1915, Master of Arts in 1916, Master of Education in 1922, and Doctor of Education in 1922-1923. He has served in the Mathematics department of the Danvers High School; as principal of the Northboro, Mass., High School, and of the Hanover, N. H., High School, in the departments of Education at Dartmouth and Harvard; and he became president of Simmons College in 1933.

With a thorough understanding of the youth of today, Pres. Beatty ranks as one of the foremost interpreters of modern educational ideas and ideals.

Tea will be served by the Social committee, Mrs. Frank G. Dennison, chairman.

Members should note the change in the opening time of the Club meetings from 2:30 to 2 p. m., according to vote of the Club at the last meeting.

Mrs. Wilson C. Dort and members of the Drama and Literature committee have planned to give an afternoon devoted to Play Reading.

The Club will have Mrs. J. Earle Parker, president of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs, as guest on this day.

Interesting Financial Lecture

"If all manufacturers would pass along to the consumers, as rapidly as possible, savings in costs of production, recovery would be hastened," according to Edison B. Smith, financial editor of the Boston Herald, in his lecture at the Newton Centre Woman's Club, on Friday, January 10th. Mr. Smith pointed out that Henry Ford has always made it a practice to give more for less, thus creating more purchasing power, more demand for goods, and so more jobs. In this connection it was brought out that as taxes become a part of the cost of production and so increase the prices of goods, it is desirable to keep taxes down and not impede progress by an increased cost of living.

Years of study of financial and political history have enabled Mr. Smith to draw many interesting conclusions as to the apparent tardiness in rounding the recovery corner. He said that political activity always makes business wary, and that business would have been better without much of the legislation passed in the past two-and-a-half years; that a major depression always follows a war from nine to eleven years after its close, but that recovery has always followed every depression in five to seven years. He assured that there has not been inflation and he hopes the citizens will continue to demand sound money. An international gold standard would solve many problems materially, he believes.

The optimistic outlook is somewhat clouded by the increasing cost of government, there having been a rise in spending of from 8 per cent of the national income in 1913 to 39 per cent in 1935. Annual interest payments on government indebtedness now equal the total cost of government in 1913. This burden must not be increased. Voters must therefore facilitate election to office of more cautious spenders of government funds, was his conclusion.

Professor DeHaas now holds the chair of International Relations in the Graduate School of Business Administration at Harvard University.

The officers of the Newton Trust Company, members of its Women's Advisory Committee, and the West Newton Community Service Club were guests of the afternoon. Blood, who described his life and the wonderful things he had done.

Mrs. C. E. Valentine had "Men Against Death," by De Kuit, and "Dr. Still and Osteopathy," both of them reviewed in an interesting manner. Over 300 Rotarians In Assembly Here

Annual Mid-Year Gathering of 31st District at City Hall

The Newton Rotary Club acted as host this past Wednesday for the delegates attending the Mid-Year Assembly of the 31st District of Rotary International. The 31st District comprises the eastern half of Massachusetts, including Worcester, and Rhode Island, and the 321 Rotarians in attendance represented 63 out of the 70 clubs in the district.

Mayor Childs, who is a member of the Newton Club, officially welcomed the guests to the city of Newton and James Melcher, President of the Newton Rotary Club extended the hospitality of the new members. The Governor of the 31st district, Henry Porter, presided over the conference, the local arrangements for which were all handled by Lyneum Bruce, past-president of the Newton Club.

The sessions opened at 9:30 in the Memorial auditorium of the City Hall and closed at five, with a recess at noon to permit the members to enjoy one of Seller's famous dinners.

During the years, there have been 12 governors in this district and a number of those who were present were presented to the Assembly during the morning session. An equally interesting feature in the afternoon was the honoring of the six oldest New England Rotarians, all of whom joined in 1910. The proceedings of the day were divided among a dozen-odd topics of Rotary activities; each was introduced by a speaker and followed by discussion.

Aldermen Study Transportation

The problem of proper transportation for residents of Newton is receiving serious consideration by the Newton Board of Aldermen. At the meeting of the Board on Monday night, Alderman Walker said that although 30 days have elapsed since the Service Bus Line petitioned for a franchise to operate busses between Oak Hill and Newton Center, the committee investigating this matter desire more time for study, not alone of the Oak Hill problem, but to consider the extension and improvement of present bus service in this city. He asked that the License Committee be given an extension of time, not to exceed six weeks, in which to make a report. The request was granted by the Board.

Alderman Temperley asked if the Middlesex & Boston Company has given any information as to what it intends to do regarding service to Oak Hill. Alderman Colby answered that because of the larger questions involved in the transportation problem, the committee had not been asked any opinion, as yet, from the Middlesex & Boston Company, as a larger plan will be placed before the M. & B.

The meeting of the Newton Club next Monday will be addressed by George E. Roever, a Boston attorney, who will talk on the work of the American Civil Liberties Union.

General Butler Denounces War at Forum Meeting

Says This Country Has Little to Fear From Japan

A great warrior who would nevertheless keep us out of wars, Major Smedley D. Butler, Retired, of the U. S. Marine Corps, discussed America's relations with the Orient at the Newton Community Forum last Sunday afternoon. Replete with droll anecdotes and satirical reflections on international relations, the address was most impressive as an argument for non-interference in foreign affairs. Introduced by General Daniel Needham, the speaker stated:

"We should not be afraid of the Orient. We are not going to have war with Japan, but if we don't watch our step we may allow a lot of fanatics and jingoes to put us in a position where we cannot get out of it."

"For every war you have to have a slogan. This time it's the open door in China. Our trade with China is small and the trade balance is against us, but trade with Japan is running in our favor over $2,000,000 a month. We would do better to close the Chinese door and endeavor to keep open the Japanese one. The question is whether it is worth while for us to lose four or five million American boys to maintain our Chinese trade under these conditions."

"Japan could not make war on us now if she wanted to. The Japanese I have talked to are perfectly frank about it. They say, 'We want our place in the sun. We carry our farm lands in a spoon. We must have room for expansion, and they tell the people there is plenty of vacant land in Manchuria. But they are too busy in Asia to think of coming over to attack us.'"

"I think the next great war will start in the East. Japan wants to be a great empire. She wants to combine with China and run the combination. In reality this is a matter of getting oil. No nation can be a great empire without oil."

"She knows the League of Nations doesn't put sanctions on oil. It hasn't dared because the Standard Oil Company is more powerful than most nations. I am reminded of the time when the United States sent 3,000 marines to China at the behest of the Standard Oil Company."

St. Dept. Truck Kills Laborer

Antonio Bianchi, 50, of 234 Chapel street, Nonantum, was almost instantly killed yesterday morning about 7 o'clock when he slipped while trying to climb on the side of a moving truck at the street department yard on Crafts st., Newtonville. The dual rear wheels of the 5-ton truck rolled over Bianchi's body and head, crushing him. The body was taken to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance. Bianchi is survived by his widow and seven children. He was a native of Italy and had been in the employ of the Street Department for several years.

Fake Magazine Agents Jailed

Most policemen have to hunt for lawbreakers but two paid a visit to the home of Patrolman James Halloran of the Newton police at 269 Nevada st., Newtonville, last Friday and as a result each was given a two months' prison sentence by Judge Weston in the Newton court on Monday. The pair, Arthur Luscomb and Joseph Travers, both of Upton st., Boston, were canvassing Newton and obtaining money for subscriptions to a magazine at reduced rates. They included Halloran's home in their travels and pulled the old wheeze of being young men trying to obtain funds for a course of study. Halloran became suspicious and placed them under arrest. An agent of the magazine alleged to be represented by the pair testified his company had received many complaints from persons who had been duped.

Fumes Overcome Man Fixing Truck

Natalie Sostillo, 23, of Maplewood ave., Newton Centre, was overcome by fumes from the exhaust of a truck on Dorset road, Waban, early Monday morning. The truck, which had been cutting snow, broke down and Sostillo crawled under it to make repairs while the motor was running. He slumped unconscious and was carried into the house at 256 Dorset rd. Police headquarters was notified and Patrolmen Dalton and McGrath, who arrived in a cruising car, applied the wrong method of resuscitation until Ladder 2 of the fire department came with an inhalator. Sostillo was then taken to the Newton Hospital where he was kept for further treatment.

Unite For Young People's Conference Here

Nineteen Organizations Plan Large Meeting

Plans are well underway for a large Young People's Conference to be held Feb. 14 and 15 in Newtonville. For the first time in the history of the city nineteen organizations representing young people of this community have formed an allied agencies' conference and it looks as if it will be a meeting where between four and five hundred older boys and girls will gather for two days.

The principal speaker will be Dr. Samuel W. Grafflin of New York, a leading character in speaking to young people today. He has probably spoken at more conferences, to high school assemblies and college organizations than any one living man.

When he was nineteen years of age he was captain of a three-masted schooner and spent a great deal of time following the seas. The urge for more education came to him and he worked his way through college and graduate schools until now he holds degrees in law, theology and in teaching. He holds the chair of English in the Robert MacBurney School for Boys in New York City. He has been a Professor in college, Director of Religious Education in New York, and has had a wonderful and varied experience.

Dr. Grafflin is a great man of stature with a powerful voice which is sincere and rings true to any audience he addresses. This is his second trip to Newton and last year he was secured by the Newtonville Woman's Club and gave two addresses.

He should command a great audience of young people and they all should be privileged to hear him.

Mr. Joseph Ludwign, Director of Religious Education at the Central Church in Newtonville, will have charge of the song services. He will bring to this conference a new and varied program of song worship. His background has been rich in experience of leading singing and his knowledge of hymnology and history of tunes make him particularly adapted for such an undertaking.

The cooperating agencies are as follows: Newton Y. M. C. A., Newton DeMolay, Hi-Y Club of Newton, Epworth League Circuit, Tri-Hi Club of Newton, Young People's Council, Rainbow Girls of Waltham, Norumbega District of Religious Education, Young People's Fellowship, Watertown Hi-Y, Watertown Tri-Hi, Christian Endeavor Society, Belmont DeMolay.

These with representatives from 21 churches form the Promotion Committee under the supervision of Martin A. Campbell who is the head of the Hi-Y and Tri-Hi movement. The general sessions will be open to adult groups, also others who are not definitely connected with any of the allied agencies. Clyde G. Hess, Director of Boys' Work at the Newton Y. M. C. A., is directing the conference and also Chairman of the General Committee.

More Speeders Fined In Newton

As a result of activities against speeders by Newton police on Washington and other streets, a large number of autists appeared in the Newton court the past week. Speeds of more than 40 miles are regarded as too fast. Among those fined $5 each were—Elizabeth Snow, Weston; William Allen, 141 Jewett st., Newton; Yvonne Sutton, 316 Highland st., W. Newton; Eleanor Kent, 10 Regent st., W. Newton; Emily Rockett, Cliff rd., Wellesley Pines of $3 for not stopping before entering a through street were imposed on Percy McGary, 296 Lake avenue, Newton Hids., Alexander Goodman, 37 Montrose st., Newton; Frank Walsh, Brookline.

Another batch of speeders were arraigned in the Newton court yesterday as a result of the present spasmotic police campaign against torrid driving, following recent automobile fatalities in this city. Among those fined $5 each were—Julian Jackson, 109 Grove st., Auburndale; Kenneth Spaulding, 19 Woodbine st., Auburndale; Preston Barba, 11 Willard st., Newton; William Barber, Quinobequin rd., Lower Falls; Carl Anderson, 97 Newtonville ave., Newton; Winifred Moran, 221 Crafts st., Newtonville; John Storer, Athelstane rd., Newton Centre; Francis White, Page rd., Newtonville; Katherine Day, 107 Sargent st., Newton.

Refuse Gas Sta. Permit at Cross St., W. Newton

For the fifth time in the past few years Frank Vincenzo of Adams st., Newton was turned down Monday night in a petition for a permit to establish a gasoline filling station at 1105 Washington st., corner of Cross st., West Newton. No person appeared to speak in favor of the petition. Marion E. Marsh of 58 Cross st., West Newton was the first to speak in opposition. Miss Marsh said she objected for the same reasons she had stated at hearings on the four previous petitions; Cross st. is just as narrow, the corner is just as dangerous, and there are six filling stations now between Newtonville and West Newton to serve the public.

Robert S. Jigger of 27 Cross st. said the residents of the neighborhood had to make perennial visits to City Hall because of Vincenzo's petitions. He said the location of the proposed station is noted for speeding by autists. He also called attention to the fact that there is a bus stop at Washington and Cross sts. Henry E. Seaman, speaking for owners of property at 113 Washington st., said the gasoline station would depreciate values of nearby residences.

The Aldermen took little time to again turn down Vincenzo's latest attempt to get the filling station permit. The License Committee held a meeting during a 50 minute recess, and when the Board resumed the open meeting, recommended leave to withdraw on the petition. The recommendation was accepted.

Want New Street At Lower Falls

Because of heavy truck traffic on narrow Grove st. at Newton Lower Falls, Aldermen Crozier and Brocklesby, at the instigation of Lower Falls residents, have conferred with Mayor Childs on the matter of constructing a short street between Grove and Concord sts. to serve as a by-pass for traffic. The proposed street would be located near St. Mary's Cemetery. It is suggested that traffic from Wellesley toward Auburndale would be one-way on Grove st., and traffic from Auburndale toward Wellesley would use the by-pass from Grove to Concord sts.

$50,000 Fund For Newton Boys Scholarships

Memorial To Newton Aviator In World War

A permanent fund of $50,000 has been given for scholarships for boys of the Newton High School by Mrs. Eugenia H. Brown, Newton Centre, in memory of her son, Lieutenant Stafford Leighton Brown, a graduate of the Newton High School, class of 1915, who was killed in action during the World War. The income of this fund will be available for graduates of the Newton High School who enter higher institutions of learning.

The fund will be administered by a Board of Trustees. The income from this fund will be used for the granting of scholarships, to be known as the Lieutenant Stafford Leighton Brown Scholarships. These will be awarded to deserving and well qualified boys who are graduates of the Newton High School.

Lieutenant Stafford Leighton Brown was a prominent member of the class of 1915 of the Newton High School, and among other activities in the school had an outstanding record as captain of the Tennis Team. He entered Dartmouth College, leaving college during his sophomore year to join the American Ambulance Field Service unit in France in 1917. After spending some months at work near Paris he served for some time in the vicinity of Verdun, where there was much desperate fighting at that time. During this period he passed through many thrilling experiences and had many narrow escapes from death.

Lieutenant Brown was later transferred to the famous Lafayette Escadrille, receiving his training at Tours and at Issoudun. Lieutenant Brown has a war record as a daring and resourceful pilot. He obtained many important photographs for the French government over No Man's Land before meeting death in a fall from a Spad monoplane on September 28, 1918.

Wants Snow Off Sidewalks

A move to make Newton sidewalks safer for pedestrians was started at the meeting of the Aldermen on Monday night by Alderman Guzzi of Ward 3. He offered an amendment to Section 181 of the City Ordinances which specifies that in certain sections of the city owners or occupants of buildings or land abutting a sidewalk covered with brick, stone or concrete shall cause snow to be removed from such sidewalk within 24 hours after such snow has ceased to fall. The amendment was going to apply to snow which falls from buildings, as well as that which falls from clouds. Guzzi said he failed to see any good reason why this ordinance should not apply to the whole city as well as to the sections specified. He offered the amendment to have the ordinance apply to the whole city and remarked it would be a help in the next snowstorm. The amendment was referred to the Claims & Rules Committee.

Bus Waiting Room At New. Hospital

At the meeting of the Aldermen on Monday night it was voted to grant a waiver of the setback line to permit the erection of a small building within 2 feet of the street line on Washington st. in front of the Newton Hospital. The structure will be used by persons waiting for busses. The need of such a waiting room has been recognized for years, not only for persons visiting patients, but also for the employees at the hospital and for persons being treated at the outpatient department. It was stated that the small structure will conform to the appearance of the hospital building.

Want New Street At Lower Falls

Because of heavy truck traffic on narrow Grove st. at Newton Lower Falls, Aldermen Crozier and Brocklesby, at the instigation of Lower Falls residents, have conferred with Mayor Childs on the matter of constructing a short street between Grove and Concord sts. to serve as a by-pass for traffic. The proposed street would be located near St. Mary's Cemetery. It is suggested that traffic from Wellesley toward Auburndale would be one-way on Grove st., and traffic from Auburndale toward Wellesley would use the by-pass from Grove to Concord sts.

THE GOVERNOR'S BUDGET

Governor Curley's budget message to the legislature is one of record figures. It surpasses that of 1935 by some seven million dollars and it surpasses the previous highest expenditures of 1930 by more than three and a half millions of dollars. As in his message to the legislature the first of the year the Governor seeks additional taxes from several sources to replace the annual assessment upon cities and towns known as the "state tax." This has been for many years the method of balancing the state budget and has resulted in an excessive burden of local taxation upon real estate. It is estimated that without a state tax the average reduction upon local real estate would be about two dollars per thousand. Under the new sources of taxation suggested by the Chief Executive the burden would be spread over a wider field. With this principle we find no criticism, but there should be restrictions to prevent our cities and towns from being assessed in the future in this way. The new budget figures, however, do not eliminate the entire tax as increases in the highway budget, operation of the 48-hour law, step-rate pay increase to state employees, forthcoming election expenses, additional patients and higher feeding and housing costs offset the new suggested revenues somewhat. Under the budget figures a state tax of three million is called for instead of nine and a half millions in 1935. Bond issues recommended total slightly more than nine million dollars and include a new addition to the State House and new buildings in five other state departments, for hospital buildings for the feeble minded and criminally insane and the like. A reduction in the amount transferred from the highway fund to general expenses from nine and a half million to six million. The Governor, however, reiterates his request for a special commission to work out ways and means of effecting governmental economy and he also points out that 1935 revenues showed an increase over the previous year of about four and a half million dollars due to improved business conditions plus legislation pertaining to the tax upon parimutuel betting and the surtax on incomes.

There will be strenuous objection to certain recommendations for taxes upon particular items such as cigarettes, alcohol, and slot machines as well as increasing the registration fee for motor trucks which latter item will not be effective during this year. There will be much objection to certain construction under the bond program and it looks as though the legislature will be in for considerable debate on the budget in the coming months. Meanwhile the taxpayers are preparing for the opportunity, which must surely come, to halt the ever-increasing flow of governmental expenditures and bring about the much needed reduction and return to the pay-as-you-go policy.

A WORTHWHILE MEMORIAL

The creation of a memorial trust fund to be used for scholarship purposes for boys graduating from the Newton High School comes as a most welcome surprise. It is extremely unusual that a public school becomes the beneficiary of the income from a fund of $50,000 as in this instance. It is expected that the fund will create scholarships which will approximately double the scholarships now offered to Newton pupils, although the number of scholarships, the individual amounts and other details remain to be determined by the trustees to be appointed under the terms of the trust. Awards to deserving and qualified boys will be known as the Stafford Leighton Brown Memorial Fund scholarships in memory of a graduate of the Class of 1915 who became an aviator in the world war and lost his life in service. The generosity of the donor, the mother of this youth, is to be greatly commended. The act becomes even more commendable when we realize that in the short space of another twenty years the lives of nearly one hundred youths will have been greatly influenced by this magnanimous gift. As a lasting and permanently valuable memorial it is very much worthwhile.

NO GUEST RIDERS

Our contemporary in the neighboring town of Wellesley, The Wellesley Townsman, has inaugurated an automobile sticker campaign against hitch-hiking, guest riders and automobile insurance. Editorially the Townsman sees the only hope of the motorist from exposing himself to unfair lawsuit in discouraging thumbers as well as the presence of the sticker as voicing protest against the increase in guest insurance. The entire question of automobile insurance is one upon which we have frequently commented. The sticker campaign will undoubtedly meet with some popular approval and should be of some effect in helping to reduce false claims for damages. It does not, however, provide the solution to the problem which can only come through the adoption of adequate insurance laws with provisions for the financial responsibility of the owner and operator.

ENGLAND LOSES A KING—THE WORLD A FRIEND

The outstanding news of the week was the passing of King George. Everywhere one goes there seems to be a genuine feeling of sorrow for his death and a sincere expression of admiration for his life. Probably this admiration rises out of the fact that although in an exalted position and although possessed of considerable power, King George never lost that sense of humbleness which realizes that people are humans, whether they are servants, subjects or masters. King George was democratic, kindly, considerate and honest. He was a ruler of a great domain yet he ruled by brain and not by brawn. England has lost a king—the world has lost a friend.

The Newton District Nursing Association has appointed Miss Frances M. Gerrie to its force of nurses. She comes to Newton from Brockton where she has had nearly three years experience. She is a graduate nurse having taken her training in public health work at Simmons. This is the busiest season of the year in the local association's work. In December 1219 visits were made, a goodly number being to homes where new babies were cared for. Two of the nurses, Miss Montana and Miss Doane have been ill and have been unable to make their customary visits.

The first of series of chamber music concerts under the auspices of the Boston College Alumni Association will take place in the auditorium of the college library at Chestnut Hill on Sunday, Feb. 9th. The soloist for the first concert will be Daniel L. Healy, formerly of Framingham and a graduate of Boston College in 1926. He is now dean of the School of Music at Duquesne University, Pittsburgh. The program for the concert will be given by the Boston Chamber Orchestra composed of members of the Boston Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Nicolas Slonimsky.

Several teachers in Newton will participate in the program of the second annual conference on elementary education under the auspices of the Boston University school of education which opens this afternoon and which will continue tomorrow. Miss Mabel C. Bragg, of Newtonville and Dr. Guy M. Wilson, professors of education at B. U., are in charge of the program. Mrs. Barbara Stratton, Elmer E. Ellsworth, Frank R. Page, and Superintendent Julius E. Warren of the Newton schools are taking part.

The annual meeting of the Lancers, a cavalry troop which is officially known as the Governor's Mounted Escort held its annual meeting recently. The troop will observe its 100th anniversary this coming year and has chosen Robert P. Ashley of Woodward st., Waban, as its president. By virtue of this election Mr. Ashley is entitled to the rank of Colonel. At the same meeting Frank C. Rohde of Scribner park, Auburndale, was elected to the board of directors.

The many friends of W. M. Crane, Jr., of 29 Hunter st., West Newton, are interested to learn of his entrance into the field of education as associate director and field representative of Camp Pinnacle at Lyme, N. H. Mr. Crane has resigned as manager of a local chain store where he has been employed for the past few years. Mr. Crane has had considerable training and experience as a leader of young people, having been brought up in Y. M. C. A. work, graduating from the University of Georgia with Phi Beta Kappa honors, and having served as a camp counselor for several years. He was graduated from the Harvard Law School in 1925. He is well known in the work of the Second Church in West Newton where he has taught Sunday school classes. In 1931 he married Betty Bowen, daughter of Alderman and Mrs. Benjamin B. Bowen, of 13 Hillside ter., West Newton.

A number of local men and women are sponsoring the membership drive of the Massachusetts branch of the League of Nations Association. Since it was founded in 1921 the organization has been carrying on educational work concerning the varied activities of the League as well as publishing pamphlets providing speakers for lectures. Among those actively interested in Newton are Mrs. Malcolm Green, Mrs. LeRoy T. Gulon, Mrs. Louis O. Hartman, Mrs. J. Porter Russell, Mrs. Charles E. Valentine, Miss Louise Walworth, Dr. Charles N. Arbutnot, Prof. Mac Anderson, Mr. Frederick J. Fessenden, Mr. William T. Foster, Mr. Norton A. Kent, Mr. James B. Melcher, Lucius E. Thayer, Dr. DeWitt G. Wilcox, and Ralph H. Rogers.

For many years Newton youths have achieved considerable distinction in collegiate sports as members of varsity hockey teams. Occasionally there comes a year which is remarkably outstanding and it is apparent that this year will be among the most noteworthy. At Brown University the defense is well taken care of by three local youths with Jackson Skillings as goaltender and Norman Appleyard and Charlie Butler as the defense positions. All three are Newton Centre youths. At New Hampshire University the captain and centre of the varsity six is Fred Schipper of Newtonville. Al Carvelli of West Newton is on the forward line at Boston University and Bob Waldinger of Newton Centre is battling for the regular berth as goalie on the Harvard Crimson team.

One would think that the disappearance of a goose would be the cause of but slight public interest yet one day last week such an occurrence resulted in considerable excitement in Newtonville. Hampy, a pet goose of the children of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Geyer of Linwood avenue was missing. Being a well-behaved goose and a delight to the several hundred children attending the Carr School nearby many of them assisted in the ensuing search without the slightest trace of being found. As darkness fell hope waned and it seemed probable that Hampy had been "goose-napped" and sacrificed upon someone's dinner table. The next day, however, Hampy returned to his warm and comfortable home unharmed and untroubled, much to the delight of the neighborhood.

National Bank Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the Newton National Bank was held Tuesday, January 14th. President Weston reported a satisfactory year, although there had been a slightly lower trend in earnings. Total deposits now stand at over $1,500,000 which is the highest total in the history of the bank. At the Directors' meeting which followed, it was decided to follow the intent of the Banking Act of 1935 and declare dividends semi-annually instead of quarterly. A dividend of $2 per share was declared to be paid Feb. 1, 1936.

The following officers and directors were re-elected:

60 YEARS AGO

(From Newton Republican, Jan. 27 1877)

The report that Hon. Leverett Salt-onstall is a candidate for city auditor of Boston is unfounded.

The snow blockades have seriously interfered with Newton freight business.

A dog owned by Mr. Whitney of Lower Falls, of Spitz-Esquimaux breed was taken with hydrophobia early this week, bit 7 or 8 other canines and had to be killed. Several persons narrowly escaped being bitten.

Business is very dull at Lower Falls except at the paper mills, to some of which the ice in the river is a serious inconvenience.

Prairie chickens, partridges, and all kinds of poultry at wholesale prices at the Newton City Market.—(Adv.)

A few mornings since a four horse working team headed toward Newton turned in from the main road at Newtonville and started down the railroad tracks from Leonard's crossing just as the New York Express train was due. Mr. Leonard shouted to the driver, who was asleep, and he got the team and himself out of danger, but none too soon, as the express came thundering along. Had the train been on time the man and horse would have been killed.

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday afternoon a petition was received from Engine Companies 1, 2 and 3, Hook and Ladder 1 and Hose Companies 4 and 5, asking for an increase of pay, as follows: Foremen to $100 per year, Assistant Foremen and Clerks, $90; Hosemen and Laddersmen, $80. The petition was referred to the committee on Fire Department. The Committee on Health reported leave to withdraw on the petition of A. M. Cook for a license to collect night soil and swill. The petition of S. B. Swain to collect swill in Wards 1, 2, 3 and 7 was granted. The petition of James Claffy for the renewal of his license to collect night soil throughout the city.

At a regular meeting of the School Committee on Wednesday night the following estimate of school expenses for the present year was submitted: salary of Superintendent, $2,700; salaries of teachers, $49,400; salaries of janitors, $3,812; salary of secretary, $300; fuel, $7,000; contingent $3,134.13.

The meeting of the West Newton Lyceum last Monday evening at City Hall was a very interesting and profitable one. James T. Allen opened the debate on the resolution—"That civilization justifies the stronger nation in overcoming the weaker." He argued in favor, instancing Rome's removal of nations which opposed civilization, and England's compelling China to open her ports at the world's demand; America compelling Japan to open her ports, and sweeping the Gibraltar pirate from the sea. Rev. Mr. Barnard answered in the negative. He said that while practically the strong control the weak, there is no principle in such a doctrine. No part of a nation can call itself civilized when it claims the right of might. Rev. Mr. Lisle urged the principle of non-resistance as a means of converting barbarians to civilization. J. W. Carter said that moral power is equal to physical.

Mr. Charles Abercrombie writes us that his non-appearance at Miss Eames' concert was on account of illness; his physician advising him not to sing.

S. F. Cate's boat sleigh, "The Snow Bird," took a merry party of young people out on Thursday night to Bailey's Hotel at South Natick.

The high school military battalion now drills twice a week in the "Army Hall" of the Claffin Guards at Newton Corner. The cadets from the Centre as they take a double-quick for home, are often aided by passing travellers who allow every inch of their sleighs to be used. The drill hour over, the boys going to Newtonville, take the 9.35 train, each paying his own fare. Major W. Z. Ripley, 86, is commandant; and J. P. B. Fiske is military instructor.

The ice on Baptist Pond, Newton Centre, is about 8 inches thick. George W. Ellis will commence harvesting the ice soon.

Newton Graphic, Jan. 27, 1911

Mayor Hatfield's recent suggestion that the school houses be made to serve two classes instead of one when its capacity for the latter has been reached, is worthy of considerable thought. For sometime suggestions have been made for the use of school houses outside of the regular hours, but usually these ideas have run toward civic improvement rather than educational purposes.

A bill was filed in the Legislature this week which is known as the "clavicle-patella bill." The bill regulates women's dress and provides that it will be an offence under penalty of a fine of even 6 months in jail for a woman to wear a skirt falling (knee-cap) or a waist falling more than a little below the clavicle (neck bone). It also prohibits tights, long stockings unless concealed beneath the skirt and other particulars of feminine dress.

Powers' Paragraphs

The mild, Florida-like winter came to an end last Sunday with the arrival of a real blizzard and we have been having old-fashioned New England weather since. The deep snow of Sunday proved, as did the big snow storms of the past two Winters, that automobiles can't buck snow-drifts. The Newton Street Department did a good job clearing the streets, but the dozen new sidewalk plows, used for the first time Sunday, could not be operated on a large percentage of sidewalks in the city. Many of our sidewalks, particularly in the older sections of the city, with trees and poles bordering them, or placed even inside the curb, are too narrow to permit the new sidewalk plows to pass. Some of the sidewalks are so narrow that even a tractor plow cannot traverse them. The only method to plow many sidewalks in the city is by the use of horses.

The Street Department has been gradually replacing its motor vehicles and now has 35 horses. Most of these equines, however, are aged and cannot buck deep snowdrifts while hauling a plow. The Town of Brookline has for several years hired under contract about 35 vigorous horses which it can have the use of during Winter months for sidewalk plowing. Probably Newton might adopt this method.

The action of Alderman Guzzi in offering an amendment so that the city ordinance relative to the clearing of snow from concrete, stone and brick sidewalks shall apply to all sections of the city with the approval of many citizens. This ordinance enacted many years ago was formerly enforced but for some years has been disregarded largely by police and citizens. For the past ten Winters we have been criticising (or crapping, if you dislike our attitude) about the failure of the police to enforce the snow removal ordinance. We have been agitating this matter at the urging of Newton residents many of them elderly persons, who walk instead of riding in an automobile as we do. There is some excuse for a sidewalk abutting the property of some infirm person not being cleared of snow, provided such a person cannot be expected to do this task. But there is no reason why persons vigorous enough to shovel a short stretch of sidewalk, or financially able to pay someone else to do so, should not be compelled to obey the ordinance regarding snow removal. Neither is there any good reason why the police should not make persons in business districts clear snow off the short stretches in front of their premises. And the city should clear sidewalks in front of public properties.

The action of Congressman Russell of this district in voting against the bonus naturally has resulted in a large percentage of former service men here coming embittered against the former Mayor of Cambridge. But, ex-Congressman Luce, now spoken of as the leading candidate for the Republican nomination to oppose Russell (assuming the latter is renominated), also voted against the bonus. So, it is probable that we may have candidates for both the Republican and Democratic nominations who will argue that they will be friendly to the men who served in the World War.

The Licenses Committee of the Board of Aldermen is making a study of bus transportation in this city. Under the present agreement the Middlesex & Boston Street Railway has a practical monopoly of all intra-Newton bus service. As a member of the Board several years ago, we favored the agreement with the M & B for two reasons. Many residents of Newton had invested money in this corporation a generation ago believing it to be a sound security. With the decline of street railways because of automobiles, the investments made in this local transportation company dwindled rapidly in value. We believed that those who held M & B securities should be given reasonable consideration and protection. The other reason is—the Middlesex & Boston pays decent wages and gives fair working conditions to its employees. What wages and working conditions would some new bus company, or some company controlled by outsiders give to employees, if given a franchise in Newton?

That more children are not hit these days while walking on icy streets, or coasting on such streets, speaks well for the caution exercised by the great majority of motorists. Many of the youngsters will not step aside when they see an automobile approaching, and if one blows the horn on the car, warn them, some of the little boys and girls, and some not so little, reciprocate by making insulting remarks.

Talk about reflected glory. The newspapers have been printing many items about this person and that person who danced with the new King of England when he was Prince of Wales, who dined with him or conversed with him. A news dispatch from Chicago, printed all over the country, tells of a man on whose foot the Prince of Wales accidentally stepped while getting out of an automobile. All of these fortunate persons should now enjoy the added social prestige.

New Use for Snow

The arrival of snow, without which the Winter was to me becoming a trifle unpeppery, did much to gladden my heart, although I doubt if you'll ever suspect the reason. It was not that I longed for a bit of old-fashioned coasting, although it would be genuinely thrilling to take a double runner ride. Neither do I go in for skiing because I lack that quality of fearlessness, as well as the appropriate clothing. I feel that after I had obtained the necessary paraphernalia, together with shoes, socks, trousers, shirt, coat, muffler, etc., and a round-trip ticket on a Sunday "snow train," I would find myself too self-conscious to engage in any light-hearted amusement.

No, my reason for welcoming the snow is a political one. If you suspect I am interested in snow-removal contracts you are wrong. The idea of plenty of snow is most agreeable to me for the reason that political speakers can find something besides mud and bricks to sling at each other. They can turn to snowballs which are more reasonable and equally effective.

We are hearing, if we give heed to radio programs, and reading, providing our taste for those things is keen, a lot of things that politicians are saying about each other. It is metaphorically referred to as "mud" which is giving it an exalted name in many instances. Snow is much cleaner and can be made into a hard globular weapon. Pelting each other with snowballs should be required of orators whose speeches are designed to soak the other fellow. It should be added to the list of popular Winter sports.

Home Town View

Much discussion has drifted my way regarding the construction of sidewalks in the semi-rural sections of the State. From that which I was unable to avoid and therefore digested more or less reluctantly, I found that there is a difference of opinion regardless of the political angle. One man declares that in some places the sidewalks are much needed, and a provision. He admitted that the number protected would be relatively small but insisted that lives were as important as those of any citizens. Another man told me his idea of the romantic had been destroyed. He enjoyed, he said, motoring through country roads and did not like to see urban features introduced in the form of well constructed sidewalks with granite curbing.

Personally, I am free to confess that a drive through several towns where the sidewalks have been placed con-

Why They Come

Stern men of business are not always that way. Possibly you've discovered this yourself. Of course I know, "a little nonsense now and then is relished by the best of men," but I've always endeavored to be brief and to the point in dealing with those of great or even near-great financial interests.

Just to prove that I was wrong in at least one instance, I must relate how a senior member of a larger profit-making concern had his fun at the expense of his partner. The latter, engrossed in some deep office problem, gave orders that no one was to be admitted to his private office. He even had his luncheon brought in from a nearby restaurant, if you please. His word was law and because of that fact he had never had any lock put on the door. That fact, too, helped his partner in his plot.

The day turned out to be full of interruptions for the man who wanted to be left alone. He couldn't understand why all callers at the office that day intruded. About 4 o'clock in the afternoon he decided to quit for the day. He was pretty angry, too. But that was nothing to his rage when he found a large sign on the door, "Visitors' Day Everybody Welcome."

Oddments

Thrill is that desirable quality which we would like to possess if it did not require us to do without some of our favorite luxuries. When others display it we are apt to call them stingy. I leave it to you to place a man I heard reply, when he was asked what daily newspaper he read, "whichever one I pick up in the train when somebody has thrown it away."

The expenses of an election, be it National, State or municipal, fall on the taxpayers as does about everything else connected with governmental administration. In order to relieve it or dispense with it altogether, why don't we have all such votes taken by one or more magazines? Of course, I am assuming that the recent nationwide poll is accurate and satisfactory to both sides.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

NEWTON FIVE WINS
SIXTH STRAIGHT

The Newton High basketball team continued on its victory path by winning two more games last week Friday and this week Wednesday. Coach Simmons' outfit has now hung up six straight wins and is striving this afternoon for another against Rindge Tech. Last Friday's victory was over the Melrose High five by a score of 26 to 13. Captain Allan Smith led the Newton team with eleven points followed by Leger, at centre, with 8. Savignano tossed in two baskets from the floor for four points and LeSurd collected three free tries for the remaining points.

Captain Smith was the star of the Wednesday victory over Milton Academy which resulted in a 35 to 13 score. Smith tallied six floor baskets and two free tosses for a total of 14 points to outscore the entire visiting aggregation. The remaining local points were fairly evenly divided with LeSurd scoring 6, Johnston 5, Savignano 4, and Gruber, DeSantis and Colony two each. Coach Simmons used sixteen players as Newton built up a 27 to 1 lead at the end of the third period.

Newton Highlights

This is a crucial week end for Newton High track and hockey teams. Tonight at the Boston Garden Doc Martin's hockey club will either bow itself out of the picture or win a berth in the playoffs, and tomorrow the track team, hailed generally as the favorite, will go after another championship in the Northeastern interscholastic games, also at the Boston Garden. Newtonians will do well to take in both events.

Newton's hockey team really is in a spot. While they lead Medford by one point, and Medford is not liable to win their game with Melrose, nevertheless the MacLeod clan will be virtually out of the championship race unless they beat Cambridge last night. Newton's six points look small beside Stoneham's twelve. For the first time, on account of the new cumulative point system, Newton may enter the final series, if they enter at all, without even a mathematical chance of the championship.

The track outlook is something very different. Coach Enoch had several fine holdovers from last year in Captains Witten and Huling, Bob Mutter, Nate Heard, and others. There came Paul Forte, Jack Allen, and a sprinkling of lesser lights to add balance to an already strong dual meet team. The result is that Newton is considered, on the eve of the first open meet, as a hands-down favorite.

Coach Don Enoch, soft-spoken now, as ever, won't say that his team will spread-eagle the field. He points to Brookline as the opponent to watch, since Hartman won the hurdles and the high jump last year, and says they may produce a fine relay. But he is enthusiastic about the fighting spirit on his own squad this year, something not every Newton team has shown, and a quality that will bring in those extra points.

Regardless of whether or not Newton wins, the Northeastern meet will be probably the best the university has ever sponsored. Masciana of Everett, Hartman of Brookline and Witten of Newton are good and fast, and among them and the turn of the meet may depend on the outcome of that hurdles duel between Hartman and Witten.

NEWTON DeMOLAY BOWLING TEAM

Last Wednesday night the Newton DeMolay Bowling Team had a return match with Old Colony Chapter of Quincy. The Newton team was decisively beaten by a greatly improved Quincy team. The rubber match will be played off later this season in Boston.

NEWTON HAS CHANCE TO GET IN PLAYOFFS

Not as contenders for the championship of the league, but as a second-division team fighting for a place in the playoff series, Newton High defeated Belmont by a 3-2 margin in their game at the Boston Garden last Saturday. With that very modest scalp under their belts, the Newton skaters regained fourth place, and will play in the final series unless Medford should upset the Melrose apocryph in the last games of the regular season, to be played today at the Garden.

Newton can hardly be eliminated from the playoffs today, but unless the Martinites put enough enthusiasm in the game to beat Cambridge, they will stay in fourth place win or lose. In the game that should have been only a workout, Newton still showed a general weakness in defensive tactics.

Early Goals Win Game

Newton got an early lead against Belmont when John Blodgett scored after combining with Bill Daniels and Ernie MacLeod. The goal came on the very first rush over the Belmont line, at 2:36. Ernie Miller got himself a fine scoring chance a moment later, but failed to pass to set up a play. Newton forward lines were changed, and Paul Brown slapped home a pass from Don Harrington at 4:50.

Doc Martin tried Joyce as center for Daniels and Milner moving Blodgett and Daniels back to form a relief defense for Milner and George Whitehead. Joyce at once drew a penalty for holding, and Milner another for a board check, leaving Newton two men shy for at least a minute. But Newton held the upper hand throughout this period. Paul Brown and Don Harrington missing a pair of chances that looked like goals.

Belmont rans the hell on one in the middle period, but the honors and the advantage were with the league tail-enders all the time as Newton stayed most of the period bottled up in one end of the rink. Ernie MacLeod missed a score on a rush that showed his old form, circling the Belmont net and losing the puck, but for some minutes after that Belmont kept the rubber kicking around in Newton's half the ice. Doc Martin put his third line on the ice until Turner was chased for interference.

The Newton first line began to cooperate efficiently again, but Milner and Daniels were caught down the ice, and Hartwell scored for Belmont on a pass from Ewila at 6:45. In the ninth minute, Joe Herick put away the rebound from Howie Milner's blast almost from the blue line, but the officials ruled that Herick had stayed too long in the crease, and Newton was deprived of an earned tally.

The third period produced much pure shinny and little pure hockey. Belmont made the best of things, but Newton combination made eight potential thrusts into Belmont territory. MacLeod was in there three times, but Fitzgerald had him tamed beautifully. Bill Daniels coasted across the goal mouth and fired, only to have Fitzgerald fall on the puck, but Howie Milner, following in fast, tucked in the rebound to give Newton a 3-1 lead at 9:04. It was an essential goal, because Hayes, a defenseman, beat Buttrick at 9:53 for another Belmont score. Paul Brown had a goal shortly after Milner scored, chasing in for the rebound on Herick's long shot, but was ruled offside.

Stearns School Centre Holds
Annual Meeting, Election

"Youth Calling All Citizens," was the topic of Miss Helen Sandstrom's paper read before the Directors and friends of the Stearns School Centre at the Annual Meeting held on Monday, January 20th, at the home of Mrs. Cecil W. Clark. Opportunities presenting themselves to social organizations, churches, schools, and individuals prove ably that they are benefactors in cases of health, delinquency, recreation, and leisure time. Social activities at the Centre have been carried on throughout the year under the direction of Miss Sandstrom and her corps of volunteers from private schools and churches.

Frequent school visits have been made at the request of teachers and agencies who have always co-operated effectively in order to solve problems of delinquency, truancy, and attendance. Many visits have been made to hospitals and clinics, and the results from followup calls have been gratifying. A few directors attend regular meetings of recreational groups and very often clubs are invited into the homes of other directors for social times. The Mothers' Club has increased its membership and have a good program planned throughout the year, including talks on home economics, health and legislation, and parties at which the different holidays are emphasized.

The speaker was Father J. A. Sheridan whose topic was "Modern Social Work Problems and Technique." Father Sheridan has been a social worker for 40 years and is familiar with the activities of Christian charity organizations. He says that one of the most important factors in case work is the approach. In order to overcome the difficulties of the child it is necessary to consider the home and parents, since the home reveals volumes. The social worker must know the family, the racial stock, the home training, and the books and pictures to which the child is subjected. The family income is also of grave importance. The family should be self-supporting and in this way can be kept together. Education, furthermore, plays an important part in strengthening family ties. The teachers and parents should work together. Adults seldom realize the value of the school, but it is essential in improving the mental, physical and moral condition of the child, when these fundamentals are understood the social worker has a basis upon which to continue his or her task and by such methods can accomplish a great deal in the community.

The election of officers and directors is as follows:

Salinger, Mrs. L. E. Green, Mrs. F. M. Lowe, Miss Agnes C. Early, Mrs. E. O. Woodward.

The program was on National Defense, and the speaker Captain Jesse

B. Gay, U. S. N. Chief of Staff of the First Naval District. Captain Gay reviewed the part our navy had taken in the great crises of our history. Captain Gay feels that the prestige of an adequate navy is often a prevention of war and that if our country had possessed a stronger navy the Spanish American war might have been averted and that more recently we lost face through the Orient by taking a position we were not able to enforce. The favorable attitude of the present administration is resulting in the building of ships. Lovers of peace should face the facts and make provision for adequate defense.

Mrs. E. B. Parker was chairman of hostesses and Mrs. F. W. Bakeman and Mrs. W. B. Child presided at the table. The other hostesses were: Mrs. H. L. Whittlesey, Mrs. J. P. Holmes, Mrs. A. C. Sunday Savings

Telephone calls

All day Sunday you can make out-of-town telephone calls at week-day night rates.

Take advantage, this Sunday, and make — at the new bargain rates — that telephone call to:

- the mother who hasn't heard from you lately
- a son or daughter away from home
- a friend who is ill
- someone who has a birthday or anniversary soon.

THREE MINUTES of family news, of encouragement, of cheer, of congratulation, will be an ideal Sunday afternoon interlude, and will undoubtedly mean as much to you as to the person you call.

Ever since last June, when telephone night rates went into effect at 7 o'clock instead of at the old hour of 8:30, we have been saying "Save after seven."

Now we say, in addition: "Save on Sunday" because, beginning January 19th, regular telephone night rates apply all day Sunday. This means that from 7 o'clock Saturday evening until 4:30 Monday morning, you can make most out-of-town telephone calls at bargain rates.

STATION-TO-STATION CALLS

When you call to number or for "anyone"

Beginning Sunday, January 19th, and on every Sunday thereafter, the regular night rates (in effect from 7 p.m. to 4:30 a.m.) will also be in effect all day Sunday. This means you can make most station-to-station telephone calls from 7 o'clock Saturday evening until Monday morning, at rates ranging from 12 to 50 percent lower than week-day rates.

PERSON-TO-PERSON CALLS

When you call for a particular party

Beginning Wednesday night, January 15th, and every night thereafter and on Sundays, lower rates are available for the first time on all person-to-person calls which have a day station-to-station rate of more than 35 cents. These rates are in effect during the same hours as the night rates for station-to-station calls — from 7 p.m. to 4:30 a.m. nightly and all day Sundays.

NOTE

When you wish to make a station-to-station call, but you do not know the number, ask information for it. Then give the number to your operator. When you wish to make a person-to-person call, ask for, or dial, "Toll Operator." For further information about telephone toll rates also call "Toll Operator."

General Butler Denounces War

good steel you have to have good coal. Japan gets coking coal from mines in China south of the Great Wall. The Japanese took Manchuria believing there would be oil, and after two years they got 25,000 tons a year, which was not a drop in the bucket.

Humorously alluding to America's imperialistic methods in the creation of the Republic of Panama, Gen. Butler said:

"Japan is doing the same thing in China, Manchuria did not have the oil and the coal. Both are found south of the Great Wall. Therefore Japan moved south of the Great Wall—said the Chinese had insulted them! It is also exactly like the experience we had in the Philippines in 1899.

"There can be no doubt that Japan, Germany and Italy will tie up. All have government by the sword. All have the same basis of serfdom of the soldier classes. Do you think that combination can come over here? What would France do to Germany if Germany came over here? What would Russia do? They are all balanced in Europe. They have not time to attack us.

"Our flag is misused. It is used to cover illegal rackets. It has no business on ships carrying munitions to countries at war. The proper use of our flag ought to be determined by the 130 millions whose lives depend on it. Let them put up the House of Morgan flag on ships carrying arms to Europe."

To indicate that we need not fear war now, Gen. Butler stated during the question period that in England the great Lloyd's organization has offered $500 to 1 the United States will not have war within the next 10 years. He reiterated his belief in isolationist policies and the maintenance of armaments of a strictly defensive nature. He maintained that if American war vessels were restricted to a short cruising radius they could not be used by jingoistic politicians to attack other nations. America should not maintain a large fleet in the Pacific, and the abandonment of the Philippines is, in his opinion, a wise measure, saving us from possible war with other nations. Japan, however, is too busy now in Asia to bother with the Philippines.

CHILDREN'S SINGING GUILD

On the afternoon of Saturday, Feb. 1st, the Children's Singing Guild will present Charles Reppers' fascinating operetta "Penny Buns and Roses," in the auditorium of the Women's Club in Newton Centre. The play, in one act, is delightful in fantastic drollery, telling the tale of the Magical Oven, which bakes off thirty years from any ancient fortunate enough to enter its door, restoring him or her to youth and beauty. Very clever little people have been chosen for the characters, children from Waban, Auburndale and Newton Centre, and there are many dances, group, duet, and solo, and lovely costumes, while the sparkling dialogue is almost equal to Gilbert and Sullivan. The profits from the play will be donated, by vote of the board of directors, to the Junior Red Cross milk fund. The organization announces that Mayor Edwin O. Childs has consented to be a member of the Board.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Federation To Observe Presidents' Day

The presidents of the Twelfth District are to be the guests of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs at the Mid-Winter Meeting on Monday, January 27th, in the Parish House of the Unitarian Church, Newton Centre.

Mrs. J. Earle Parker, president of the Federation, will hold a brief business meeting at 2 p. m., after which the Chorus of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club will entertain with several selections.

Dr. W. Linwood Chase, headmaster of the Country Day School, will give the address of the afternoon, his subject being "Education in Second Gear."

Tea will be served by Mrs. Benjamin D. Miller and her Social committee.

Mrs. Fred G. Sanford, chairman of the Program committee, has arranged for a very interesting and social afternoon, and all clubwomen of Newton are invited to attend and enjoy the program.

Attention of delegates is called to the fact that the Executive Board Meeting listed in the Year Book to take place on this date will be omitted.

A notable event of the week is the evening lecture to which non-members of the Newton Centre Woman's Club will be admitted for a small fee. Through the courtesy of the Union Pacific System Mr. Kirpatrick will give a lecture on "The Pacific Northwest and Alaska" at the Club House, on Thursday, January 30th, at 8 p. m.

The Flower Arrangement Class of the Newton Centre Woman's Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Frederick C. Rising, 84 Parker street, on Monday, January 27th, at 10 a. m.

Dr. Samuel Macauley Lindsay will speak on World Affairs at the Club House on the same date the 27th, at 8 p. m.

The American Home committee is offering a Course of Classes in Cooking with Miss Margaret Fossett of the Boston Consolidated Gas Company. The first class will be held at the Club House on Thursday, January 30th, at 10:30 a. m. The subject will be the "Art of Baking." There will be no charge for admission, but a silver coin collection will be taken at each lesson.

Prescription For Recovery Holds Attention

"What is Now Required for Further Recovery" was the subject of Professor O. M. W. Sprague's address at the Annual Guest Night of the Newton Highlands Women's Club Tuesday, January 1st, in the Congregational Parish House.

Professor Sprague described himself as an old-time democrat who did not approve of the present administration at Washington, especially its meddling with our monetary system, and he did not sanction the NRA which was originally worked out by the Washington Chamber of Commerce, with the aid of Gerard Swaps and several other executives of large corporations, who wished to lessen competition, and control output and prices. His "prescription for recovery" was an increased demand for labor and materials, developed under private auspices, and lower prices for the kinds of things that people want.

He stated he had entire confidence that the great expenditure for the bonus could be met without seriously weakening the credit of our government, but that these expenditures are not getting us anywhere, and sooner or later our credit will be weakened.

Professor Sprague stated that not only Washington but the people in general were becoming bureaucratic-minded; youths get into large corporations and stay with one all their lives; the railroads have not been enterprising; all desiring to carry on as in the past. He referred to the DuPont organization as the one large industry that seems to have escaped bureaucratic management; also referred to the foresight of Henry Ford in stirring up trouble at the beginning of the NRA when it was suggested that the price of cars be put up $50 to $150.

In closing, Professor Sprague suggested that we get back with qualifications and modifications to a sound business policy that will insure more general employment of labor, and higher standards of living, for the mass of the people, thinking more of the consumer than the producer. Then we can have planned economy.

Professor Sprague came to the Club through the courtesy of the Newton Trust Company and these officials were the special guests at the refreshments and social hour which ended a very instructive and pleasant evening.

On Monday, January 27th, the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. will meet with Miss Adelaide Webster of Chester street. Miss Marion Dorr will have as her subject for the afternoon "Fiction," and Mrs. Francis A. Rugg and Mrs. Sanford E. Thompson will present Current Events.

Literary Afternoon and Education Conference

The Education committee of the Newtonville Woman's Club has arranged two events for the coming week. On Monday, January 27th, at 2:30 p. m., there will be a Literary Afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. Mace Andrews, 67 Clyde street. Mrs. Herbert F. Blair, a past president, will read a paper on "Literature Dealing with the Aristocracy, or the 400 of New York City." All Club members are invited, and tea will be served at the close of the program.

Of particular appeal to mothers and to those interested in the schools and libraries will be the Education Conference, the second in this year's series, at 3 p. m., on Wednesday, January 29th, at the new Frank F. Carr School on Nevada street. Mrs. Paul E. Ellicker, chairman of the Education committee, will present teachers who will represent the Clafin and the Cabot Schools.

At the conclusion of the talks, Mr. La Flamme, principal of the Carr School, will extend the invitation to those present to inspect the new building.

This series of Conferences has been designed to acquaint those interested with the assistance rendered to schools, and also to the individual pupils, in the main library and its branches.

Miss Margaret Haskell will be the hostess for the Review Club meeting on Tuesday, January 28th, at 10 a. m., at 5 Vista avenue. The program will be a paper on "Personal Story," by Sheehan, given by Mrs. Guy M. Winslow; one on "Vanderer's Circle," by Parker given by Mrs. John I. Holbeck; and one on "The Native Return," by Adams, given by Mrs. Walter R. Amesbury.

Social Science Club
The Social Science Club will meet in the Church of the Holy Trinity on Wednesday, January 29th, at 10 a. m. Prof. Kirtley F. Mather will lecture on "A Pattern of Life in This Age of Science." Mrs. Robert G. Howard and Mrs. Frank P. Scofield will be the hostesses.

West Newton Women's Educational Club
The Annual Meeting of the Travel Class of the West Newton Women's Educational Club will be held on Monday, January 27th, at 2 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. Wilson C. Dorr, 342 Otis street. Mrs. Justin D. Starkle will read a paper on "The Smaller Cities of Holland."

As this is the Annual Meeting, the leader for the coming year will be chosen, and the country to be studied during 1935-1936 also will be decided upon.

Mothers' Night will be observed by the Junior Group of the West Newton Women's Educational Club on Tuesday, January 28th, at 7:30 p. m. Mr. Raymond Greene, of the Newton High School, is to give an illustrated lecture.

Due to the very large membership, there being 45 members, all future meetings will be held in the West Newton Library.

CHILDREN'S MOVING PICTURES
The Waban Woman's Club is sponsoring a moving picture show for school children which will be given at the Angier School on Saturday afternoon, January 25, at 2 o'clock.

Artistic Exhibit by Garden Club

At the Newton Highlands Garden Club meeting on January 15th, Professor Paul Dempsey, of the Waltham Agricultural Station, gave an interesting and instructive lecture on the general subject "Food for Thought." He told the Club of the work being done by the growers to breed disease-resistant varieties of snapdragons, asters, and other flowers; of the methods to use in their own gardens to combat the insects and bacteria that destroy the vegetables, fruits, and flowers; and gave a list of some of the new varieties of flowers that may be bought this spring.

The Decorative Arrangement Contest for this month, "A Japanese Arrangement," brought out some interesting compositions. First prize was won by Mrs. Emil Haberstroh, for a single spruce branch with its many cones, placed in a pottery jug; the whole a symphony of soft greens, browns, and a touch of black in the teakwood stand.

Second prize was won by Mrs. Edgar J. Smith with a Satsuma bowl on a teakwood stand, using pine sprays and fruiting grasses, the whole against an old piece of thumb-nail tapestry hung on the wall.

Mrs. G. H. R. Gosman showed a lovely bronze container with an arrangement of bare branches. This was placed in front of a long Kake-mono, picturing a snow scene in Japan, in lovely soft tones of blues and greys and touches of rose. The whole composition was full of the feeling of the winter season.

Mrs. H. L. Harris dared an arrangement of poison-ivy branches and berries with faded oak leaves, very beautiful in a rich blue vase; and Mrs. Percy Merry reminded of the coming spring in her exhibit of narcissi in a turquoise-lined bowl.

Mrs. Alexander Caldwell was the Judge of the exhibits and led the discussion and study of the different arrangements, pointing out the good and bad features of each, and making helpful suggestions.

The next meeting of the Club will be on February 19th.

Lodges

Tennyson Rebekah Lodge, No. 119, observed "Wildie Night," the birthday anniversary of the founder of the Independent Order of Oddfellows in America, on Tuesday evening. They exemplified the Rebekah Degree in the presence of the president of the Rebekah Assembly of Massachusetts, Mrs. Cora V. Frackelton, and Board of Officers: Mayor Edwin O. Childs, of Newton, who is a member of that lodge; and other guests, at I. O. O. F. Hall, 15 Southgate pk., West Newton. A caterer's supper was served before the degree.

Sumner P. Lawrence Lodge, No. 177, will observe "Wildie Night," in the same hall, on Monday evening, with an Entertainment, followed by Dancing and Whist. Mrs. J. Garfield Anderson is chairman. Music for dancing will be furnished by "Johnny" Brooks and his orchestra.

LASELL JUNIOR COLLEGE

The snow-covered campus is alive with girls skiing, snowshoeing and tobogganing. On Saturday evening at the annual Winter Carnival the Snow Queen will be crowned, surrounded by her five attendants. An orchestra will furnish music and dancing will be the main feature of the party. Phyllis Gunn of Turners Falls, is in charge of arrangements. Among her assistants are Helen Saul of Pawtucket, R. I., and Marian Mapes of Cleveland, Ohio.

At the meeting of the Home Economics Club on Monday evening Kathryn Chamberlain, Lasell, '36, spoke on "Lighting of Homes."

NEWTON CHAPTER AMERICAN RED CROSS

The directors of the Newton Chapter American Red Cross held a meeting Thursday, Jan. 16th, at the home of Mrs. Vernon B. Sweet, 3 Magnolia ave., Newton. A good number were present and a delightful tea was served by the hostess.

The following of the Works Progress Administration have completed Red Cross Standard First Aid course under Miss Phyllis F. Brown and will receive their Red Cross certificates: Agnes K. Bonner, Margaret King, Arlene Olsen, Lucille Richards and Nevetta J. Smith.

DR. POWER'S FIFTH LECTURE

"The Naval Conference: Its Momentous Bearing upon American Policy" will be the title of the fifth lecture in the series of Current Events Talks by Dr. H. H. Powers which will be given next Tuesday evening, Jan. 28th, at 8:00 o'clock in Eliot Church Chapel, Newton. This will deal with the problem of the Pacific, but some time will be devoted to George V and to Kipling.

Attendance at these lectures keeps up well. Dr. and Mrs. Guy M. Winslow of Auburndale, Miss Maud Shattuck of Needham, Mrs. Francis Muddock, Miss Margaret Aubin and Mrs. Franklin E. Smith of Newton are among those holding season tickets, and Judge and Mrs. Fred T. Field of Newton, Miss Virginia Smith of New Brunswick, N. J., and Miss Barbara Burnham of Essex were also members of the audience at the last lecture.

Carl P. Dennett At Newton Forum Next Sunday

Carl P. Dennett, chairman of the National Economy League, will address the Newton Community Forum next Sunday afternoon, February 2, in the Newton High School Auditorium on "The Conservative Point of View Toward the Solution of Our National Problems." Kirtley F. Mather, President of the Forum, will act as chairman of the meeting. Prior to the address, a short musical program will be rendered by Ida B. MacKnight, Contralto, accompanied by Mary L. Pucciarelli, Violin, Ruth W. Masters, Cello, Mary Barr Snyder, Piano.

Mr. Dennett is well-known as an outstanding spokesman of big business. He is a vice-president and director of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, Chairman of the Executive Committee of the Fisk Rubber Company, a Director of the First National Bank of Boston, John Hancock Life Insurance Company, Old Colony Trust Company, Sellers Manufacturing Company, Morris and Essex Railroad, and North River Insurance Company. He has been President of the General Capital Company since 1919. In view of the fact that several speakers of liberal tendencies have already been heard at the Forum this season, the selection of Carl P. Dennett is considered most timely.

Waban Wants Bus Line Changes

On Wednesday night at City Hall a hearing was held before the Licenses Committee on a proposal to make important changes in routes of the Middlesex & Boston bus lines in this city. Delegates from the Waban Improvement Association asked for more frequent bus service for that village. They favored a plan devised by Philip Ver Planck of Fenwick rd. which would discontinue the line from Lake st. to Newton Highlands along Commonwealth ave. and replace it by a line which would run between Waban and Cleveland Circle, Brookline, via Beacon st. Another suggested change in the plans would be to discontinue the Newton to Waban line and the Newtonville-Newton Centre line and replace these by a line which would run from Oak Hill to Newton Centre, Newton Corner, Newtonville and thence back to Newton Centre and Oak Hill. This line would run only in one direction, so that any person living between Newton Centre and Newton Corner, or between Newtonville and Newton Centre, now served by existing lines, would have to take a roundabout trip to get back home.

Residents of Oak Hill who were present concurred in these plans, but Harry Hanson, president of the M & B, who was also present, did not favor the abandonment of the heavily patronized line between Newtonville and Newton Centre, nor the idea of having only a one-way circuit line from Oak Hill.

Fund Campaign Is Receiving Good Response

Volunteer solicitors in the 1936 Community Fund Campaign working under the direction of George W. Pratt, chairman for the Newton district, report a gratifying response from residents of this section during the first week of the drive.

GEORGE W. PRATT

This year the campaign aims toward a generous oversubscription of its minimum goal of $3,750,000 for the 100 hospitals, health and social agencies serving the Boston metropolitan area.

Speaking on behalf of the campaign, Mayor Edwin O. Childs said this week: "I am glad to endorse the Community Fund Campaign. It deserves the support of every large-hearted, broad-minded, public spirited citizen. Participation in this united effort is a distinct contribution towards happier people and a better world."

Police Arrest Runaway Girl

Tuesday evening Inspectors King and Burke of the Newton police went to a house on Park st., Newton, and took into custody a 16 year old girl who some months ago left her home in Passaic, N. J. The visit of the police to the house followed the receipt by Newton police of an anonymous letter telling of her presence at the address given. She was arrested on the charge of being a stubborn child and will be arraigned today in the juvenile session of the Newton court. Her parents in Passaic have been communicated with and the girl will probably be returned to that city.

He was born in Lisbon, New York 65 years ago, the son of Myron T. and Elizabeth (Thompson) Stocking. He graduated from Amherst College in 1895, from Yale Divinity School in 1901, and was ordained a Congregational minister that year. In 1913 Amherst awarded him the degree of D.D.

Dr. Stocking is survived by his wife, Mrs. Grace (Porter) Stocking; and four daughters, Mrs. Philip Bishop, London; Mrs. James P. Rowley, Dean Vaughan Dabney, George A. Holmes, Professor Frederick S. Woods, Almon E. Fales, A. E. Vose and Harold Leach.

Among those attending were Rev. Everett C. Herrick, D.D., president, Andover-Newton Theological School; Rev. Ernest Hatch Wilkins, D.D., Oberlin College, Ohio; Rev. Charles C. Merrill, D.D., mission secretary of the Congregational and Christian Churches; Rev. Randolph Merrill, Rev. A. William Loos, Rev. Russell Loos, Rev. Raymond Calkins, D.D., Rev. Ashley Day Leavitt, D.D., Rev. Arthur L. Kinsolving and Professor Charles Swain Thomas.

The last meeting of the month was given over to an exposition of Federal Savings and Loan Associations, the discussion being led by Mr. Francis Mason of the Federal Government. Mr. Mason was introduced by Newtonian David Greer, who was also a guest of the club. The subject proved one of considerable interest, provoking much comment pro and con.

Incinerator In Use Again

After having been out of commission for several weeks, the new incinerator at Newton Highlands was placed in operation again on Wednesday. The furnaces at the building had to be relined with new firebrick. While the incinerator was not working, rubbish has been deposited in dumps and the winter winds have been blowing it, as of yore over surrounding areas.

Kiwanis Club Presents Books To Newton Schools

The Newton Kiwanis Club, having completed a highly successful year under the leadership of President Rupert C. Thompson, Jr., got on to a good start in 1936 with President J. Ernest Gibson at the helm. The new president, a charter member of the club, accepted his duties on Jan. 7 with a stirring appeal for the furtherance of all Kiwanis ideals. The installation exercises were presided over by Immediate Past President James P. Gallagher of the New England District.

The president will have the special support and assistance of the following officers and directors: Edward E. Hickey, First Vice President; Arthur B. Norley, Second Vice President; L. Frank Perkins, Secretary; George L. White, Treasurer; Directors: Frank Avantaggio, Charles Barrows, Thomas H. Burns, Wilfred Chagnon, Stephen E. Hodges, Burt M. Rich, William F. White.

At its second weekly meeting of the year, the club guest speaker was Major E. Farnum Rockwood. His subject was the National Defense Act. Major Rockwood's long association with army affairs well qualified him to handle his vital and interesting subject. The outstanding point of Major Rockwood's talk was that an adequate national defense is the best method of preventing war. This thesis was so developed that there was little question in the minds of the members but that each and every one should give serious study to the National Defense Act.

An extra large attendance witnessed the admittance of the first 1936 new member, "Bert" Moore, Newton manager of the Johns-Manville Company. On Tuesday, Jan. 21, the regular luncheon was followed by a scholarly address on the Constitution and the recent AAA decision. The speaker, Mr. Edward M. Rowe, an able lawyer, dealt less with the technical phases and more with the practical aspects. He did not take issue with the Supreme Court's wisdom, but he did have with his listeners the realization that the farm problem is still a problem and one still unsolved.

The last meeting of the month was given over to an exposition of Federal Savings and Loan Associations, the discussion being led by Mr. Francis Mason of the Federal Government. Mr. Mason was introduced by Newtonian David Greer, who was also a guest of the club. The subject proved one of considerable interest, provoking much comment pro and con.

School Committee Receives Protest

The resolution of censure against Kirtley F. Mather of the Newton School Committee, recently passed by Newton Post, American Legion, was read at the meeting of the school committee on Monday night. Mr. Mather was criticized by the Legion Post because of his opposition to the compulsory oath of allegiance which teachers must now take. This resolution was instigated by James A. Waters of Newton Highlands, a member of the Newton Board of Registrars, and an attorney. After the resolution was read by Secretary Kellar of the school committee, Mr. Mather suggested that he would leave the room while his colleagues discussed the resolution. George H. Fernald, Jr., chairman of the committee, told Mr. Mather that he need not absent himself as no action was necessary on the resolution other than acknowledging its receipt.

Supt. of Schools Warren expressed his appreciation of the $50,000 gift made by Mrs. Eugenia Brown of Newton Centre which will provide scholarships for boys of Newton. Mr. Warren said the gift fills a great need. Last year there were 45 applicants for the Meserve Fund Scholarships, and only two could be granted.

The committee voted to grant the use of a room at the Hyde School as a branch library for children. A condition was imposed that a stairway be built at the expense of the Library Department. The committee voted to approve a recommendation of Supt. Warren that before new teachers in the Newton schools will assume positions in the future, they must fill out a form provided by the Newton Health Department and signed by the city's physician. The Health Department will also furnish a plate for an x-ray which will be taken of prospective teachers when deemed advisable.

Hutchinson To Run For Delegate

Maynard Hutchinson of 15 Temple st., West Newton, Alderman from Ward 3, and Cecil E. Fraser of Cambridge have announced their candidacies as district delegates to the Republican National Convention to be held at Cleveland in June, with Sybil N. Holmes of Brookline and Ella M. Vaughan of Waltham as alternates to represent the 9th Congressional district, to be voted for at the State Primaries on April 28. Because of implications to the contrary which have appeared in the public press, these candidates emphasize that they are unpledged. Mr. Hutchinson is a life long resident of this city and has taken a prominent part in civic and philanthropic activities and in supporting the interests of the Republican party. Mr. Fraser, while not having held political office, has been a prominent worker for the Republican party in Cambridge and has been President of the Cambridge Republican Council. He is engaged in business as treasurer of Incorporated Investors of Boston.

REV. DR. JAY T. STOCKING

The death of the Rev. Dr. Jay T. Stocking is a great loss to the community and to the parish which he served since last spring. Dr. Stocking served the Central Congregational Church in Newtonville for many years prior to accepting a call to wider fields in the middle west. Many were the kind words that were said about him and great was the spiritual guidance and help he gave to Newton residents of that generation. Following his pastorate here he became nationally known in the field of religion as an author and lecturer and he gave his best days to the profession which he loved. Last spring he returned to Newton Centre, and although his stay has been of but a few short months he readily endeared himself to the newer generation of Newton people. Though he has gone the results of his work and influence will remain for many months and years to come.

THE CONSERVATIVE OPINION

The fifth meeting of the Community Forum is scheduled for Sunday in the high school auditorium. The speaker will be Carl P. Dennett who is well-known in the field of big business. He will speak from the viewpoint of conservatism in regard to the economics and well-being of the country. In these days of experiment, demand for change and drastic reform of fundamental principles, the conservative side should not be overlooked. Without change we cannot hope to have progress but without careful thought and consideration chaos too frequently results. The viewpoint of the forum speaker this week should stimulate the thought of the community to an even greater extent than the previous speakers by the contrast of views expressed there.

WILL THERE BE A SHADOW?

Sunday is Candlemas Day—the day when the ground-hog is supposed to emerge from his winter retreat. As superstition has it, if he sees his shadow he will return for another six weeks' nap until winter goes, but if the day is cloudy and there is no shadow, winter is supposedly over. Superstition or no superstition, shadow or no shadow, the unbroken cold spell of the past ten days gives us a feeling that winter has still far to go before it is displaced by the balmy spring breezes. At the present time it is more probable that we may be in the middle of another blizzard and the ground-hog will not be able to find his way out.

THE NEW HOSPITAL HEAD

The directors and trustees of the Newton Hospital have elected Herbert M. Cole as president of that organization of mercy. Mr. Cole has long taken an active interest in the work of the hospital and in many other civic affairs. He has also been editor and president of the successful Boston News Bureau for many years and some time ago took his turn in serving the city as a member of the Board of Aldermen. The Newton hospital has chosen well in selecting a worthy successor to a worthy president.

Newton Bank Women In Charge of Dinner Meeting

Notwithstanding the inclement weather, there was a good attendance at the dinner meeting of the Newton Bank Women on Friday evening, Jan. 24th, held at the Fox and Hounds Club, Boston. The meeting was in charge of Miss Mary Clark, Miss Ruth Burns and Miss Lillian McDade of the Newton Centre office of the Newton Trust Company. Miss Ethel T. Gammons, secretary of the National Association, and manager of the West Newton branch of the Trust Company, was among those attending. The speaker was Mr. William B. Carolan of Newton Centre, who gave an interesting talk on Credits.

VILLAGE PLAYERS

Under the direction of Mrs. William Brackett, the Village Players of Newton Centre will produce "The Bishop Misbehaves," a very amusing comedy in three acts by Fred Jackson, this week Friday and Saturday evenings in the Unitarian Parish Playhouse.

E. Irving Locke will play the Bishop and others in the cast include, Edward N. Griffin, Glenn Wilson, Mrs. Thomas J. Brown, Miss Muriel Pearce, Miss Estelle Foreman, Donald Stimpson, Lowell D. MacNutt, Donald L. Gibbs, Harry D. Swisher.

Mrs. Hope Thaxter Spencer is the production manager, Mrs. Percy Woodward, the Art Director, and Mr. John E. Whittlesey has charge of the stage and workshop.

LADIES' NIGHT CENTRAL CLUB

On Monday evening, February third, at 6:30 the annual "Ladies' Night" of the Central Club—men's organization of Central Congregational Church, Newtonville—will take place. Dinner will be followed by an unusually delightful program of varied interest.

Hortense Creede Ralback will give a selection of Dramatic Readings. Mrs. Ralback is widely known in the field of dramatic art; both for her own readings and impersonations and in coaching and staging dramatic productions.

Another feature of the evening will be a Travelogue, "Globe Trotting Through the West Indies," which covers also Panama and parts of South America. This lecture illustrated by colored moving pictures, will be delivered by Mr. E. D. Sherman, through the courtesy of American Express Company.

There will also be musical selections by the Central Club Orchestra, under the direction of Mr. George D. Rowings. Mr. Walter P. Phillips, president of the club, will preside, and Mr. Dudley Hovey will be in charge of the program.

W. C. T. U.

Mrs. Ernest Cobb, director of the Motion Pictures Department of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs, will speak on the subject, "Motion Pictures as we see them today," at the meeting of the Newton Women's Club, Thursday, Feb. 6, at 2:30 p. m. in the Parish House of the First Baptist Church, 848 Beacon st., Newton Centre.

Miss Julia C. Henshaw, for thirty six years librarian at Newton Centre and the senior member of the Newton Free Library staff, has resigned and will relinquish her duties on Feb. 1st. Miss Henshaw was librarian for several years of an independent village library in Newton Centre until in 1902 the library was merged into the Newton system. Mrs. Carl G. Wood of the library staff gave a farewell tea in honor of Miss Henshaw at the Wood residence in Auburndale. Many of Miss Henshaw's associates were present at the gathering. The Library Trustees have appointed Miss Virginia R. Owen of Waban to succeed Miss Henshaw. Miss Owen has been first assistant in the boys' and girls' library at Newton Corner since her graduation from Simmons College in 1932. Miss Marie McLaughlin, assistant at the Newton Centre branch has been promoted to Miss Owen's former position.

The Mt. Hood Recreation Center in Melrose which was developed by Federal grants and local appropriations was dedicated last Sunday afternoon at an outdoor winter sports carnival before more than ten thousand people. Newton high school boys captured most of the honors in Mass. High Schools ski jumping contests. Roy Merchant of Newton was the individual star of the meet winning the ski-jumping with a total of 133.8 points and winning the combination event of ski-jumping and cross country race. Fred Soule of Newton High took second in the ski-jumping with 106.2 points. None of the other competitors scored more than 51.6 points. Merchants best jumps were 57 and 64 feet while Soule's best were 47 and 49 feet. Jack Davis, Jr., and Bill McConnell, other Newton High students, were listed among the competitors. A hockey game between an All-star team of the Greater Boston School Hockey league and a team announced as Bruin Bulls was won by the all-stars 2-1. Bill Daniels and Ernie McLeod of the Newton high team played for the all-stars with Daniels scoring the winning tally.

With bowling being a feature of the winter activities of the various clubs and organizations in Newton it is not surprising to learn of excellent strings being turned in by women bowlers. In a mixed house tournament bowling match at the Waban Neighborhood Club on Tuesday night Mrs. Roy Tewksbury of Larchmont rd. rolled a single string of 150. A feature of the string was four consecutive strikes at the finish.

Rev. Dr. Randolph S. Merrill of the Central Congregational Church was elected president of the Boston Congregational Club on Monday evening at the annual meeting of that organization. Dr. Merrill has served as vice-president during the past year. Mr. Wallace C. Boyden of Newtonville paid a tribute of affection to the late Rev. Dr. Jay T. Stocking whose death occurred on Monday morning. Dr. Stocking, pastor of the First Congregational Church in Newton at Newton Centre was moderator of the national Congregational denomination.

The Birthday Ball for the President at the Boston Garden last evening in aid of sufferers from infantile paralysis attracted a considerable number. Newton residents who were among the box holders were Speaker Leverett Saltonstall, Ex-Mayor Sinclair Weeks and Mrs. Edward F. Dalton.

An exhibition and sale of antiques is being planned for the three days of Feb. 10, 11, and 12 at the Newton Centre Woman's Clubhouse. More than twenty dealers are expected to have booths in the exhibit which it is anticipated will attract many Newton residents interested in antique articles. A demonstration of glass blowing and auction sales will be features of the affair which is under the management of Mr. P. A. Revere.

Mr. Alexander Standish of Lake ave., Newton Highlands, recently gave an address upon the subject of "Government Credit" before the National Institute of Credit. Mr. Standish, who is president of a well-known Boston firm of investment counselors, spoke in part as follows:

"Of the present debt of $30.6 billion nearly two-thirds mature in the next ten years and only one-third at a later date." "Furthermore, some current estimates place the debt at the end of 1937 fiscal year at nearly $36 billion and, unless present financing methods are changed, probably 60% of it will be in maturities of five years or less. At the end of the 1932 fiscal year, the debt was $19.5 billion and only 27% of it was short-term. Thus it is evident that virtually the entire deficit has been financed with short-term debt. If, as is frequently stated, the Government's credit is better than ever before, why is not this short debt retired?"

In the current period of record low money rates nearly all refunding with good credit is refunding their debt to long-term low coupon bonds. The question of why doesn't the Treasury follow a similar policy is pertinent and possibly a little embarrassing to Treasury officials.

"One reason lies perhaps in the myth of lower interest charges. The Secretary of the Treasury boasted, in his recent annual report, of the fact that annual interest charges were reduced $93 million last year despite a billion dollar increase in debt. That this would not have been true if the debt were financed on a long-term basis is obvious from the fact that 25-year government bonds yields more than twice as much as those of a five-year maturity. . . . The entire matter, of course, leads back to unbalanced budget and unfortunately we cannot discern any progress. And the unfortunate part is that while over the trend of events, we see little action on their part to alter the trend. It is perhaps the young man's fight for it is he, rather than the older generation, who will pay the bill and bear the burden."

Letters To The Editor

URGES CHURCH TEMPERANCE COMMITTEES

To the Editor:

The rapidly growing arousal of interest in the whole temperance movement through the ranks of the major Church Denominations in this country is highly significant. This interest has developed into concrete action in the Middle West where the Baptist, Congregational, Presbyterian, Methodist, Friends, and other denominations programs intended to appraise conditions in the current liquor conditions in the light of two years of the re-established traffic.

The plan adopted by the Chicago Area Council of the Methodist Episcopal Church provides that every Methodist Church in Chicago and Northern Illinois shall at once move to create within its membership a delegated Church Temperance Committee on which every organization in the Church shall be represented, which shall at once proceed to sustain temperance activities in its own community with concrete plans calling for:

A social survey of liquor conditions; study and appraisal of liquor advertising; inquiry into the effect of liquor upon youth and home life; diversion of personal savings from legitimate use; law enforcement co-operation with local officials; development of united action in each community, in local option elections, and in the nomination of dry legislators; investigation of alcohol's increasing part in traffic accidents; establishment of classes for scientific, social, economic, and political study of the liquor problem.

Some such program inaugurated by Newton men and women in the Churches and other organizations interested in the welfare of youth would lead to a better understanding of the evils of this difficult national problem and supply information which would enable the citizens of Newton to vote intelligently in the fall of 1936 on the question of the sale of liquor in our fair city.

"INJUNS COMIN"

One Little Indian Boy—Brock.

Here are fine pictures (in five colors) of a little Taos Indian boy, his family and friends, and the pueblo where he lives. For younger readers.

Queer Person—Hubbard.

The story of an outcast Indian boy, called Queer Person. For nine to twelve years.

Waterless Mountain—Armer.

Awarded the John Newbery Medal in 1932. An unusual story of Navaho Indian life as seen through the eyes of Younger Brother, who learns the songs of the medicine men and makes new songs for himself. For boys and girls over ten.

Dawn Boy of the Pueblos—Scott.

"It was the ambition of Bamba, a fifteen-year-old Zuni boy, to become an expert silversmith. Through his experiences the daily life of the Pueblo is made clear—the tending of the herds, trips to the trading post, festivals, initiations and the making of pottery and jewelry." For ten to twelve years.

Red Man's Luck—Skinner.

"Young Luck was an orphaned white boy who grew up spending part of his time with Long Shadow, Chief of the Blackfeet; and the other half with the factor of the North-West Company at Little Fort William. Will interest boys of twelve and over."

Moccasins on the Trail—Thompson.

Indian Brother—Coryell.

Maine of 1713 is the scene of this well-written Indian story founded upon actual historical events and with many of the characters, real men and women of that time. There are thrills and genuine pleasure for the reader who shares the hair-raising experiences of Sam and Martha Hilton while they are captives of the Penobscot Indians, and the hardships endured while making their escape. The author dedicates his book "equally to the pioneers of New England and to the Indians from whom they wrenched the land." For old boys.

Little Fox—Keeler.

"Little Fox was a member of the Algonquin tribe of Indians who lived on the Island of Manhattan before the days of the white settlers. The story provides a narrative description of the daily life of these Indians, their homes, weapons, utensils, hunting, and festivals." For younger readers.

Newton Republican, Feb. 3, 1877

The full attendance of our best citizens last Monday evening at the West Newton Lyceum in city hall gave evidence of its growing popularity. Ex-Governor Claflin was introduced as the lecturer of the evening. His subject was: "The Ballot." He first pointed out the peril of the ballot. It is too often controlled by corporations which threaten employees with loss of work unless they vote their employer's ticket. The recent political contest in the South was also cited as proof of the peril of the ballot. In some instances larger Democratic majorities were returned than there were voters in the district. The Governor was hopeful, however, that in time the ballot would correct its own abuses as the country became more intelligent and honest. The politician might often bring the country into danger, but the honesty and good sense of the people would be found sufficient to settle the grave difficulties in an honest and amicable manner. Next Monday evening the question of "drainage" will be taken up.

Hon. John Wiley Edmonds of Centre st., Newton, one of the city's most honored citizens, died on Wednesday morning at 4 o'clock. He had for years filled a large place not only in the history of this, his home city, but in the business and political affairs of the State. He was born in Boston, March 1, 1809, and for nearly a half century was intimately connected with the rise and progress of Boston's business interests. He entered the store of A. & A. Lawrence upon leaving school and in 1839 was made a member of the firm. He continued his connection until 1843 when he retired. When the Pacific Mills at Lawrence solicited of Abbott Lawrence, Mr. Edmonds became treasurer. He was elected as a member of Congress in 1852, having been nominated as a Whig. At the opening of the war in 1861 he went to the front and gave freely of his time, influence and money.

About 30 years ago he moved his residence from Pemberton Square, Boston to this city. He was a munificent patron of the Newton Free Library, his gifts to it amounting to about $20,000. The circumstances under which he became interested in the library are as follows:—It was the intention during 1866 of a manufacturer to build a factory on the present site of the library. Many property owners in the vicinity objected, feeling that the factory would injure the neighborhood. A public spirited citizen took the matter in hand, interested others, and a fund was raised for the purchase of the land and the erection thereon of a free library. Mr. Edmonds became interested in the project and contributed, under certain conditions, $15,000. The building was erected in 1868 and his interest in it continued. No one did more than he to make Newton what we boast with some pride it is today—"The Garden City." Mr. Edmonds' grounds furnished about the first, and so far unequalled specimen of success in our city in the art of beautifying the homestead, all worked out by his enterprise, out of the most barren and forlorn of pastures. For his beautiful cemetery, the noble soldier's monument, we are indebted to him, the lamented Bigelow and such as they. (Ed. The Edmonds' estate is now the property of Michael L. Madden between Sargent and Cotton sts., Newton.)

Newton Graphic, Jan. 30, 1886

The early closing movement which is being inaugurated throughout the New England States has taken a foothold in Newton. Some of our stores have for several months closed, with the exception of Friday and Saturday, at 6:30 p. m. This is a move in the right direction. Owners and employees in stores need not labor 13 or 14 hours per day any more than the artisan or mechanic.

The treatment of horses the past week on the Cambridge railroad between Mount Auburn and Newton has been a clear case of cruelty to animals and one which should be exposed, and for which the managers of the road should receive their just deserts. If the drivers are given only two horses at the Mount Auburn car barn to get over the icy hills, they must do as they are bidden. On a trip between Watertown and Mount Auburn the other day passengers were twice requested to get out of the car and walk up the hills. On one hill the horses had fallen down, and at the other the animals were continuously beaten to make them drag the car up the icy slope. On the preceding trip the horses could not pull the car up the hill between Watertown and Newton and the trip could not be completed.

Newton Graphic, Feb. 3, 1911

The newly organized Improvement Association at Newton intends to tackle the problems at Nonantum Square. This busy centre is made hideous by huge, glaring signboards, is dangerous because of the congestion of street cars near Jefferson st., and is unsanitary because it lacks a public convenience station. The signboards can be eliminated by taxing the land on which they are located until the owners cry "enough." The street car problem requires persistence and influence.

Edward H.

Powers' Paragraphs

Frank Goodwin orders—Limit speed of automobiles to 45 miles for the next 30 days. Gov. Curley says—Equip all cars "with governors set at 35 miles." We say—"Enforce the laws—stop 'fixing'."

One of the outstanding actors in the drama of life, as played in this nation of ours, performed before a large and distinguished audience last Saturday night. He gave a monologue of a serio-comic nature which filled with glee the 2000 persons (mostly of wealth and influence) who were present at the banquet of the American Liberty League in Washington. His philippic aroused varied emotions in the millions all over the U. S. A. who heard it through the medium of radio. Some vigorously approved, others strongly condemned the attack of Alfred E. Smith on the New Deal, President Roosevelt and the Democratic Congress. Personally, we agree with some of Al's criticisms; and we disagree with others. We try to be fair in our opinion of his speech, although we frankly admit our estimate of Mr. Smith is quite different from what it was in 1928. At that time, a registered Republican in 1928, the writer was a supporter of Al Smith in his candidacy for the office of President. We openly wore a Smith button. As a member of the Newton Board of Aldermen we made a motion to have the polls in Newton kept open until 7 p. m. instead of closing at 4. Not one of the other twenty members on the Board seconded this motion because it was supposed to be in the interest of Mr. Smith and other Democratic candidates. We mention these trifles to show that in 1928 we favored Al Smith.

We recall distinctly some of the attacks made against Mr. Smith in 1928. He was characterized as a product of the allegedly rotten "Tammany" political machine. He was condemned by advocates of prohibition. He was pictured as an uncouth product of New York's East Side, unfitted by birth, training and environment to hold the office of President. Such arguments were to have been expected. But, we also heard men and women whom we had previously supposed to have been real Americans, haranguing against Smith because of his race and religion. And we heard some even stoop so low as to cast aspersions on Mrs. Smith. And many of those who excoriated Smith in 1928 are now acclaiming him as a great man. Amusing. Isn't it?

Al Smith was defeated in 1928. And he was defeated. It was a good thing for him and for the country that he was. Because if Smith had been elected President, he, instead of Herbert Hoover would have been the goat in the financial and economic debacle which occurred during the ensuing four years. No matter who would have been elected President in 1928, the depression years of 1929 and since would have followed, and had Al Smith been President at that time, how the bigots would have (sincerely or otherwise) attributed the adverse years to Al Smith's racial and religious affiliations.

The sweeping defeat of Mr. Smith removed him, in the opinion of the majority of persons, from serious consideration as the Democratic nominee for President in 1932. But, the depression years of 1929, 1930 and 1931 changed conditions. To some keen political observers, it appeared that almost any prominent man could lead the Democrats to victory. Mr. Smith, however, was quite savvy as to whether or not he would be a candidate for the nomination. In the meantime, his erstwhile pal and champion, Franklin D. Roosevelt, had been waging a well planned campaign and the result at the Democratic convention in Chicago in 1932 followed. Mr. Smith became embittered against his former bosom friend. When Mr. Roosevelt espoused the cause of the "forgotten man," Mr. Smith asserted that Franklin D. was a demagogue.

With Mr. Smith's characterization of Mr. Roosevelt as "a demagogue," our estimate changed of the man who rose from the sidewalks of New York to a national figure. Perhaps we were right. Perhaps we were wrong. We based our conclusions on the fact that Al Smith had achieved national prominence and popularity as an able and eloquent fighter for the cause of the masses; as an advocate for the rights of the common people. We had observed that Mr. Smith, after leaving political office, had become engaged in business activities as an associate and partner of multimillionaires in such trifling ventures as the Empire State Building and other projects. He was hobnobbing with the plutocrats. We are not condemning Mr. Smith for this. He had yielded to the lure. His talents and his influence were capitalized. His environment, his associates had changed, and in our belief his philosophy, his interests had also changed. He was no longer Al Smith of the East Side. He had evolved into Hon. Alfred E. Smith who conferred as a partner with captains of finance, who mingled socially with the elite. The former employee of the Fulton Fish Pier whose grammar was ridiculed when he spoke over the "radio" in 1928, whose political doctrines had been objectionable, was taken into the fold by those who had previously spurned him.

How They Stand It

A question often asked is, "How do those whose daily work compels them to remain outdoors from morning to night manage to endure extreme cold weather?" Various explanations have come to me as the result of my inquiries. They range from the definite opinions of medical experts to the less tangible views of psychologists. Some say it is a question of diet, some a matter of dress, some of constant exercise and others a state of mind. Confused, I asked a Boston traffic policeman of my acquaintance. He was plainly surprised that there should be any mystery. "I stick here as long as I can stand it and then I drop in on the stores a few minutes and get warm," was his reply. As simple as that.

All Night Revelers

In my opinion the residents of Boston's South End who complained to the State Alcoholic Beverages Commission about silk-hat slumming parties had reasonable grounds for a kick. It is their misfortune, or at least good luck, to live in the night club region where men and women of all ages, garbed in fine raiment, seek a midnight-and-later thrill. Fried chicken, numerous drinks and floor show entertainers combine to produce it. The slummers themselves make a racket, stopping and starting their own shouting and laughing and otherwise making noise. Naturally the permanent residents—at least those who are not engaged in providing the refreshment and the performance—resent this because they are hard-working and need sleep. But they got off the track, it seems to me, when they told the commission, "These folks come from the suburbs and act in a way that wouldn't be tolerated in their own neighborhoods." They forgot that the revelers are just as noisy when they reach home; also that often parties are held in the home town where there is quite as much noisy frolic in the early morning hours. No, these displays of exuberant spirits are not confined to any one section. Newton knows.

Knocking-off Knowledge

Just as some of us were wondering if the constitutions of the United States and of Massachusetts hadn't been mislaid or possibly kidnapped, comes word that copies of both documents may be obtained from the State Department of Education, free to any who may ask. No one has deeper respect for both than I. Furthermore, I possess one of each and have for some time. Not only these, but a copy of the Declaration of Independence. The latter is more firmly fixed in my mind. Let me explain. For years I have operated a typewriter, having taught myself the Hunt-and-Peck system. Always, in trying-out a new ribbon and testing a new machine, or one recently repaired, I start with "When in the course of human events, it becomes necessary for one people, etc." One way to absorb the history of your country.

Fast Work

If you have ever taken part in amateur dramatics to any great extent you doubtless can recall occasions when things went wrong during a performance. And if you've never aspired to histrionics you'll agree that any player who successfully "covers up" somebody's blunder and keeps the show on an even keel as far as the audience is concerned is entitled to a full share of credit.

A deep glow of satisfaction came to me when I heard only the other day of how one amateur actor took a hurdle of this character, gracefully and effectively. He had in the role a young woman in one of those "folksie" plays with a rural setting. It came time for him to light the parlor lamp.

"You'll find matches on the mantle," said the girl. Walking over, the actor found the shelf quite bare. The property man had failed to provide matches. Not the least flustered, the young player said, as if it were part of the original dialogue, "I don't see any, but I'll just step into the next room." In an instant he was off-stage, demanding in a whisper that somebody in the wings produce. But there weren't any.

"None there," said the actor, returning to scene, "so I'll try the other room," and off he went on the opposite side of stage. Yes, he found matches this time on the person of one of the stage hands and, of course, the audience never knew.

Does This Explain It?

The hazards of snow-capped peaks have come my way at last, not far from my very door. Instead of a smart, invigorating walk through my home ward (see Newton Corner) I have had of late Appalachian perils such I never expected and certainly never sought. It appears that this year residents of our beloved city, or at least that part where my faltering footsteps lead me, have agreed among themselves to allow the snow to remain on their sidewalks. Maybe it's a united move to bring Winter sports within easy, or not especially easy, walking distance.

I would have said that the scheme was foredoomed because the police would interfere. It has at last dawned upon me, however, that policemen no longer move about on foot but roll along in large, comfortable automobiles and for that reason cannot be expected to be interested in the condition of sidewalks.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

NEWTON TRACK TEAM
WINS NORTHEASTERN

Scoring twenty points in five events, Don Enoch's great Newton High track team met their first test of the interscholastic season last Saturday by a smashing victory in the Northeastern University games at the Boston Garden. Newton's 20-point total led Brookline, the runner-up, by 8½ points, and was the third highest total ever scored in this opening convocation of eastern Massachusetts teams.

Warren Wittens was the only individual winner for Newton, cutting more than a second off the "300" record. The Newton ace had taken second in the hurdles earlier in the meet, and wound up his day with a fast anchor leg on the relay team, which won its race with Everett in the fastest time of the thirty-one teams competing.

Forte Scores in Dash

Bob Hartman of Brookline was the best hurdler in the meet, as he was last year. He pared the record to 5.6 in his first heat, then made the same time in the semi-final and final. Ace Wittens and Ray Huling registered 5.8, the mark which stood for eight years as the record, in winning their semi-finals, then pushed Hartman through in the final. Huling actually seemed to follow Hartman by a yard in the final, with Wittens fighting to take third, but the judges called it differently.

Paul Forte, junior sprint hope, looked like the fastest Newton has seen since Walter Holmes, galloping through the fastest semi-final and taking third behind Masters of Lynn and Louis Montgomery of Brockton in the finals. The time of the finals was 5.7, and Forte's semi-final, run in those figures, indicates that he will be a dependable scorer at fifty yards.

Newton athletes came through in nearly every event where they were expected to score, but an unfortunate fall robbed Bob Muther of a chance to score points in the 300-yard run. Co-Captain Warren Wittens ran the first heat in 35 seconds, taking one-fifth of a second off Leon Rogers' record time of 1935, and the way he broke the record was amazing, as he coasted his second lap, looking behind to watch the next man. But Muther ran his trial heat in 36.1, which turned out to be the slowest of the five run, and he was forced to take the outside lane in the final. He got off to a fast start, but stumbled at the far side of the first turn and fell off the track, losing the others by thirty yards or more. Ace Wittens took an even second off his new record, winning the final in 34s, and leading home Masters of Lynn Classical by ten yards.

Jack Allen was unable to register among the high jumpers, going out in that event at 5 ft. 8 in., as Bob Hartman soared to a new record of 6 ft. 1 in. in winning. Newton was handicapped by the absence in this meet of the broad jump, in which several of the team are very strong. Nathaniel Heard, shotputter, got Newton's only points in field events by taking the runner-up place in his event at 46 ft. 7½ in. Bill Gilligan of Brighton broke the shot record, with a fine toss of 52 ft. 6 5-8 in.

Bud Muther, shaken up and with a sprained ankle from his tumble in the "300" final, was kept out of the relay, but Newton had no great trouble in coming close to the record in winning the event from Everett. Ray Huling led off with a 6-yard advantage over Marshall, and Jack Allen staved off Ed Springer's fast running to hand over a three-yard lead to Paul Dussossoit. Mascianica Everett's great middle-distance star, who had just hung up the new meet record of 1 min. 16.8 in the "600", could not run with Decide and dropped about fifteen yards to the Newton hurdler. Ace Wittens wound up with a scorching last 300 yards to finish forty yards ahead of Abe Ventura of Everett. Newton's time, 2 min. 16.8 sec., gave the meet record of 2:16 even a close enough rub, considering the Don Enoch's speed merchants were not under pressure even to win their event, since the meet was already under their collective belts.

Newton runners who did not score, but showed promise, were Mark Corthell in the "600" and Dave Irwin and Al Parkhurst in the "1000." Corthell came up from sixth place in his heat of the "600", running the distance in 1 min. 23 sec., the best time he has made. Parkhurst ran third in his heat of the longer run, but his stride looked good for future races. Irwin pulled up from last place in his heat to within a stride of fourth, and could have put himself in the running by judging the distance better.

DEFAULT ENDS LONG GAME, NEWTON IN FINAL

In a bizarre finish, Newton High won from Cambridge Latin by default in their decisive game at the Boston Arena Wednesday afternoon. With the score tied at 3-all after four overtime periods, Coach Jack Culhane of Cambridge decided that the flying Frenchmen had played enough hockey for one day, and refused to let the boys continue.

Newton showed some improvement over their form of last Friday, when they yielded a 3-0 game to the same Cambridge team on the same ice. Superior reserve power enabled Doc Martin to keep a fresh line on the ice at all times during the 56-minute contest, as Newton had six subs to two for Cambridge Latin. As a result of the unprecedented default, Newton enters the first-division for the final three-game series, and will oppose Melrose in the opening game of the four scheduled for tomorrow at the Boston Garden.

Daniels Newton's Star

Cambridge took the lead at 4:05 minutes in the first period. Chaisson and Robillard assisting Buckley on a play close to the Newton goal. Chaisson and Boudreau had other opportunities later in the period, but were off in their marksmanship. There was no score in the second period, during which play was about even. John Blodgett had a grand chance, but Latin's goalie Bud Kramer turned away the shot.

Bill Daniels was the hero of Newton's rally in the third period. He got an assist on the goal that tied the score, then immediately scored another unassisted. Mort Buckley, Latin defense player, was sent to the penalty box for interference early in the period, and Newton pressed their one-man advantage to the limit. Mac-

WINS TWO MORE

The Newton High School basketball team has won two more victories to stretch its string to eight straight. The two latest victims were Rindge Tech and Melrose in games on Friday and Tuesday. By virtue of its 31-21 win over Rindge the Newton five is a contender in the Suburban league race. As in many of the games this season Captain Al Smith led his mates. The Rindge game was played on the Newton floor.

Chaisson Lucky

Ray Chaisson, Latin's brilliant skater, tied the score at 8:36 when his long drive hopped over Buttrick's stick and into the redlight area. The game ran into overtime, with several scoring chances missed on both sides. At the start of the second extra five-minute session, Cliff Robillard attempted a passout from behind the Newton goal, and the puck bounded off Buttrick's bludgeon into the nets. Soon afterward Paul Brown passed to Ernie MacLeod for Newton's third goal in a scrimmage at the Cambridge end, the score coming at 2:57, while Boudreau was in the penalty box for handling the puck. Daniels and Blodgett had one wide-open chance in the third overtime bringing Kramer far out of his goal, but Daniels' shot caromed off the post. Chaisson scored once in this period and once in the next, but was ruled offside both times.

Howie Milner probably saved the game for Newton by smothering the puck in a wild scrimmage in front of the Newton goal, for which he was banished. As the fourth and last overtime was ended by the bell ten seconds later.

On Tuesday Coach Simmons took his squad to Melrose and returned with a 23-10 victory. With Leonard Le Sourd, regular right forward, out of the line-up because of a case of measles at his home, Billy Johnston received his chance to start as Captain Smith's forward mate. Johnston came through with 13 points as the high scorer of the game and was followed by Smith with 10 counters. Donald Colony was moved up to spell Johnston until LeSourd returns.

Tomorrow Newton faces Brookline on the Newton court in the first engagement between the two this season. Brookline, having lost three league games, is expected to drop another to the smooth working Newton outfit. Although undefeated Newton is in second place in the standing as the Cambridge Latin victory over Rindge last night was its third win in four league starts.

"I'D RATHER HAVE A BUICK BUT"

What do you mean, BUT!

WHAT keeps you from driving a Buick—not next year—but now—today?

Is it the money?

Time payments on a Buick are but two or three dollars a week more than on the lowest-priced cars—less than that, when you figure the "extras" a smaller car usually calls for.

Is it the upkeep?

Buick is a big comfortable car that gives small-car gas mileage, small-car mileage on oil. You'll keep a Buick at least a year longer than you'll keep a lesser car—and probably spend less on it for service and repair in the meantime!

Could it be habit?

Maybe you get used to buying in the low-priced field—you get the idea a big car costs too much to run—you resign yourself to small-car comfort, ability, performance—and plain human nature keeps you from inquiring further!

Maybe a Buick is a bit beyond your reach. But let's not admit it until we've got the actual figures!

We'll gamble our time against yours to show you just what a Buick will cost—to buy—to run—to keep in good condition. We've surprised many a small-car owner with our thrifty figures, thrilled them with a demonstration.

Let us show you our arithmetic—and what a Buick can do out on the road.

It won't cost a penny—and it may make you a lot happier—with a Buick!

IT COSTS LESS NOW TO BUY ON TIME!

The new GMAC 6% TIME PAYMENT PLAN not only makes it easier to figure the cost of buying on time, but saves money that you can use to get a better car. For example, a Buick Special business coupe listing at the factory (safety glass included, standard and special accessory groups extra) at only . . . $765*

Glee Club and Orchestra In Joint Recital

On Monday, February 17, 1936 there will be given under the auspices of the New England Chapter of the American Guild of Organists, a joint performance of the Highland Glee Club and the Newton Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of D. Ralph MacLean, the able and popular conductor.

Sunshine Cruises To West Indies

The near zero weather which has prevailed the past two weeks is causing more and more persons to take advantage of the many attractive cruises which are scheduled during the coming few months to Bermuda, the West Indies and South America. These cruises which vary in length from a few days to a few weeks can be enjoyed at surprisingly low costs when one considers the distance travelled and the accommodations provided. The various steamship lines are vying, one with the other for this winter tourist business, and as a result exceptional values in cruises are being offered.

Cunard Line

The Cunard-White Star Line with its ample fleet of ships has arranged a variety of cruises ranging from a 6 days' cruise to Nassau which costs from $70 and up, to cruises of 18 day which visit a dozen ports in the West Indies and South America which cost from $210 up. The short-cruises are on the well known steamship CARINTHIA, a 20,000 ton boat especially designed for cruising purposes. They leave New York at 5 p. m. each Saturday through March 28th, afford one day and an evening at Nassau, and arrive back in New York the following Friday.

There will be three glorious 18 days cruises from New York on the palatial motorship GEORGIC starting February 7, February 28 and March 20. The itinerary of these cruises includes St. Thomas, Martinique, Barbados, Trinidad, La Guaira, Curacao, Cartagena, Colon, Kingston and Havana, and exotic Havanna. The fare for this long cruise ranges from $210 and up. A similar cruise leaves New York on February on the motorship BRITANNIC.

Cruises of 8 days leave New York on March 27 on the BRITANNIC and on April 10 on the GEORGIC for Nassau and Bermuda. These ships are your hotels throughout and the rates are as low as $100. The April 10th cruise will make a perfect Easter vacation. On March 11th, the BRITANNIC starts on a 15 days' cruise to Porto Rico, LaGuaira, Curacao, Cartagena, Panama and Havana. Rates for this cruise are as low as $177.50 and no passports are required on this or the other cruises. Tourists on these cruises in addition to the world famous Cunard-White Star Service, will be entertained by a program of entertainments which leave no dull moments, but the ships are so commodious that passengers desiring complete relaxation find ample opportunities to do so.

THE WISHING TREE

SCOTCH PILGRIMS, according to Believe-it-or-not Ripley, drive coins into the trunk of a tree called the "Money Tree of Loch Maree" to make their wishes come true.

In Newton, when it comes to "money wishes", people take their coins to the Newton Centre Savings Bank, where they know a growing savings account is the sure way of making wishes come true.

Try it and see for yourself!

To The Newton Tax Payers:

Attention is called to the assessors' notice relative to making returns on personal property subject to taxation. These returns must be made not later than February 15.

Owing to the huge appropriations made by the government in its recovery program, there will doubtless be an increase in the tax rate.

May I assist you in the preparation of your tax return?

Speaker Presented
By Newton Trust Co.

As a part of its program of good-will to the community which it serves, the Newton Trust Company, through the Woman's Advisory Committee, will present the speaker, Prof. J. Anton deHaas, at the next meeting of the Newtonville Woman's Club on February 4th at 2:30 o'clock. Interested women of the community are cordially invited to be the guests of the Club and of the bank at this meeting.

Mrs. Irving O. Palmer, a past president of the Club, and the Newtonville member of the Trust Company's Advisory Committee, will introduce Professor deHaas, who in his lecture, "The International Drama of Today," will review the political situation in foreign countries. Professor deHaas, born in Holland, came to this country in his youth. He attained the rank of captain in the United States Army in 1918. He is well known as a writer and as an authority on international and economic affairs; is professor of International Relations in the Graduate School of Business Administration at Harvard University, and is editor of The American Import Merchant, and associate editor of several European magazines.

In appreciation of the many benefits of the boy Scout Organization, the Club will devote a few minutes to the observance of National Scout Week. A representative of the local council will speak briefly of the work, and will have on exhibit, during the tea, photographs showing some of the accomplishments of which the scouts may be justly proud.

Following the program, tea will be served in Social Hall. Mrs. Fred M. Blanchard, chairman of Hospitality, has invited the wives of the ministers of Newtonville to pour, namely, Mrs. Horace W. Briggs, Mrs. Lawrence W. C. Emig, Mrs. Raymond Lang, and Mrs. Randolph S. Merrill. Hostesses for the afternoon will be Mrs. Frederick A. Cole, Mrs. Adam Haug, Mrs. Robert E. Lindquist and Mrs. Warren D. Thompson.

In the Gallery, the Art committee, of which Mrs. Frederick W. Ried is chairman, will hold an Exhibition of Arts and Crafts. Mrs. Ried (whose telephone is West Newton 1587) will be glad to hear from local craftsmen having handwork for display. Needlework, crocheting, knitting, wood and metal work, etc., will be welcomed as contributions. Other than members may exhibit.

Mrs. David F. Hill, 46 Bemis st., chairman in Newtonville for the 1935 Christmas Health Seal Drive, is hoping that a record may be attained for the sales in Newtonville. Any who have not made returns of money or seals to Mrs. Hill are requested to do so.

One of the speakers for the Club Institute of February 6th, is to be Mrs. Edwin P. Crawe, past president of the Newtonville Club.

Social Science Club

A business meeting of the Social Science Club will be held at the Parlor of the Channing Church on Wednesday, February 5th, followed by a program by the Legislative committee. The hostesses will be Mrs. Chester A. Drummond and Mrs. Edward W. Gruener.

Wise Parents To Be Described

Mr. W. Linwood Chase, headmaster of the Country Day School in Newton, will speak before the Waban Woman's Club on Monday, February 3rd, on the question, "Who Is a Wise Parent?" The Club meeting will be held in the Neighborhood Club House at 2:30 p. m.

Tea will be served by Mrs. Lester W. Minchin and her committee, with Mrs. John T. Croghan and Mrs. George R. Nugent at the tea table.

The Educational Discussion Group will hold its second meeting on Tuesday, February 4th, at 10 a. m., in the Angier School. Mr. C. E. Drake, director of Research and Guidance in the Newton Schools, will continue the subject of "Measurement of Ability," Grade 7-12.

Talk on Jewels

Ethel Doane, collector, lecturer, and recognized authority on jewels, will give "An Intimate Talk on Gem Stones" before the Newton Highlands Woman's Club on Tuesday, February 4th, at 2 p. m., at the Congregational Parish House. Members of the Club are invited to bring their personal jewels for identification or analysis by Mrs. Doane, who will have on display also her own private collection.

The Club will be hostess on Wednesday, February 12th, at 1:45 p. m., when Mrs. Arthur C. Sennett, State Legislative chairman, will conduct a Fourth and Twelfth District Legislative Conference at the Club Workshop, on Columbus st. The laws considered by the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs this season will be discussed. All women's club members are cordially invited to attend.

New Junior Club
To Organize

The group of young women who are interested in forming the Junior Woman's Club in Waban will have a meeting at the home of Miss Helen Warren, 15 Winnetaska rd., on Monday evening, February 3rd, at 8 o'clock. The committee, consisting of Miss Phyllis Reinhardt, chairman; Miss Virginia Codman, Miss Helen Stetson, Miss Barbara Swenson, and Miss Helen Warren, will make its report on the Constitution and By-laws at this meeting.

Club Institutes

"Federated Clubs that are Different," "Is a Club House an Asset or a Liability?" and "How We Use Our Club House" are subjects that Mrs. John A. Jennings, State chairman, has selected for the February 6th Club Institute which convenes at 10:30 a. m., at the Y. W. C. A., Boston. The first subject will be discussed by Mrs. Edwin P. Crawe, of Newtonville, president of the Woman's Charity Club; Mrs. Edward B. Botsford of the Hobbs Community Club of Marblehead; and Mrs. John F. Streeter, of the Hampden Country Club, Springfield. The other two subjects will be considered during the Forum by club presidents. Mrs. George W. Smith, of Newton Centre; Mrs. J. Anton deHaas, of Belmont; and Mrs. William Mason, of Fall River, who will give their views as to whether a club house is an asset or a liability; and Mrs. Ellsworth L. Read of the Altruistic Club, of Shirley, who will tell how the club house is used.

Another interesting feature of the Institute will be a history of one of the gavelled units by the State president, Mrs. Thomas J. Walker, at Federation meetings, given by Miss Bess Bartlett, clerk of the Federation, to be followed by two-minute talks by representatives from the Daughters of Vermont, New Century Club of Mansfield, Fortnightly Club of Leominster, Centre Club of Lynnfield Centre, and the South Grafton Club, on the history of the gavel in their clubs.

Mrs. Frederick Glazier Smith, a past president of the State Federation, will be the guest speaker.

Fifteen minutes for the study of Parliamentary Procedure, by Mrs. George E. Hutchins, is one of the helpful features of these monthly institutes.

The American Home Class of the West Newton Women's Educational Club will hold its next meeting at the home of Mrs. John S. Franklin, 45 Islington rd., Auburndale, on Wednesday, February 5th. Luncheon will be served at 12:30 p. m.

Ford

ANNOUNCES $25-A-MONTH TIME PAYMENTS AND A NEW UCC 6% FINANCE PLAN

Any New Ford V-8 Car
Can Now Be Purchased for $25 a Month with Usual Low Down-Payment

This $25-a-month time-payment plan enables you to buy a New Ford V-8 car through your Ford dealer on new low monthly terms.

After the usual low down-payment is made, $25 a month is all you have to pay for any type of new car, including insurance and financing.

Your cost for this extension of credit is only 1/2 of 1% a month on your original unpaid balance and insurance. This plan reduces financing charges for twelve months to 6%. For example, if you owe a balance of $400 for your car and insurance, you pay $24 for the year of credit; if the balance is $200 you pay $12. Your credit cost for one year is the original unpaid balance multiplied by 6%.

UCC plans provide you with insurance protection at regular conference rates. You have not only fire and theft insurance, but $50 deductible collision, and protection against other accidental physical damage to your car.

The Universal Credit Company has made these plans available through all Ford dealers in the United States.
